T. C. U. a Country School. Prestige Demands Building. Union Hall Needed. Would Cement Relationship

By JAMES E. TRIBBLE, President Men's Glee Club

A speaker from downtown who came out to lecture before one of the classes recently was surprised, he told me later, at the poor facilities of our Administration Building.

In order for an institution to instill ideals it must possess prestige. The prestige of a university, which means the degree of public confidence the university enjoys, as well as its professional regulations, is measured largely in terms of the quality and extent of the teaching, research and other social services the institution performs.

Must a university seek mass-production or must it strive to have a waiting-list to enter in order to gain this prestige? We agree that the latter is the more preferable. But how can this ideal be looked forward to if the facilities at present are not suitable for the students it now has?

Now let us face the question frankly. With the excellent scholastic standing, prestige if you please, that Texas Christian University possesses; with the rich background of ideals, and the publicity she has gained, the near future demands some new buildings.

One only has to be reminded of the fact that 14 instructors and assistants are sandwiched into the small English office here, to use only one example of crowded conditions. One need not be reminded of the excess rattle of dishes in the basement, or the shriek of an almost C sharp from a soprano from the third floor to understand why B students can not concentrate sufficiently to make C grades.

Why doesn't some interested person, either a trustee or an alumnus, take it upon himself to see that Texas Christian University is supplied with a new Union Building?

Just as a matter of suggestion, the fine arts department, a Cafeteria and perhaps a Grille could be placed in the Union Building. The present Administration Building would then have additional room and the excess noises would be out of range of the classrooms. The new Union Building should contain a large assembly hall for addresses, theatricals, banquets and dances. It should have meeting rooms, a clubroom, proper lounges and an alumni room.

Hawaiian Team To Debate T.C.U. Thursday Night

Picture Show, Lecture on "Beauties of Hawaii" to Be Given.

Open to the Public

Question to Be Whether Congress Should Over-ride Supreme Court Decisions.

The University of Hawaii debate team, which is touring the United States, will arrive here Thursday to debate T. C. U.'s representatives, Truitt Kennedy and J. B. Trimble.

A 30-minute moving picture show, accompanied by a lecture on "The Beauties of Hawaii," by Prof. N. B. Beck, sponsor of the Hawaiian team, will be presented with the debate. Both are free to the public and will be held in the Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

T. C. U. will uphold the affirmative of the question: resolved: That Congress, by a two-thirds majority vote, should have the power to over-ride decisions of the Supreme Court, declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional. The debate will be a non-decision one.

The University of Hawaii team, composed of John A. Casstevens, Clarence Chang, Frank Hustace, Robert G. North and Robert Taire and accompanied by Prof. Beck, arrived in Los Angeles Wednesday, and will meet the University of Arizona in Tucson, Ariz., Monday before coming here. They will debate only one other Texas team, the University of Texas, before going on to Hendrix College in Conway, Ark.

12 Music Students Receive Scholarships

Awards Made to 11 Boys, 1 Girl on Basis of Character and Proficiency.

Eleven boys and one girl have been awarded band and orchestra scholarships for the spring semester by the music department.

The lone girl to be selected was Miss Doris Commander, violin. The following boys were awarded scholarships: Clyde Allen, E flat clarinet; Hays Bacus, tuba; Elton Beene, trumpet; Wayne Dunlap, trumpet; Ed Loe, trumpet; Kenneth Vaughn, trumpet; Walter Petta, clarinet; James Petty, clarinet; Ronald Wheeler, drums; Charles Oswald, bassoon, and Herschel Gibbs, piccolo.

Prof. Claude Sammis announced that scholarships were awarded on the basis of character, scholarship and musical proficiency.

Clay Dillon, scholarship man during the fall, withdrew from school for the spring to work, but plans to re-enter next fall.

Those Unassigned Get Chapel Cuts

All students who do not have chapel seats should see Miss Eula Lee Carter at once, for they are receiving cuts, Prof. C. R. Sherer warned today.

Sherer added that lists assigning seats to the new students have been posted on the bulletin board and in front of the chapel, and suggested that students check this list at once.

Miss Sherley to Speak

The State of Culture in Texas to Be Topic of Radio Talk.

Miss Lorraine Sherley will talk on "The State of Culture in Texas" at 4 p. m. Sunday on the University radio program over KTAT. This will conclude a series of programs by members of the English department.

Wilbur I. Greeg, B. M. '35, who is teaching music in Cleburne, will be in charge of a short musical program to be given following the talk by Miss Sherley.

John Hardin Jr., will play a cornet solo, Carlyle Mills will give a violin solo, and Tildon Head Jr., will play a clarinet solo. The three boys are from Cleburne.

Hawaiian Debaters to Appear Here Thursday

The five members of the debate team of the University of Hawaii and their sponsor, pictured above, will appear in the University Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in a debate with members of the Frog Forensic Fraternity.

Team Debating In Round Robin

Trimble, Kennedy Represent T.C.U. at Commerce Meet.

T. C. U. debaters are participating in a "round robin" meet at Commerce today and Saturday. J. B. Trimble and Truitt Kennedy will debate teams from Austin College, Sherman, and the East Texas State Teachers' College, Commerce. Dr. Allen True, sponsor of the Frog Forensic Fraternity, will accompany the two.

The question to be debated consistently this spring is "Resolved: That Congress, by a two-thirds majority vote, should have the power to over-ride decisions of the Supreme Court, declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional." This is the Pi Kappa Delta question.

Trial debates will be held here at 2 o'clock Saturday, when C. H. Richards, Richard Poll, Meyer Jacobson and Harry Roberts will debate a team from Weatherford Junior College.

Trinity University will send two teams Tuesday evening to the campus to hold two debates. Trimble and Kennedy, and Jacobson and Roberts will represent T. C. U. The Trinity University delegates will be guests of the F. F. F. at a dinner at 6 o'clock that evening in the Cafeteria.

Kennedy and Trimble reached the quarter-finals in the Mid-South Debate Tournament held in Arkadelphia, Ark., last Friday and Saturday. They defeated Baylor University, but lost a decision to S. M. U.

Poll tied for third place as the best individual debater.

Summer Bulletin Out

37 Professors to Teach—90 Courses Will Be Offered.

A bulletin announcing the 90 courses to be taught this summer has been mailed by the registrar's office to teachers, former summer school students and to those who have requested such information.

Thirty-seven professors will teach. The first term will be from June 2 to July 11. The second term will be July 13 to Aug. 21.

Business Heathen Special Protesges Of 'Spiritual Club'

"Our sole aim is to convert heathens like Charley Weissenborn, Mary Wilson and Dr. Boeck," says L. T. Miller, pastor and song leader of the recently organized Business Administration Spiritual Society.

This society does not wish to be duly installed, so as to necessitate complying with the social rules of the University, as they would like the privilege of calling their meetings whenever they feel the spiritual urge, a member reports.

Miller will deliver a message on "The Wicked Gossip in the Church" at 2 p. m. today in the chapel room.

"All are cordially invited to attend and urged to bring a collection," Miller said.

Special music is being arranged.

The following officers were duly and thoughtfully installed at the last meeting: Scripture leader, Blakeney Sanders; deacon, Lincoln Walker; secretary-treasurer, George Garrett; leader of ladies' aid, Miss Ona Ruth Potter, and official heathen, Charles Weissenborn.

Feb. 28 Deadline To Enter Orations

Texas Christian University will probably send several entrants to the Pi Kappa Delta national oratorical contest to be held during the latter part of March in Houston, Prof. Lew D. Fallis announced this week.

He added that all undergraduate students are eligible to participate, but to be eligible a typewritten copy of the oration must be turned in to the public speaking office not later than Friday, Feb. 28.

Elliott, Haley to Speak Monday

Frank Elliott will speak to the Timothy Club Monday night on "The Cause and Cure of the Stoning of the Prophets." Eugene Haley will speak on "The Man by the Wayside." These speakers were to have spoken last Monday night, but the members of the club were dismissed to hear Dr. S. Parks Cadman speak on "Crossroads of Civilization."

Band Will Play At Stock Show

Will Be Frogs' Tenth Consecutive Year at Exposition.

For the tenth consecutive year, the Horned Frog Band has been asked to present daily evening concerts at the annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

Prof. Claude Sammis has formally accepted the invitation and will direct the Horned Frog musicians in their nightly concerts which will be held at 7 o'clock in front of the Coliseum. The dates of the exposition this year are March 13 to 22.

The band will also march in the exposition parade Friday afternoon, March 13. This parade officially opens the Stock Show. Drum Major Weldon Allen will direct the band in its parade maneuvers.

Don Gillis, assistant director, is preparing the band for its concert series. In addition to daily rehearsals at 12 o'clock, he is holding special rehearsals at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The band has also been asked by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce to play at a cotton ginners' convention to be held in Fort Worth in April. Tentative arrangements are being made for this concert.

A series of concerts will be presented by the band at the local high schools during the next two weeks. Definite dates have not been selected. This series will be climaxed with the band's chapel program March 11.

Three Teach at Dallas

Hall, Hutton, Morro Serve This Week at Church School.

Dean Colby D. Hall, Dr. W. C. Morro and Registrar S. W. Hutton are teaching night classes this week at the First Methodist Church at Dallas.

A co-operative school for Disciple and Methodist church workers is being conducted. Dean Hall is teaching an "Old Testament class." Dr. Morro has a New Testament class. Registrar Hutton teaches Christian worship.

Bryson Poetry Date Extended to Feb. 22

Several Poems May Be Submitted by One Contestant With 200 Lines as Limit.

The deadline for submitting poems to the Bryson Poetry Contest has been extended to Feb. 22.

One contestant may turn in several poems, but the total number of lines may not exceed 200. It is suggested that not more than three poems be submitted by one person. The poems are to be turned in in triplicate to Mrs. Artemisia Bryson in the English Office.

Three books will be given as prizes. Judges from outside the University will read and select the winning poems.

The judges are Prof. Matt Pierce of the University of New Mexico, and Whitney Montgomery, one of the editors of the Kaleidograph.

Miss Atkinson To Go to A. & M.

Receives Large Margin of Votes Cast to Be Chosen "Duchess."

Miss Lois Atkinson was selected by the student body Wednesday morning to represent the University as "Duchess of T. C. U." at the fifth annual Cotton Style Show and Pageant to be held at Texas A. & M. April 3.

As one of 35 girls nominated, Miss Atkinson received an overwhelming number of the votes cast. Of the 235 votes submitted, she received 69. Her nearest opponent received 15.

Miss Atkinson's escort will be selected from the A. & M. student body, according to the custom of the pageant.

The Style Show and Pageant, commonly known as the "Cotton Ball," is held each year in honor of the "Royal Plant Cotton." All participants in the revue are supposed to dress in cotton garments.

I.R.C. to Hold Forum At Commerce Sunday

Findley, Pittman, Miss Cogswell to Speak on "International Justice."

Approximately 15 members of the International Relations Club will conduct an open forum Sunday night at the Christian Church in Commerce on "International Justice." Miss Mary Cogswell, Joe Findley and Herman Pittman will speak.

The group will meet at the arch at 2 p. m. Sunday. A supper will be served in their honor upon their arrival in Commerce. Members of the T. C. U. debate team, who will be in Commerce Saturday, will remain over for the forum.

Alumni Planning Centennial Action

Plans for participation in the Texas Centennial Exposition and the Frontier Exposition here were made at a meeting of the board of directors of the T. C. U. State Alumni and Ex-Students' Association last Saturday in the Texas Hotel.

David Leavell, president, is selecting a committee of about 20 members to map out a program and secure an exhibit at the exposition on Camp Bowie Boulevard.

A centennial college week next fall climaxed in the homecoming game with the University of Texas here Nov. 7, is also being arranged, according to Leavell. All colleges will be invited to participate.

Miss Asia Ayres has been appointed general chairman of the commencement union to be held June 1.

Graduate's Book Published

"The Psychology of the Christian Personality," by Ernest M. Ligon, T. C. U. graduate, has just been published by the Macmillan Company. Ligon, who attended Yale Divinity School after his graduation from T. C. U., is now a member of the faculty of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y. The book is friendly to the Christian viewpoint of psychology and contains a psychological interpretation of the Sermon on the Mount.

Five Professors Named to Teach Ministers Here

120 Towns Expected to Send Delegates Monday.

To Meet for 5 Days

Editor of World Call Listed As One of Several Speakers.

Five T. C. U. faculty members will teach next week at a meeting of the Texas Ministers' Institute on the campus. About 120 Texas towns will be represented.

"We are expecting 150 ministers at the meeting," Dean Colby D. Hall said.

The meeting will begin Monday afternoon and last through Friday. The Rev. Perry E. Gresham is secretary of the institute. Miss Elizabeth Henry is the registrar.

Guest speakers of the meeting are the Rev. George Walker Buckner, editor of World Call, Indianapolis, Ind.; the Rev. Roy C. Snodgrass, pastor of the Amarillo First Christian Church, and the Rev. Harry G. Knowles, pastor of the Houston First Christian Church.

The morning sessions will be devoted to classes, which will meet in Brite College of the Bible. Night meetings will be at the University Christian Church.

The teachers for the meeting are: Dr. W. E. Garrison, University of Chicago; Dr. George V. Moore, Transylvania University; Dr. L. D. Anderson, pastor of the Fort Worth First Christian Church; Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, Dr. Clinton Lockhart, Dr. W. C. Morro, Prof. Lew D. Fallis and Dean Hall.

T.C.U. Asks For Song Copyright

Irving Berlin Wants to Use Athletic Tune in College Folio.

The University has petitioned the Library of Congress in Washington for a copyright on the Alma Mater and the athletic song, according to Prof. Claude Sammis.

Irving Berlin has also written for permission to use the athletic song in a new folio of college songs which he is to publish.

"The song is at present in the folio of 'Intercollegiate College Songs,' published by the Intercollegiate Song Book, Inc., of New York," Sammis said. Thornton W. Allen selected the songs for the folio.

Prof. Sammis also stated that the National Broadcasting Company has asked for and been given permission to use both songs on the air at any time.

Art Students Study Portrait Paintings

Life Models to Be Furnished by Athletic and Dramatic Departments.

Students in the art department have started the study of portrait paintings and are using models from the dramatic department during this week, according to Prof. S. P. Ziegler, art instructor.

"We hope to combine the athletic department and the dramatic department to obtain life models for the portrait study," Prof. Ziegler said.

Miss Marjorie Young and Miss Ruth Tilton, dramatic students, modeled Tuesday and Thursday for the department. Other models for next week will be selected later.

Ziegler Gives Gallery Talk

Prof. S. P. Ziegler gave a gallery talk last Sunday afternoon on the exhibit of paintings by American artists now on display at the Carnegie Public Library.

Miss Major in Hospital

Miss Mabel Major of the English department is recovering from the flu in Cook Memorial Hospital.

Bestowing the Title "The Big Barn"

"The Big Barn."—Just a suggestion for a new and more appropriate title for the imposing air-cooled structure west of the campus which serves as the University's official ballroom and basketball gymnasium and in appearance presents itself as the biggest disgrace of a building on the campus.

—Seeing the so-called "Basketball Gymnasium" from a distance, a visitor is struck by the huge proportions of this imposing structure and wonders why a university like T. C. U. should need such a large stable. Drawing nearer, the visitor decides to go in and take a look at the horses.

On approaching the entrance to the building, he is surprised to see that inside, instead of being lined with stalls and storage bins, it has seats along two sides. In the center of the building is a large hardwood floor, and several basketball goal posts are suspended from the ceiling.

At the west end is a crudely-erected platform which the visitor cannot figure out. (For the reader's enlightenment, this platform is what the students, from force of habit, call "the bandstand.")

The day of his visit is a cold one. On entering the building he finds it colder inside than outside. The wind whistles through the cracks in the walls.

By this time the visitor is positive that the building is not a stable. "No one could have the nerve to keep his horses in a wreck of a building like this," he says.

But anyway, it does fool them from the outside, and for this reason we think the erstwhile "Basketball Gymnasium" deserves to be rated as highly as a barn; therefore, we suggest the title, "The Big Barn."

Texas Christian Marches On!

The year 1936, the centennial of Texas independence, marks the sixty-third anniversary of Texas Christian University, and through all the years the institution has progressed steadily.

In a report to the Board of Trustees, which was made recently by President E. M. Waits, it was announced that 868 students coming from 16 states and three foreign countries, were enrolled during the fall semester; 100 more students had been added for the spring semester at the time the report was made.

During the past year students in the University were allowed a greater participation in the management of student affairs and in the more liberal social program which was inaugurated on the campus. The wearers of the Purple and White won unprecedented fame for the University, their names being written in the headlines of the greatest newspapers throughout the nation. The Horned Frog Band also attracted a great deal of favorable attention by its performances both on the Pacific Coast and in New Orleans.

Scholastically, T. C. U. has been advancing also. Four T. C. U. graduates with M. A. degrees went to Princeton and took their Ph. D. degrees in two years, the minimum time. Another graduate, whose major was chemistry, won a scholarship to the University of Virginia three years in succession. A large oil concern recently sought four specialists to open a new department of paleontology, and three of the four selected were T. C. U. men. Many other honors have also been conferred upon T. C. U. students.

"Recently the Southern University Conference of Liberal Arts Colleges, which prepares for graduate study, was organized and in this group were included only colleges of such recognized merit as to need standardizing according to the usual 'Rule of Thumb,'" President Waits' report said. He added that there were about thirty colleges, only four of which were in Texas. T. C. U. was among those accorded the distinction.

The record of T. C. U. during the past year has truly been one of progress.

An Unconscious Expression Of Character

"Manner is the unconscious expression of character." This statement is made by Julia Dewey in a little book called "Lessons on Manners." Manner is important because it is an everyday thing.

At times students are unaware that they are being judged by their manners. Good manners are not an external finish, but they show what a person really is. Proper manners smooth the way to better things. Conventionalities are not meaningless, but are based on common sense.

The way to cultivate fine manners is to know what is right and to practice constantly. The observing of people with good manners is helpful.

Often there is a lack of refinement in making gifts and a lack of appreciation for gifts received, especially for small gifts. Thoughtfulness is the cause.

The book by Dewey devotes a whole chapter to manners in borrowing. The author states that whenever possible it is better to go without than to borrow. The frequent borrower is usually slack and indifferent. This chapter is well worth the time of any college student.

Fine manners cannot be bought or learned from a book. They come from within.

ALONG SHOW ROW

By RAYMOND MICHERO

The personal appearance of Walter Huston in "Dodsworth" at the Majestic Tuesday night will make next week's theater menu one of the season's top-notchers. This performance will, from all indications, probably be the best performance seen on a Fort Worth stage since the appearance of Helen Hays here last season. Tuesday night's performance will start at 8:15 o'clock.

"Collegiate," with Joe Penner, Jack Oakie, Betty Grable and Lynn Overman, will be the Majestic's feature attraction starting tomorrow. "So Red the Rose," with Randolph Scott and Margaret Sullavan, will follow "Dodsworth" on Wednesday.

The Worth will go nautical as well as musical tomorrow with "Follow the Fleet," in which Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire use the navy as a background for some zippy musical tunes and dance numbers. Irving Berlin provided the song hits for this production, which is scheduled for a week's run. The midnight show tomorrow night will present Harold Lloyd in "Milky Way," the bespectacled comedian's first cinema offering in many a moon.

The Parkway tomorrow will offer "The Red Salute," with Barbara Stanwyck, for a one-day stand. It will be followed Sunday by "Mary Burns, Fugitive," starring Sylvia Sydney. The Eugene O'Neill stage success, "Ah, Wilderness," featuring Lionel Barrymore and Wallace Beery, will be Tuesday's attraction. It will be followed Thursday by "Miss Pacific Fleet," with Joan Blondell, Una Merkel and Hugh Herbert.

A gangster drama, "Tough Guy," with Joseph Calleia, Jackie Cooper and Rin-Tin-Tin Jr., will be the Palace's feature attraction starting a four-day run tomorrow. It will be followed Wednesday by "Three Kids and a Queen," with May Robson as the elderly woman who rates as a queen to three wails, headed by young Jackie Darrow.

Jack Winston and his band, direct from the swanky Olmos Club in San Antonio, have taken over the bandstand at the Blackstone's Venetian Ballroom.

La Salle with a footman. A regal looking man in a tux (La Salle) climbs out with much ceremony to plant a cross in this soil. The footman grabs a machine gun and flattens the poor guy. (Jack took this from history. La Salle was supposed to have been shot down by his soldiers as he planted the cross.)

The Spanish come next. Their vehicles are motorcycles with side cars wherein repose beautiful señoritas. The girls do a dance and climb back in the side cars and go on off.

Mexicans piled in old Model "T" Fords bounce in next. They have baskets, serapes, sombreros, etc., which they try to sell.

Then comes the crowning climax. Cowboys (Mrs. Murphy's riding classes in disguise) rush in yelling, "Rah, rah, T. C. U." and chase off the Mexicans.

At this point a dude in another tux comes out, and announces that the pageant is over.

Jack Murphy Dreams, Composes Masterpiece on Texas Centennial

Director Don Gillis is not the only budding young dramatist in school. His hottest rival was revealed last week in the person of freshman Jack Murphy.

Mrs. Helen Murphy, women's physical education teacher, and Jack's mother, has been searching for a suitable pageant for the annual W. A. A. event. This year it is to have a Centennial theme. So her enterprising son went to work and composed a masterpiece, which he swears was inspired by a beautiful dream.

His theme brings out the fact that Texas has been under numerous flags and here it is in a nutshell:

Texas Wins 35-27 From Frog Cagers

Capt. Walls Makes Nine Points to Lead T. C. U. Scoring.

Playing sensational ball in the second half, the T. C. U. basketball quint fell a few points short of ringing up their second victory here Monday night. The Texas Steers almost fell victims to another upset under the onslaught of the Frogs after an uninteresting first half, but finally emerged victors, 35 to 27.

T. C. U. was off to an early start in the opening minute of play when they worked a perfect play ending with Byrum Saam, skillful guard, going in for a pretty crisp shot, to draw first blood. This was the only time the Frogs were in the lead. Texas quickly duplicated this two points and made several more before the Frogs found the basket again.

The half ended with the Steers leading 18 to 8. But the Frogs went on a scoring spree in the next period and rung up 14 points while Texas was garnering five. This made the score 25 to 22, which was the nearest T. C. U. came to overtaking the Orange and White.

After the first few minutes, T. C. U. abandoned set play tactics and tried to fast break through the Steers for points. The Frog guards usually got the ball off the backboard on defense, and although Clifton Cowan was outjumped by the taller Jack Collins in the center circle, the Frogs got a number of the tip-offs.

Capt. Willie Walls had a perfect evening at the free-throw line, sinking seven out of as many attempts. He also made a field goal, to lead the Frogs in scoring with nine points. Collins of Texas was high-point man, with 11 points.

The starting line-up for T. C. U. was: Cowan, center; Walls and Roach, forwards; and Saam and Baugh, guards. This five played almost the whole game, with Pat Clifford and Jay Smith breaking into the line-up for a few minutes.

Orchestra to Play

Prof. Claude Sammis to Direct Musicians at Banquet.

The Texas Christian University Orchestra will play for a banquet to be held at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday at the University Christian Church.

Prof. Claude Sammis will direct the musicians. They will play about six selections consisting of several overtures and operatic selections.

This will be the first spring appearance of the orchestra. The personnel will be:

Violins, Misses Doris Commander, Margaret Grant, Ruth Duncan, Maurine McDowell and Margot Sanders, and J. C. Neel, Jr., George Graham and Colby D. Hall, Jr.; piano, Miss Julia Phenix; clarinets, Veldon Allen and Jimmy Petty.

Trumpets, Wayne Dunlap, Elton Beene and Kenneth McGarity; trombones, Miss Miriam Glaze and Chas. Frazee; drums, Ronald Wheeler; flute, Herschel Gibbs; oboe, Ellis Mercer; string bass, C. H. Richards; tuba, Hays Bacus; and baritone, Don Gillis.

J. C. Neel played two violin solos at the monthly mass meeting of the Tarrant County Christian Endeavor Union Tuesday night.

Dr. Willis G. Hewatt will continue his lectures over KTAT at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon. The subject of the lectures is "Phases of Natural History around Fort Worth." Dr. Hewatt answers questions which are sent in by interested listeners.

Dr. Hewatt spoke last Tuesday morning to the adult education class at Circle Park School.

Prof. W. M. Winton addressed the Fossil and Mineral Club of Dallas last Friday night.

Dr. Gayle Scott will speak at the annual meeting of the northwest division of Texas Teachers' Association March 7. His subject will be "Possible Objectives of the Science Curriculum in Public Schools."

OPEN FORUM

EDITOR'S NOTE: The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writers and are not necessarily the policy of The Skiff. Students are invited to write to the Open Forum. Letters of more than 250 words are not accepted. Anonymous letters will not be published, but a writer's name will be withheld from publication if he so desires.

Dear Editor of the Dirt Column:— I don't like your column and although I won't sign my name to this letter I think I am expressing the opinion of several other students. However, I am of the opinion that if the majority of the students in the University (understand I mean students in the University) want the column it is o. k. with me.

Some of the outsiders have been raising sand about the column, and although I don't like it personally, I don't think it is any of their business to say what shall and shall not be published in The Skiff. It is none of their business. Of course, there are always a few people who think their opinions are most valuable to any and everybody, and they think they are doing the world an injustice if they don't express them. I hope I am not classed with this type of person, but my opinion of your column isn't so hot.

I have a pretty good idea who writes the column and know that its content is usually correct, but don't think it should always be published.

As for you, Mr. Column Editor, get a load of this. If you are who I think you are—I don't like you, and I don't like your column. I hope I'm not mistaken.

Yours with a little salt,
—An Observer.

Dear Editor:— I suggest that some energy be used for the sponsoring of hobby exhibits on the campus. People who collect things as a hobby are to be admired. They show the traits of persistence and patience.

Hobbies are often the most valuable product of leisure time. Why wouldn't it be wise to further interest in hobbies by sponsoring exhibits? In many schools hobby exhibits are sponsored by the library. The exhibits changed every week. These exhibits prove instructive as well as interesting.

Some students on the campus have made a hobby of photography. One girl that I know has a large collection of miniature horses. Other students have collected arrow heads. Some have made things.

More and more the value of hobbies is being realized. They make leisure time a pleasure. They give a person enjoyment. They are constructive. —E. R.

Hutton Writes Paper On Religious Education

Registrar S. W. Hutton has written a paper on the "History of Religious Education in Texas," which will be published by the United Christian Missionary Society this spring.

SHORTY SPORTS PLANTS

By CARL MAXWELL

Kate "Over the Mountain" Smith's New York Celtics, classy pro basketball team, gave a swell exhibition last Saturday night at the Recreation Hall. Their opponents were the Jaycees, last local major city league team.

Although they looked like beer in great quantities was a big part of their meals, the Celtics showed the local fans a few tricks not in the book.

Their passing was nothing short of marvelous. They handled the ball as if it were red hot. And their shots seldom went awry. When they settled down for a try at the basket, it was just too bad.

This exhibition game proved one of their height is not all there is to basketball, although it is valuable. A little guy named Banks was the outstanding man on the floor. He wasn't over 5 feet, 6 inches tall, but he could really play ball. Several times he took aim from the middle of the court and let fly—and zip—two points for the Celtics—and the ball rarely ever touched the rim.

"Slim" Mabry, gangling freshman, and "Doc" Sumner, cage star of several years ago at T. C. U., kept the Jaycees in the game with sparkling play. Mabry scored 11 points under closer guarding than is seen in the Southwest Conference. He'll really help the Frogs next year.

Sumner was a member of the 1932 Frog cagers who played these same Celtics that year. T. C. U. had a powerhouse team—they won the conference title—and eked out a victory over the pros in a rough and tumble affair.

Looks as though Arkansas is "in" as basketball champ for 1936. S. M. U. just about ruined Texas' chances the other night by beating the Steers in an upset. I don't know whether it can be classed as an upset or not, 'cause S. M. U. beat them earlier in the season. Texas still has a chance—mightily slim though—to win the pennant. They must turn back the Hogs in two games at Fayetteville and win the rest of their games to do this. Then, too, Capt. Jack Taylor of the Steers is nursing an injured leg on the sidelines.

But the Razorbacks are not going to have a bed of roses. Even if most of their remaining tilts are to be played on the home court, everybody is going to be out after their hides, and they are going to have to play to win.

It seems the main difference between Texas and T. C. U. Monday night was the ability to sink shots. The Frogs got as many chances as Texas at the bucket, but they wouldn't sink. Byron Saam and Willie Walls had tough luck on their tries. Saam started off like a house afire in the first half, but after that his shots just rolled around the hoop and refused to go down. Willie had the same trouble, but one reason his throws weren't hitting was that the Steers were fouling him every time he got the ball. It might have been better for them if they had gone on and let him shoot, for he sunk every free shot he tried—seven.

Ben Boswell, T. C. U. graduate and former all-conference tackle, has been named local supervisor for the W. P. A. writers' project, assembling data for the American Guidebook.

The Southwest Conference is far ahead of other sections of the country in football, but they still can learn things about basketball from other sections. Rice Institute played a small eastern quint in the Madison Square Garden floor, Wednesday night before a crowd of 12,000 fans and was beaten badly. The Owls were said to be the tallest team that has played before Garden audiences this season.

Aggie, Wog Cagers To Play Tomorrow

A return game between the N. T. A. C. Aggies and the Polliwogs will be played in Arlington tomorrow night. The Wogs defeated the Cadets last Saturday night by a 35 to 23 count, playing before the T. C. U.-Texas varsity game.

Russell Hensch, tall freshman center, led in the scoring with 11 points.

Coach Requests Pole Vaulters To Report Now

May Have Well Rounded Team If Vacancy Is Filled.

Prospects Bright

Purple Will Not Enter Laredo Meet This Year Because of Late Start.

Track Coach "Boss" Clark is looking for a pole vaulter for the 1936 track team.

"Anyone who thinks he has ability will be given a fair trial to make the varsity," Clark said. If the track mentor can find a vaulter, the Frogs will present a well rounded team to the opposition this spring. A big squad has answered the call for uniforms and several have already braved the chill wind in order to get an early start. Spring football and basketball are keeping some of the candidates too busy to work out yet. However, Clark expects regular drills to begin soon.

Several Already Practicing.

Puss Erwin, Rex Clark, Olin Jones, Ray Lipscomb, Buck Roberson and Tom Pickett have been practicing when the weather permits. Donkey Roberts, Bob Harrell, Linnon Blackmon, Ned James, George Dunlap and Cotton Harrison are busy with spring football, and Pat Clifford is working out with both the football and basketball squads.

Clifford, Clark and Erwin are members who will likely win many points for the Purple and White this year. Clifford excels in the dashes, the broad jump and the mile relay. Clark is a dash man who lettered in the spring of 1934, but was ineligible last year. Coach Clark expects a merry battle to the finish line every time Clifford and Clark are in a race.

Erwin to Put Shot.

Erwin is a shot-putter. Last year he threw the 16-pound ball farther than anyone else in the Southwest Conference. All during the season he was plagued with an injured knee. This year it has healed, and he probably will do better than ever.

Roberson and Roberts run the middle distances. Dutch Kline is undecided whether he will come out for track this year. If he doesn't, the Frogs will need another hurdler.

T. C. U. is not expected to enter the annual Laredo meet, as has been the custom in former years. Cold weather and other engagements have kept the track men from getting into shape for this early competition.

Five Meets Scheduled.

Five meets have been definitely scheduled, and another is tentatively booked. They are:

April 4, at Dallas, a triangular meet with S. M. U. and the Denton Teachers.

April 11, here, a rectangular meet with S. M. U., Baylor and Texas.

April 18, at Waco, a dual meet with Baylor.

April 25, here, a triangular meet with Baylor and S. M. U.

May 2 (tentative), a dual meet with S. M. U.

May 8 and 9, at Houston, conference meet.

"Experience" Is Sermon Topic

"Religion and New Experiences" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Perry E. Gresham at the Sunday morning services of the University Christian Church. The evening sermon will be "The Art of Praising."

"No," Says Sammy To Report That He Has Married

"I am not married," said Sam Baugh when given the third degree by the Skiff reporter. Sam is evidently worried about the way the fair sex has been shying off lately because of the rumor and wants everyone to know that it is a lot of hokey.

The reporter replied that he had heard the rumor and was wondering about that very thing and proceeded to find out who? what? why? where? and when? about Mr. Baugh.

Sam Adrian Baugh was born on March 17, 1914, in Rogers, Tex., and if you don't know where the city is located just ask Sammy. He moved to Temple when he was six years old and attended school there until he was a sophomore in high school, then he moved to Sweetwater. His athletic career started in high school where he made three letters in football, three in baseball, and three in basketball.

He graduated in 1933 and came to Froglund. "I came up here because I had always heard of T. C. U. and wanted to go to school here," Sam said.

The "Slingshot Sam" we know is a brunette, has blue eyes, weighs 188 pounds and is 6 feet and 2 inches tall. He has made two letters in football, two in basketball and one in baseball since he came to T. C. U. He is also a member of the "T" Association and Bryson Club.

Sam gives credit to Amos M. of the Star-Telegram for giving him the title of "Slingshot Sam" during the baseball season last year. Of course, Sam likes the origin of his title since he likes to play baseball better than he does any other sport. When asked if he liked to play football, Sam replied, "Sure I like to play football, basketball and baseball or I wouldn't play 'em."

Since entering T. C. U. Sam has worked on the campus, played the part of waiter on the training table and is at present the student representative for W. C. Stripling.

He is planning to graduate in 1937 and wants to coach.

Outlaws Cinch B League Title

Sophomores Are Defeated 30 to 11—Victors Have Won Five Games.

"B" LEAGUE STANDINGS
	Won	Lost	Pct.
Outlaws	5	0	1.000
Freshmen	2	3	.400
Go-Getters	2	3	.400
Sophomores	1	4	.200

The Outlaws cinched the "B" League title Wednesday night by defeating the Sophomores 30 to 11. They have won five games and lost none, with only one more to play. The Outlaws won the "B" League championship last year and went on to defeat the Sophomores, winners in the other league, for the campus championship.

Because of a varsity game and the county tournament, the intramural games were played on Wednesday and Thursday nights this week. The results in the "A" League were not available for this edition of The Skiff.

Hugh Wagley, with nine points, led the Outlaws in their rout of the Sophs. George Garrett made seven counters for the Sophomores.

The Go-Getters downed the Frosh 20 to 19 in the other game Wednesday. John Hall of the Freshmen was high-point man with four field goals and three free shots.

Frogs Will Play Two-Game Series In Porkers' Camp

Tilts Are Crucial for League-Leading Razorbacks.

T.C.U. Out of Race

Dope Points to Purple Loss by Large Score—Hogs Have Lost Only 1 Go.

Tonight the Frog cagers engage the league-leading Arkansas Razorbacks in Fayetteville in a crucial game for the Hogs. Although T. C. U. is hopelessly out of the running for the conference title, it is in a position to throw a monkey wrench into the championship aspirations of the Razorbacks. A defeat tonight would leave Arkansas with two losses and tied with Texas.

Tomorrow night the two teams repeat their act in "Schmitt's Barn." All of the Razorbacks' remaining games will be played at home, giving them a distinct advantage.

Arkansas is leading the conference chase, with seven victories and one defeat, branded on them by the Rice Owls. T. C. U. is far behind, with one victory and seven starts.

All the dope points to an overwhelming Arkansas victory, but the game is yet to be played. Comparative scores indicate the Hogs are at least 20 points better than the Frogs. Baylor scored a landslide on T. C. U. a few days ago, and the Porkers came right back and smothered Baylor. The only thing in favor of a T. C. U. victory is the element of pressure on the Hogs. If they are able to win the rest of their games, they have the championship in the bag.

A squad of 10 players, a manager, and Coach Leo Meyer left for Fayetteville at 11 o'clock last night. Meyer has indicated that he will start his regular line-up: Cowan, center; Walls and Roach, forwards; and Baugh and Saam, guards.

Clark Pajama Review Held

The Clark Hall "Pajama Review" was held last night in the undergraduate dormitory. It was a compulsory meeting of the dormitory boys and, to make it more informal, pajamas were worn. Entertainment was furnished by the Clark Hall amateurs.

Charles Graves, Paris Wheatley, Leo Crockett, Bobby Bass and Paul Ridings spent the week-end in McKinney, Texas.

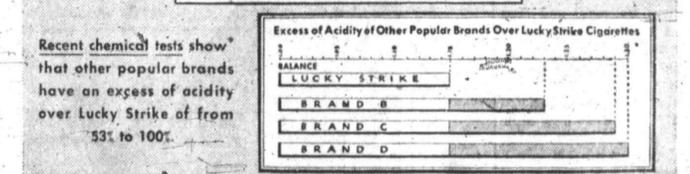

A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

Luckies are less acid. One of the chief contributions of the Research Department in the development of A LIGHT SMOKE is the private Lucky Strike process, "IT'S TOASTED." This preheating process at higher temperatures consists of four main stages, which involve carefully controlled temperature gradations. Quantities of undesirable constituents are removed. In effect, then, this method of preheating at higher temperatures constitutes a completion or fulfillment of the curing and aging processes.

Social Calendar Is Complete From Now Until "Dead Week"

BY ROSEMARY COLLYER

It isn't necessary to be a magician and look through a large crystal, as they do, to foresee future events on the T. C. U. social calendar. Just come with me to the dean of women's office sometime.

My last visit there revealed that all the clubs had finally submitted their calendars, and they have been passed upon by the social calendar committee.

The remainder of the present month only has one event scheduled, that of the Parabola banquet to be given Feb. 28. The arrangements for this have not been completed. Five major events are on the calendar for March. The first two are progressive dinners, to be given by Alpha Psi Omega and Los Hidalgos on March 5 and 12, respectively. The third event will take place March 14 and will be the annual junior class dance.

The next affair is one in which all will anticipate long before it actually comes, that of the W. A. A. Carnival to be given March 21. The plans are to have each class have a booth and sell things. This should not only be a lot of fun, as prizes will, no doubt, be offered for the most attractive booth, and this should also prove profitable financially. Carnivals are always picturesque and enjoyable affairs. This will give some of the hobby fanatics a chance to display their collections too. Enough for the present concerning this carnival, but you will hear much, much more of it in the future.

The fifth and last event is the senior class picnic, which will be given March 26 at some spot which has not as yet been selected.

April activities will commence on the 8th with the annual event on the campus, known as Journalism Day. This is the day on which the famous, or infamous Yellow Peril makes its appearance. The activities of the day are closed with a banquet for all journalism students in the University.

The Easter holidays begin April 9 and continue until the 12th. The following day Phi Sigma Iota will have a tea. On April 16 the Dramatic Club will have its annual banquet. The following day B. C. E. members will have their picnic.

The last two events for April are the Ampersand tea on the 19th and the Natural Science Society's banquet on the 25th. Eight activities are scheduled for May, before "Dead Week" thrusts itself upon the campus, and puts a stop to all social events.

On the first day of the month the Timothy Club will have an egg fry. On May 6 the Anglia Club will have a picnic. The following night is the annual Junior-Senior banquet. Juniors note: This is going to cost you, so start saving now or you will find yourselves definitely in a spot when May 7 rolls around.

On May 11 we have scheduled the Phi Sigma Iota picnic and on May 14 the Dana Press Club will also have a picnic.

The last three events on the social calendar are the home economics banquet May 15; a dinner dance on the following evening for the Men's Glee Club; and on the 18th of the month, the Ampersand initiation.

Then comes "Dead Week" and all the horrors that accompany it. On June 1 the commencement exercises will be held.

In listing the social events, I omitted mentioning the fact that three important recitals will be given, two in April and one in March.

Miss Mary Agnes Rowland will give her recital Tuesday, March 31. On Wednesday, April 22, there will be a joint recital in which Miss Helen Adams and Miss Francis Ballenger will be presented. Miss Ruth Connor will have her recital Tuesday, April 28.

11 New Dramatists Initiated Tuesday

Eleven new members were initiated into the Dramatic Club Tuesday evening, with a formal ceremony under the direction of Miss Ruth Connor, president of the club.

Miss Francis Ballenger and Miss Helen Adams were in charge of all other arrangements for the program. Miss Ballenger served refreshments to 35 members who attended.

New members who were initiated are: Misses Marjorie Young, Billie Stoker, Ruth Tilton, Hilda McKinley, Dorcas Richards, Flora Marshall, Maurine Rice, Frances Chance and Laura Kile, and Bill Scott and Hubert Smith.

Try-outs for "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde, were held on Wednesday evening. The cast will be announced later.

Parts have been distributed for "The Sponge," contest play of Alpha Psi Omega, and final try-outs will be held at 3 p. m. today.

Miss Thelma Rowland visited her parents in Morgan last week-end.

Ampersand Holds Pledge Service

Ampersand will hold pledge services for Miss Elizabeth Hardy and Miss Doris Perry at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the girls' lounge.

Plans for the semester include a dinner on March 1 for two Dallas Mortarboard members and a tea to be given in April for junior women. They plan to have as their guests the S. M. U. Mortarboard members.

At present the club is working on obtaining a bureau of organized information for scholarships available to T. C. U. women. Miss Ann Carver is the project chairman of the club.

Five New Members Join English Club

Five new members were initiated into Sigma Tau Delta Wednesday night in Brite Clubroom. They were Misses Catherine Donaldson, Ruth Daggett and Genevieve Papineau and Misses Sophia Dickson and R. D. Evans.

Creative night was observed by the club, members reading their original short stories, plays and poems.

Camp Fire Girls Hear Miss Mabel Major

Miss Mabel Major spoke on Texas folk lore Feb. 13 at the annual dinner of the Fort Worth Council of Camp Fire Girls. In her talk she linked early Texas life with the Camp Fire Girls' birthday project of hospitality to new ideas and the Texas Centennial.

Los Hidalgos Meeting To Be Thursday

Los Hidalgos will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Brite Club room. The program is being arranged by Miss Mary Frances Umbenhour, program chairman.

25 Attend Bryson Scavenger Hunt

Approximately 25 members attended the Scavenger Hunt sponsored by the Bryson Club last night. The hunt was started from the home of Miss Nancy Lee McConnell, 2341 Harrison Street.

A prize was awarded and refreshments were served.

Mr. Marsh to Speak To Music Club

W. J. Marsh will speak to members of the Music Club at 2 p. m. Monday in Room 806 of the Administration Building. His subject will be "The Vienna Choir Boys." This group will sing at the Paschal High School auditorium Monday night.

Garrison to Speak To "Y's" Monday

Dr. W. E. Garrison will be the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the "Y's" at 7 o'clock Monday night. The public is invited to attend.

The Y. W. C. A. camp to be held this week-end has been postponed because of unfavorable weather. A new date will be set soon, Miss Dorothy Jones, president, says.

Miss Sybil Lavy attended a costume ball at Texas A. & M. last Friday night.

"Students Just Tip Their Hats To God," Says Prof. Paul Weaver

By ELIZABETH HUSTER.

Fingering unopened letters, Prof. Paul Weaver, guest of the "Y's" last week, sat all Friday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. room while eager students questioned him about student problems.

A medium-sized man with a small, black mustache and eyes that are full of youth and enthusiasm, Prof. Weaver gives the appearance of being ready at all times to participate in sports or sit down to the most serious of discussions.

Of T. C. U. he said, "It is a very nice place. The students seem wide awake with apparently no local prejudices."

A teacher of philosophy at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., he is, of course, interested in universities throughout the world. When asked what he thought to be the greatest shortcoming of the American college, he said, "Students are getting specialized training, with emphasis on facts rather than ideals."

His remedy for this fault of the college of today is more religion in the curriculum of the university. He said that now religion is merely dragged in and students just "tip their hats to God."

He said that he was in favor of a certain amount of required work, because most college students are not capable of choosing their own courses. "I think, however," he said, "that the elective system should be elastic enough to allow students to have some hand in choosing their work."

Meliorists to Hear Minister

A speaker from the Texas Ministers' Institute will address the Meliorist Club at the meeting at 8 o'clock Sunday night in the University Christian Church. Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon will have charge of the musical program.

Miss Mary Louise Roark, senior, is in Cook Memorial Hospital, ill with pneumonia.

Students Must Clear "I" Grades by Feb. 29

All "I" grades must be removed by Feb. 29 or they will become "F's" according to Registrar S. W. Hutson.

Students who wish to drop a course must go to the registrar's office and get a red card, which is to be signed by the teacher and returned to the registrar's office.

Courses dropped within the first six weeks of the opening of the semester do not count either against or for the student in figuring grade points.

If a course is dropped after the first six weeks when the student is failing, a failing grade is recorded for the entire semester and it counts against the student's record.

If a course is dropped after the first six weeks when the student is failing, a failing grade is recorded for the entire semester and it counts against the student's record.

If the course is dropped after the first six weeks while the student is passing, it does not count against him.
