Scribe Interviews School Chef; Learns What Makes Kitchen Tick

By Jones Bacus.

Yeah, I had a real picnic down in the kitchen of the Cafeteria the other day. I walked up to Jim Montgomery, the chef, and told him that he was being interviewed. Jim chuckled and asked, "What for?" Then I started asking questions.

Jim was born in Henderson, Texas. He has been working in the kitchen for the past ten years and has worked at every job possible there. He started as pot washer, was promoted to pantry man, then third cook, second cook, assistant chef and finally to chief chef in 1931.

Worked at Byar's Opera House. Before he went to work for the University he worked at the Byar's Opera House as a porter. Then the war came along and Jim was sent to Camp McArthur in Waco. From there he went to Newport, Virginia, to a military camp, and then back to Camp Pike, Arkansas, and McArthur. This lasted for about eight months and then Jim got an honorable discharge and came home.

After talking to Jim about his past while, I got interested in the routine of things in the kitchen and asked him to show me around.

Is Introduced to Helpers.

Jim took me over the kitchen and introduced me to all the men working there. There are ten men working with Jim. Their names and kitchen titles are as follows: Victor Matinex assistant chef; Vernon Richardson, pantry man; T. W. Micheaux, assistant pantry man; L. C. Carraway and Milton Collins, waiters (they call 'em bus boys in the kitchen); Henry Step-

Fifty-seven new uniforms have been issued and all will be present to play at the game tomorrow. Prof. Don Gillis will direct. A special feature will be new arrangements of several popular tunes.

6 T. C. U. Aggies To Be on Fence About Cheering

If you see a T. C. U. student or two yelling for A. & M. tomorrow, think knowing of it, because six students are going to be under quite a strain. Lee Tomlinson, Bill Scott, Marion Parrish, Tom Roberson, Horace Carswell and Jimmy Wolf, all A. & M. exes now attending school here, are likely to forget themselves and start cheering for their first Alma Mater.

Although there is a warm place in their hearts for A. & M., the students have pledged their loyalty to T. C. U. The general feeling among them is summed up in a statement made by Wolff, "I want T. C. U. to win, but I hope it is a close game." As for the football trip to Fort Worth, the A. & M. students consider it the "game to save your money for," according to these exes. Because of the good times and fair treatment received here the boys look forward to this trip more than any other.

Freshmen Victors In Play Contest

The Freshman-Sophomore Play Contest, held Wednesday night in the auditorium, was a partial landslide for the first-year students when the freshman play, "We Met Last Year," was awarded the loving cup, and Miss Hilda McKinley of the freshman cast was awarded individual acting honors for girls. The winning freshman play was directed by Miss Elizabeth Bryan. The cast included Miss Peggy Leland, Miss McKinley, Bill Scott and George Cassidy. Miss Mary Corzine was in charge of costumes and make-up. Geo. Beavers acted as stage manager.

The sophomore play, "The Shadows of Panelli," was directed by Miss Helen Adams. The cast included Miss Betty Buster, Miss Dorcas Evelyn Richards, Louis Pitchford and Rogers. Elmer Seybold was a stage manager. Miss Francys Ballenger was in charge of costumes and make-up.

Everything From "Soup to Nuts" Decorates Dorm Students' Rooms

Where were you on the afternoon of October 20, 1934? From the sign on the wall of a certain student's room, he must have been in College Station watching the football game between the Horned Frogs and the Aggies.

If you want to do a little detective work and find out where the men of the campus spend their time, just go over to the dormitories and look over their rooms. On the walls you will find everything from tapestries to Horned Frog stickers.

In making this inspection you will find such pictures as the Dionne quintuplets, Admiral Dewey, Marlene Dietrich, Will Rogers, Old Ironsides, The Indian Trader, snow scenes, mountain scenes, various pictures of animals, maybe a picture of mother, dad, brother or sister and in the majority of rooms, one of the lady in the case.

In about 40 per cent of the rooms the picture of the lady friend rests on the dresser or elsewhere in a place to

At the head of the parade will be Cadet-colonel Earl D. Button and his staff, followed by the band as far as the reviewing stand. Next in order will be the infantry, engineers, field artillery and composite regiments in the order named.

Get Your Money's Worth From College, Students

T. C. U. has much to offer students besides class work and the lectures of professors. College should mean more than the acquiring of knowledge from books and teachers. There are other things of value, one of which is the new lecture course. Last Friday evening Dr. D. W. Morehouse spoke in the University Auditorium. His lecture on astronomy was interesting and informative. He presented facts that students could have learned only by years of intensive study, yet the Auditorium was not more than half filled and a large per cent of those present were guests. The lecture course is free to students and members of the faculty and is deserving of their support.

Wednesday evening the Dramatic Club sponsored the Freshman-Sophomore play contest and no admission charges were made. The casts and directors spent hours preparing those plays and presented worth while productions, which deserved more cooperation than they received from the student body.

Throughout the year there will be other presentations, such as lectures, fine arts recitals, glee club and band concerts and plays, which will merit and deserve the attendance of the student body. Those who do not attend are missing a valuable and constructive part of college life.

Actions of Froggie At Game Tomorrow

Even though there may be more than a couple thousand of Aggies at that game tomorrow, it is going to sound as if there are four thousand Frogs. At least, that should be the case, and the yell leaders are going to exert every effort to make it true. The A. & M. boys have a reputation for being great team boosters, but T. C. U. students are going to show them a thing or two tomorrow when it comes to supporting their team. Everyone is going to yell and yell and even become a little hoarse if necessary. And, incidentally, the students are going to have a good time "letting off all that steam."

Enthusiasm, pep and some real yelling is going to be noticed by the spectators. There is going to be an inspiring school spirit.

This is all a desirable, ideal situation. Whether it is a true situation depends upon the student body and not upon whether the Frogs are winning or losing.

Every man on that football team is going to know that you are backing him and doing your part to the utmost if you are a real T. C. U. Froggie.

800 Frogs Against 2500 Aggies At the Game Tomorrow

Only 22 men will play the football game in Frog Stadium tomorrow, but approximately 5000 students and alumni will have a decided interest in which eleven wins—2800 Aggies, 900 Frogs and 1300 Exes.

Girls, wait until after the game to listen to the "cadet line" and polish the shiny brass buttons on their uniforms. They won't go away. They can sing the tunes of "The Bells Of Saint Mary's" and "You're The Only One For Me" just as well, if not better, after the game is over. Just think, you will have a proportion of almost 4 to 1 to pick from. Go to the game and yell, then do your picking.

The Aggies haven't tasted Frog blood for 11 long years and they will be seeking to quench that thirst with the passion of a Frankenstein when they meet the Frogs tomorrow. Show the Aggies a good time,—give them the frog welcome —BUT—support the Frogs at the game.

Students, Know Your Alma Mater Hymn

Know your Alma Mater hymn! This should be one requirement which every student in T. C. U., out of loyalty to his University, should make upon himself.

It has been observed at a number of student body gatherings recently that a number of students, mostly freshmen, do not know their school songs. In a number of cases, too, at pep rallies and games, there has been a great amount of moving about and un-called for activity on the part of students during the playing of the Alma Mater.

Students who do not know their school songs and take no interest in them evidently do not realize the significance of the songs to the University and to themselves.

When the Alma Mater Hymn is being played or sung it should send a thrill through the body of every loyal T. C. U. student and supporter. In order really to feel what his Alma Mater means to him, every student should learn the hymn and put himself into the spirit of it when he hears it.

ALONG SHOW ROW

By RAYMOND MICHERO
 Amusement seekers shouldn't have a hard time finding places to go this week-end. The official A. & M.-T. C. U. dance at the Texas tomorrow night, the opening of the Blackstone's Venetian ballroom tonight, and a full menu of Hollywood's best movie offerings should provide a bill-of-fare to satisfy anyone.

Richard Cole and his orchestra, which occupied the Blackstone's bandstand for several weeks last winter, will reopen the Venetian ballroom tonight. The Cole aggregation made a hit with T. C. U. students when the orchestra appeared in the University Auditorium last winter.

As a follow-up to "Shipmates Forever," one of the best pictures we've seen in a long time, the Worth will bring in another musical show, "Broadway Melody of 1936," for a week's engagement starting tomorrow. With Jack Benny, Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor and Frances Langford in the leading roles, this picture promises much in the way of entertainment, both musically and otherwise. At its midnight show tomorrow night the Worth will present "Hands Across the Table," with Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurphy.

Warren William as Perry Mason, master detective, returns to Show Row this week to unravel another of his famous mystery thrillers, "The Case of the Lucky Legs." This picture will show at the Palace for four days starting Saturday. Patricia Ellis and Lyle Talbot are in the supporting cast. "Welcome Home," a comedy exposing petty grafters, with James Dunn and Arline Judge doing the exposing, will open for four days Wednesday.

The Majestic will bring back "The Irish in Us," one of the present movie season's best, with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Frank McHugh, for four days starting Saturday. W. C. Fields, billed as "The Maharajah of Ha Ha," will come in Wednesday in "The Man on the Flying Trapeze."

OPEN FORUM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writers and are not necessarily the policy of The Skiff. Students are invited to write to the Open Forum. Letters of more than 250 words are not accepted. Anonymous letters will not be published, but a writer's name will be withheld from publication if he so desires.)

Dear Students:
 Tomorrow at the A. & M. game your T. C. U. Horned Frog Band makes its first appearance. The planning, rehearsing and drilling have been done in order that you might have a band of which you can and will feel proud. Because of the short length of time the boys have had to practice and drill together, this first drill will perhaps be a bit ragged—perhaps there will be more sour notes than usual. At any rate, everything will improve with more time.

It is not my purpose, however, to make pre-game excuses and apologies. I do want to emphasize one thing, and correct a false idea some students have about the band. The Horned Frog Band is YOUR band. It is made up of students of your school, playing for you and your team. It is not an organization separate from the school—a bunch of boys striving for personal fun and glory—but is a part of every one of you, and gladly welcomes any sincere criticism and suggestion.

So, students, remember when that Horned Frog Band comes on the field, that it is your band. If it can stir up just a little more enthusiasm among you students, if it can help the team drive just a little harder, then the band boys are satisfied. So no matter how many fluke piccolo notes, no matter how many times the drum major drops his baton, or how ragged the ranks, the Horned Frog Band is wholeheartedly behind the student body and the team.
 Sincerely,
 Weldon J. Allen.

"To The Cadets"—Columnist Dedicates Highlights of Gossip As Reward

The column this week is respectfully dedicated to the 2800 Aggies who will invade Frogland tomorrow. It's like this—When 2800 students come to T. C. U. on their official trip they are due some reward . . . since the Frogs are going to win the game we are rewarding them with this dedication. Seeing stars by the columnist if we lose.

WAR DANCE is a logical name for the TCU-A&M dance to be given at the Texas Hotel tomorrow night. There aren't any four dance floors in town capable of handling the crowd that will attend the dance tomorrow night, so why worry about it. It will, indeed, be a stamp and shindig, so put on the shin guards and metal tipped shoes and forge forth on one night of line slinging and toe stamping.

The dance floor tomorrow night will probably be like unto what Dr. Hogan calls the modern auto . . . A PERAMBULATING SAUSAGE MILL.

If Aggie Line Is Like Aggie "Line," My Gawsh! What a Team

BY ROSEMARY COLLYER.

Welcome, Aggies! The campus is yours. It isn't every year that we have the pleasure of entertaining the "world's best line shooters." The one thing we hope is that the Horned Frogs will continue to "hold that line" this year as they have in times past. You have competition on the gridiron but few can resist the other "line" in question, especially if it comes entirely without warning.

Speaking of warnings, the "Aggie Line," with which some 2500 Aggies will come equipped this week-end, is really a work of art. If you have never heard it, the thing to do is to listen raptly and compliment them. If you try obviously to ignore the fact that you are being handed a line, then you may make the poor boys feel like flops. And all the endless nights of coaching by the worldly-wise upperclassmen will have been in vain.

Without meaning to change the subject too abruptly, perhaps you remember a rather nice practice that started last year at the football game. It not only looked nice but it led to spirit to the occasion. Referring to the wearing of those large purple or white chrysanthemums. Let's do that again this year. It may be done in one of two ways—if the boy-friend doesn't heed the hint, then buy it yourself. You can make a small sacrifice for your Alma Mater.

Since this also marks the debut of the new "clean" hand uniforms, it will pay the student body to dress for the occasion. The band men are really going to step when the time comes to parade.

Back on the subject of flowers, some of the "sissies" in Jarvis are planning to wear purple violets. O well. Some people must be different!

Since I seem to be full of ideas today (hope the strain won't prove fatal) perhaps this may have occurred to you also. If you have one of those new dresses in that lovely shade of purple and want to be truly patriotic and show that good old T.

C. U. spirit, and then don your purple dress and a white chrysanthemum and shout at the game until you are purple in the face.

Then if you can still walk and have a date, you can spend your evening going first to the roof at the Texas and then to the Colonial Room, trying to make up your mind which place to dance. They will both be open officially as the student dance. Oh, to be an elevator boy at the Texas Saturday night!

3 Aggie Specials

That year held more success for them in a football way than have their later corps trips to Fort Worth. They managed to get a 0 to 0 tie in a hard-fought battle.

In 1929 they came back again determined to take Frog scalps back with them. But they met a team that later went on to win the conference championship, and they went down to a 13 to 0 defeat.

In 1933, Coach Schmidt's last year here, the Cadets came down hot for a victory over a team that had blanketed them since 1924. The Schmidtmens had just dropped a 13 to 0 verdict to Arkansas and looked to have the worst team in years. And the Ags came out again on the short end of a 13 to 7 score.

SPORTS PLANTS

By CARL MAXWELL
Was Joe Louis up at Tulsa last Saturday? From the looks of Wilson Groseclose's nose and eye and Lester's face it looks as if one of those Hurricanes had Louis' tendencies. Several of the Frogs said the Tulsa players used a few holds that were not listed in the book. The Frogs were a little tougher than Tulsa, though. Five of the Oklahomans were taken from the field, and only three T. C. U. men had to be taken out.

The Tulsa game was one of the cleanest ever played by a T. C. U. team. There were no penalties assessed against them. Not even a measly five yards for off-side was lost.

Dutch Kline is really living up to the reputation of the No. 5 jersey he wears. Charlie Casper was the last player to wear that number, and Cy Leland wore it before him. That number has come to signify speed and more speed to the Frog fans. Kline used to wear No. 28, but changed because he broke his hand three times under those colors. He's off to a good start. His four touchdowns put him in a tie for second place in the conference scoring race, and he is leading his mates in yards gained per try. His average is well over 10 yards, and last Saturday he averaged 14 yards. He made the longest run—42 yards—in the Tulsa game. Kline is also one of the best defensive halfbacks ever to wear the Purple. At the rate he is going he ought to be a cinch for all-conference honors.

I noticed an article in a Baltimore paper about Red Oliver, speedy halfback for the Frogs from 1930 to '32. Oliver is playing pro football with the Washington Federals. The interview started out something like this: "Lady, Ah'd rathuh talk to you about mah little red-haired, blue-eyed daughter than brag about mahself as a football player..." Now you know we don't talk like that!

Wilson Groseclose is due for all conference recognition this season. Ever since he was a sophomore, he has been a tower of strength in the T. C. U. lines. 'Grose' played almost half of last season with a broken nose and was one of the most prominent figures in the Rice game. In every game this year his opponents have said he was the toughest man to block they ever played against. Every play that comes around his way stands a good chance of being folded up. The Aggies will do well to run the other way tomorrow; but, come to think of it, there aren't very many soft spots in the T. C. U. line!

It looked like a family reunion up at Tulsa last Saturday. They had a halfback named Clark and an end named Roach.

Baylor and Arkansas have baptized night football into the Southwest Conference. They played the first night football game in the history of the circuit last Saturday night. The Bears scored a mild upset in defeating the Porkers 13 to 6.

Now down to new business... The Aggies have picked Fort Worth for one of the Corps trips and 2500 Cadets are going to be in the east stand tomorrow yelling for Frog meat and blood. This makes the fourth time since 1927 that A. & M. has picked Cowtown as one of their trips, and each time they have been disappointed.

Those 2500 Cadets in uniform make a pretty spectacle between the halves, but for the last ten years T. C. U. has been all the show during the playing time. It DOES kinda make your backbone tingle, though, to see the field covered with men going through precise maneuvers, and you can't help but admire the spirit with which the Cadets stick by their team through victory or defeat.

The Aggies haven't scored a victory over the Frogs since 1924.

Frogs To Resume Gridiron Rivalry With Texas Aggies

Cadets to Make Official Corps Trip to Campus.

2 TCU Regulars Out

1924 Was Date of Last Farmer Victory Over Meyermen.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock T. C. U. meets the A. & M. Aggies in the 1935 edition of their ancient gridiron rivalry. This game will be the Frogs' second conference tilt of the season and the Aggies' first appearance against a conference member.

The A. & M. student body has chosen this as one of their Corps trips, and Fort Worth and the campus will be invaded with uniforms, 2500 strong.

Not since 1924 have the Aggies turned back the fighting Frogs. All but two games since that time have ended in victories for the Purple and White. Two of these ended in ties. This poor percentage of victories has caused T. C. U. to appear as a "jinx" team for the Cadets. But Coach Norton of the Aggies has dispelled any idea of using the old jinx theory as an alibi. A. & M. is determined to end the string of defeats at the hands of T. C. U.

3 Regulars Hurt at Tulsa

But the Frogs are equally as determined to keep their names out of the loss column. Although three regulars were injured in the Tulsa game last week, the squad is at full strength again—with the exception of Drew Ellis and "Tiny" Godwin. Ellis will likely be out of uniform for a few more weeks. Godwin still has a bad knee from the Arkansas game. Along with the loss of Ellis and Godwin the Frogs gained another valuable man. Melvin Diggs, senior end, played in the Tulsa game and will be available against the Aggies. Diggs' return makes T. C. U. particularly strong at the end position.

T. C. U. is well fortified at all positions except the left tackle hole. Aubrey Linne and Lincoln Walker, sophomores, are the only men listed on the Frog roster as left tackles. Linne started the Tulsa game and was outstanding all afternoon. Walker held the position down in fine fashion the time he was in the game.

Cadets to Be Full Strength

The Cadets are expected to be at full strength for their first conference tilt. They have played four games to date, winning two and losing two. Their losses were at the hands of Temple University, one of the nation's strongest teams, and Centenary College, Coach Norton's old stamping grounds. Pop Warner, Temple's coach, proclaimed A. & M. one of the toughest teams his boys had played in some time. Centenary beat their old coach by a one-point margin in the last quarter last Saturday, winning, 7 to 6.

The Aggies' two victories came at the expense of two state teachers' colleges, Sam Houston and Austin. They have scored 69 points against their opponents' 27. Temple chalked up 14 of these and Centenary 7.

Frogs Have Won 4 Games

Although the Frogs have won all of their four games, they have not run up against teams as strong as Temple and Centenary. Tulsa and Arkansas were by no means set-ups, but they aren't on par with the conquerors of the Cadets.

A. & M.'s big threat is Jimmy Neersta, a 165-pound sophomore back who has caused all kinds of trouble to his

For 11 years they have done without a single Frog scalp. They have eked out two ties over this period, but the rest of the games have been on the debit side of their ledger. In 1933 they had a good chance to break this string of defeats, but threw it away through over-confidence; or maybe the Frogs were mad. At any rate T. C. U. had a good reason to be sore. They had just lost a lousy game to Arkansas, and the freshmen had pushed them all over the field a couple of days before the game. The poor Aggies didn't have a chance—T. C. U. was in the mood to beat anybody, and it just happened that A. & M. was the team that they were playing.

The 1934 game was played at College Station, and resulted in a 13 to 0 triumph for the Frogs. And the score could easily have been more, as T. C. U. played down in Aggie territory most all of the game. So come on, Frogs, take these Cadets again and keep your name out of the loss column!

History Repeats? Band Uniforms Jinx A. M. Game

FLASH—FORT WORTH, NOV. 5, 1924—THE HORNED FROG BAND, WILL HAVE UNIFORMS FOR THE T. C. U.-A. & M. GAME IN COLLEGE STATION NOV. 15. For the first time in history the band will parade in uniforms and will no longer be obliged to sit on the sidelines in their civies. The student body voted to buy uniforms for the band in chapel Friday and pledged their loyal support, to be backed up with the actual cash.

FLASH—COLLEGE STATION, NOV. 15, 1924—THE T. C. U. HORNED FROGS WERE DEFEATED TODAY BY THE A. & M. AGGIES BY A SCORE OF 28-0. THE HIGHLIGHTS OF THE GAME WERE THE SUPERIOR PLAYING OF THE AGGIES AND THE NEW UNIFORMS DISPLAYED BY THE HORNED FROG BAND.

opponents this year. He is the leading Aggie scorer.

The Frogs have a starting backfield composed of big threats. Any one of the starters or his alternate is a dangerous man when he gets his hands on the ball. Kline, Lawrence, Manton and Baugh will give the boys from A. & M. plenty of trouble before the game is over.

A. & M. Have 2 Fine Tackles

A. & M. has two exceptionally fine tackles in Martin Lindsey and Roy Young. Both weigh over 200 pounds and have stopped all running attacks directed at them. T. C. U.'s line compares favorably both in weight and ability with the Aggies. Lester, Kellow, Harrison and Groseclose can stop anything that comes their way, and the Frogs have a host of end material.

The probable starting line-ups will be: For A. & M., ends, Morrow and Wilkins; tackles, Lindsey and Young; guards, Crow and Willis; center, DeWare; quarterback, Pitner; halfbacks, Neersta and Reid, and fullback, Cummings.

For T. C. U., ends, Roach and Walls; tackles, Groseclose and Linne; guards, Kellow and Harrison; center, Lester; quarterback, Baugh; halfbacks, Lawrence and Kline; and fullback, Manton.

Triple-threater

Jimmy (Job) Neersta, 167-lb. Aggie fullback from Flatonia, will be seen in action against the Horned Frogs tomorrow afternoon. This flashy triple-threat ace is one of the mainstays of the A. & M. team this season.

Pollywogs to Play Baylor Cubs Oct. 29

Frosh Team in Good Condition for Tilt — Bob Jordan on Injury List.

The T. C. U. Pollywogs will play their first game, against the Baylor Freshmen, in the stadium here on Oct. 29. This game marks the second clash between the two teams. The Cubs won last year 18 to 0.

Coach Howard Grubbs has been spending much time teaching the team new offensive plays and defensive signals and plays, while Line Coach Ben Boswell has had the line concentrating on blocking.

With only one injured player, the team is in good condition and should be ready to go by Oct. 29.

The injured player is Bob Jordan, end from Albany. The tendons in his left hand were torn Monday during practice. It is believed that he may be able to play in the Baylor game.

Juniors Win To Hold Lead In Tag Football

Freshmen Victors by Score of 51-20—Seniors Lose to Sophs, 26-25.

The Juniors held their lead in the intramural tag football race by defeating the Freshmen, 51 to 20, Wednesday afternoon. In the hardest fought and closest game of the season the Sophomores held their second position by downing the Seniors, 26 to 25.

The Sophomore-Senior game was a see-saw affair with first one team scoring and then the other. The score at the half was 13-13. Near the end of the game the Sophs gained a 26 to 19 lead. With one minute to play Horace McDowell pushed over a touchdown for the Seniors, but their chance for a tie was lost as the point after touchdown was missed.

Tom Pickett, Herman Pittman, Orville Paty and McDowell played a good game for the Seniors. Frank Floyd, Gilbert Bowden, Lawrence King and Don McLeland were outstanding for the Sophomores.

The combination of Byrum Saam to Buck Roberson and Ray Wester proved too much for the Freshmen. Roberson led the scoring with four touchdowns.

For the Frosh, Mims, A. J. Cooles, Sonny Osier and Ewell played well.

The standing of the teams is:
Teams W. L. Pct.
Juniors 3-0 1.000
Sophomores 2 1 .666
Freshmen 1 2 .333
Seniors 0 3 .000

T. C. U. Defeats Tulsa U. 13 to 0

Frogs Unable to Score on Hurricane Until Last Quarter.

The Frogs pushed the Tulsa Hurricanes all over the field last Saturday at Tulsa, but failed to score until the last period, when two markers and one extra point gave T. C. U. a 13-to-0 victory.

Tulsa was an exceptionally strong team on the defense but failed to make any headway toward the Christians' goal line. The Oklahomans made only 5 first downs and 3 of these came in the first half. The second half was all T. C. U. The Frogs made several penetrations inside Tulsa's 20-yard line, but were unable to score until early in the last quarter, when Baugh went over from the one-yard line.

The other score came near the end of the game when the desperate Tulsa team was backed against its goal line and tried to pass. "Donkey" Roberts, fullback, snatched the ball and raced 25 yards to pay dirt.

Scott McCall kicked the extra point after the first score, but the next point was missed.

Dutch Kline was the outstanding ball carrier for the game. He got loose for one gallop of 42 yards, and was a thorn in Tulsa's skin all day, both offensively and defensively. The Frogs played an extremely clean game—not being penalized the entire game. The game was hard fought, however. Three T. C. U. men were taken from the game by injuries and five left the Tulsa line up for the same reason. Capt. Lester was removed from the T. C. U. line before the end of the first half with a badly cut eye. Jack Tittle, sophomore, took over the center position like a veteran, and proved himself a capable alternate for that position.

Aubrey Linne, sophomore, who started the game at left tackle, played almost all the 60 minutes and was outstanding all afternoon. Lincoln Walker, another sophomore, relieved Linne and played a nice game while he was in there.
