Thank You,
The Lecture Course,
Old Friends,
T. C. U.'s Good Name.

By Rebecca W. Smith
Head of English Department

(Editor's Note: This column is written each week by different students or faculty members who are asked to present their viewpoints on any subjects which they see fit.)

The T. C. U. Lecture Committee hereby presents an orchid to the students for the way they greeted Sigmond Spaeth on Valentine's Day. He is, of course, one of the cleverest and most effective speakers in America; but the audience that morning contributed much to his success. Dr. Spaeth thought so himself. "It was a delightful crowd to talk to," he said to me afterward. I agreed with him, and assured him that the T. C. U. students are the most attentive and responsive audience in Texas — if they like the speaker.

We have been experimenting this season with morning presentations in the hope that many students will come who cannot attend night lectures on the campus. Each lecture has been better attended than the last. The hearers have always been eager and interested. While a lot of students are not attending even yet, I believe I can promise that the good showing we have made this year guarantees another, and better, lecture series for 1936-37.

Speaking of audiences, I went to Denton last week to speak for the Graduate Club of Texas State Women's College (G. L. A.) at the chapel exercises. Twenty-five hundred girls in that big auditorium challenge any speaker. I had been on their chapel program before, but all the same I "did my home work" on my speech very carefully and then spent a couple of hours having my hair done. I knew that out of those 2500 girls at least 1,000 would pay as much attention to my hair as to what I said.

This is evidently the open season for speakers on college programs. At least, I've been gadding about lately to various campuses. Weekend before last I drove down to Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville to be the guest speaker at the annual Alpha Chi banquet and reunion. I was entertained in the charming home of Prof. Joe Clark and Mrs. Clark, who have many friends at T. C. U. He is the son of Randolph Clark, one of the founders of our university, and was a T. C. U. student at Waco.

He asked about "Colby" and "Mrs. Colby" and Pete Wright and Prof. Jones and other old friends. He holds me some good yarns about what Pete Wright and his crowd used to do in and around Waco. Prof. Clark is head of the history department at the college, and has a book coming off the press soon. I did not hear about his book from him, for he is the most modest of persons; but I learned unofficially that it will be a long-needed volume of Texas maps for use in schools and colleges.

All Huntsville is buzzing with Centennial celebration plans — staging pageants, restoring old houses, collecting manuscripts, and so on. Prof. Clark is the ringleader of the historical crowd, and seems to have been the inspiration of much of the interest in Sam Houston at the college. The Sam Houston home nestles at the foot of the steep hill on which the college is situated. The home is a substantial, old-fashioned Southern house, built for comfort and coolness, with an open passage-way between the wings. It was more than cool the day we went through the place; it was cold. Nevertheless, we explored it thoroughly. Take my advice and drive to Huntsville some time during 1936 to see the Sam Houston shrines and relics. Yes, the penitentiary is still at Huntsville. (Continued on Page Two)

Frosh Magazine Salesman Patronized by Nation's Notables

"I'm working my way through college," is an old gag, but still good, Vernon Cearley, freshman here, finds. He should know, for he is actually selling magazine subscriptions to pay his way through school, and doing very well, too.

He has the agency here for a number of the leading popular magazines. In salesmanship, he has a technique all his own. When asked what kind of a line he used, he pointed to his overalls and said, "That's what sells them."

Cearley is not a novice at the business. Last summer he traveled through 38 states as crew manager of six girl workers.

Sells Mrs. Roosevelt. Among the most distinguished persons to whom Cearley has sold subscriptions are Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Morgenthau. He gained admittance into Morgenthau residence by telling the gate man that he was the son of the governor of Texas, and that his father had been detained but would be there later.

Mrs. Morgenthau was amused when he told her how he had got by the gate man. She bought $19 worth of subscriptions. As he was about to Membership Open to Men Students Taking Interest in Political Affairs.

The recently-formed Progressive Democrats' Club of T. C. U. will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Room 205 for a round-table discussion of the principles and aims of the group.

"Any student who will take an active interest in local and state political affairs is eligible for membership," said Truitt Kennedy, member of the executive committee.

"The primary aim of this unit of the Progressive Democrats of Texas is to give an intelligent voice to the opinions of T. C. U. students."

Fourteen students have joined the organization up to the present date. They are: Byron Buckenridge, Harry Roberts, Warren Agee, Edwin Depew, Charles Weaver, Meyer Jacobson, Loftis Stroud, Weyman Robertson, Jones Bacus, J. B. Trimble, James Toler, Val Peacock, Richard Poll and Kennedy.

Originally to have been known as Young Democrats, the group changed its affiliation as a result of the split in the Texas organization. Only young men are eligible to join the Progressive Democrats, whereas many of the "old guard" are listed as Young Democrats.

As taken from the state constitution, the purpose of the Progressive Democrats is "to foster liberal legislation and to educate the people of our state in the affairs and ways of the modern world."

Two-thirds Copy For Horned Frog Sent to Engraver

Yearbook to Be Divided Into Various Small Sections.

Annual to Cost $5000

Paper Will Be of Different Colors in Two Sections of Book.

Approximately two-thirds of the copy for the Greater 1936 Horned Frog has been turned in to the engraver, reports Jones Bacus, editor.

"The class sections, popularity section, football, baseball, track, minor sports, faculty, administration, club section and a large portion of the snapshot section are included in the copy that has been sent in," Bacus said.

The book will not be divided into three main divisions as is the custom, but will be divided into various smaller sections.

Cover to be Outstanding. The cover is an outstanding feature of the Horned Frog this year and will be different from any other cover ever used on the publication.

In addition to the change in cover, the paper used will be of higher quality, and in two sections of the book will be of different color.

"The pictures of the buildings were made new for this year's book. They will be pictured in both base relief and photograph.

Football Section Increased. Another outstanding feature of the book will be the football section. Action pictures of every game but the night game in New Orleans will be used.

Twenty-two pages of snapshots have been turned in and several hundred more pictures will be taken between now and April 1. This section will feature different layouts on every two pages instead of using the same layout throughout.

Book to Have 446 Pictures. Four hundred and forty-six students had their pictures made and the class section has been increased from 32 to 48 pages. The layouts for the four classes will also vary.

The club section of the book has also been increased from 28 to approximately 35 pages.

Size Increased 20 Pages. The size of the book has been increased 20 pages and the cost from $4800 to $5000," Bacus said.

The exact date the book will be issued has not been set yet, but will be announced in a later issue of The Skiff.

All clubs are urged to turn in snapshots to be used on their page.

Various and Sundry Phases

"The average student has 71 hours a week to do as he pleases," is the statement made by the Ohio State Lantern in an editorial. According to a recent survey, the average A student attends classes 20 hours, sleeps 56 hours and spends one more hour a week eating than in class.

The editorial asks the average student what he does with his 71 hours a week? How much of this time is spent studying?

The use of spare time is also considered editorially in the Tulane Hullahaloo. The Hardin-Simmons Brand states that students do not study to learn, but that they "crum their brains for the grades that professors put on cards."

The Los Angeles Junior Collegian considers the phase of education in relationship to athletics. The paper believes that education must come before athletics and that athletics are over-stressed today.

"A degree is more likely to find a job for the bearer than an athletic record," the California paper says.

The University of Colorado paper advocates the buying of only very thin notebooks. Only when the student has taken a long look at things for himself, should he take a note or two, it says.

Ampersand Leads The Way

Establishing an information bureau on the loan funds and scholarships available to T. C. U. students is the project for the year which has been adopted by Ampersand, honor society for senior women. Not only will the members interview those who are in charge of the funds in an effort to gain information about the requirements, but also they plan to do everything possible to interest others in establishing scholarships, graduate fellowships, lecture foundations, etc.

The organization has found that for $1,000 a part scholarship can be established and that $3,000 is sufficient for a standard scholarship. A graduate fellowship can be endowed for $5,000 and a lecture foundation for $10,000.

Leadership such as Ampersand is evidencing was never more timely on the T. C. U. campus. If ever T. C. U. is to take steps forward, now is the time to do it when the eyes of the nation have been focused upon her. May Ampersand meet with success!

Again the Men's Glee Club Sets Forth Unaided

Wednesday night the Men's Glee Club will open its concert season with a program at the University Christian Church. For the fifth consecutive year it will be starting a season without any financial support from the University Administration.

The glee club every year makes a concert tour, advertising the University, entirely on its own initiative. Every year it is instrumental in bringing students to the University by virtue of the excellent, well-planned program which it always presents.

And still it receives no recognition from the University Administration and no appropriations are made for it, except in the form of a salary for its director—the very least that the University could contribute towards it.

This year the University was asked to buy uniform coats for the members of the club, an investment which would have meant much to the club and which would not have cost as much as the tuition for one year of one student which the club, on its tours, might enlist for the University.

It is hoped that the Administration will soon awake to realize the value of the Men's Glee Club and will take some action to reward the organization for its services to the alma mater.

Should It Be Fifty-fifty?

In the past it has been the custom in most of our colleges and universities for the faculty and administration to choose the courses for their students. Does this custom still hold good? Who should choose, students or faculty? Who pays the bills, students or parents? Who gets the results, students or the University? Who's the chump, students or faculty?

It is a big order to answer all of these questions and at the same time expect both students and faculty to agree. We think that the students know more about what they want to do when they graduate, but at the same time the faculty members should know more about what they should take to get the most benefit out of going to school.

Does the cost have anything to do with it? We answer, yes. Some students work and pay their own way while others do not have to do this. The working student is more likely to know what his future occupation will be than the one who doesn't work. However, they both need advice in choosing their training.

Both the student and the University will reap a benefit or receive a set-back because of what the student accomplishes when he gets out of school. He will either make good for himself and thereby further the cause of the University or he will not and the University in many cases will receive the blame.

In most cases the student is the one who loses. Maybe he has chosen his own course and when he gets out it is of no value to him. Maybe the same thing is true when faculty members have chosen for him. We think this question should be decided by the student but at the same time the student should be made to understand that the teacher can be of valuable assistance to him in his choosing.

Miller Takes Quinine, Shoos Off Flies While in Ethiopia

Did you hear Webb Miller, United Press correspondent, at Paschal High School Wednesday night? Well, if you didn't, you surely did miss a good lecture. Here's a few facts about Ethiopia and its people—according to Mr. Miller: The population may be four million and it may be fourteen million, no one knows. Some of the inhabitants of Ethiopia don't know that their country is at war with Italy. . . . that there is such a country as America and that there ever was a World War. . . . Ethiopians don't have matches to make fires with, but use sticks and stones. . . . there are only five roads in the empire. . . . no wheel vehicles. . . . all implements are the same as those used 1,000 years ago. . . . bottles and cans, what few they have, are highly valuable. . . . they have no educational system. . . . the people use 17 languages and 200 dialects. . . . in some parts of the country the temperature is as high as 160 degrees in the shade. . . . that the Ethiopian fly is smaller than the fly found in this country and delights in crawling up the victim's nostrils. . . . that when a man falls of exhaustion the vultures will pick his eyes out unless he turns over on his back and holds his hands over his head. . . . that Miller and the other correspondents had to take 10 grains of quinine per day while they were there. . . . That the Ethiopians eat raw meat and prefer it. . . . Marriage ceremonies are performed by the so-called mayor of the town and divorces can be obtained by either wife or husband simply saying that they are no longer married. . . . of course, the wife gets half the property and all the kids. . . . a rifle is as necessary to the Ethiopian as a pair of pants to the American. . . . it doesn't make any difference whether the rifle is a year or a hundred years old, whether it will shoot or not. . . . just so they have a rifle. . . . AND NOW FOR THE CAMPUS NEWS. . . . JACK TITTLE and HAROLD McCLURE have been infected with the "BLACK-EYE" and BETH CONNOR also has a dark, eplored peeper. . . . We don't understand why

Mr. Tittle's eyes have received this mistreatment but understand that BEULAH MAE MIRACLE has been accused of giving HAROLD his, and CONNOR got hers because she turned loose too soon. . . . They had salt in the sugar bowl at College Inn Thursday morning. . . . AND DON'T FORGET THE VICE VERSA TOMORROW NIGHT. . . . ville, but we did not go near it. We only meant to spend the week-end.

One more happening down at Sam Houston State Teachers College before I forget it. At the banquet that evening about fifty or sixty old students were back, among whom was a prominent athletic coach from the city of Houston, who happened to sit opposite me. He wanted to talk football, and I did not mind so long as he came from Houston and not from Dallas. During the conversation he told me this story:

"T. C. U. boys always show good spirit," he said. "A few years ago I was one of the minor officials at a track meet held at Rice where you had a fellow entered in the hundred. At the finish I called him in second place, but the ranking judge over-ruled me and gave him third. That boy took it. He didn't even look at me, let alone raise a fuss—just walked off without a word. That's being a good sport, I think."

He could not remember, by the way, the name of the T. C. U. athlete. Whoever the chap was, he did more for the Purple and White than if he had won the race. I wish he would happen to read this story.

Special Course Planned For Hay Fever Victims

A "hay fever course" may be offered at Oklahoma A. & M. College by G. A. Lackey, associate professor of education there.

Band Makes Trip To South Texas

Musicians Are on Good Will Tour for Fat Stock Show.

The Horned Frog Band is in South Texas today spreading good will for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. They will be in San Antonio tonight.

Twenty-three Frog musicians, under the direction of Don Gillis, left Fort Worth at 7:30 a. m. yesterday on this three-day tour of South Texas as guests of the Roundup Club. Yesterday they visited at Corsicana, Mexia, Bryan and intermediate points, stopping for the night at Houston where they were special guests at a banquet at the Rice Hotel.

Today the band men will be conducted on a special tour through Randolph Field, "West Point of the Air," at San Antonio.

The band will return to Fort Worth at 6:15 p. m. tomorrow, after visiting Austin, Temple and several other cities between San Antonio and Fort Worth.

The band men's complete itinerary includes 36 stops. This is the Roundup Club's fourth 1936 good will trip and is sponsored by the Fort Worth Rotary Club. F. L. Carmichael is general trip chairman.

Although the Horned Frog Band has presented a concert series for 10 consecutive years at the exposition, this is the first time they have been sent on a booster trip. They are also the largest musical unit ever to be sent on a good will trip.

Student's Pajamas, Robe Save Him From Arrest

Wearing pajamas and a robe came in handy to a University of Texas student when he was stopped, returning from the post office, by an officer.

"Well, buddy," the officer gasped between laughs, "you're driving a car exactly like the one we're looking for, but I don't suppose a thief would have the nerve to drive around town dressed like that." You'd better get home before that car gets you into more trouble."

OPEN FORUM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writers and are not necessarily the policy of The Skiff. Students are invited to write to the Open Forum. Dear Editor:
 May I take this opportunity to complain about one of the most irksome regulations which I have noted in T. C. U. during the past year, namely the rule against smoking in the halls of the Administration Building?

I don't know, there may be something sacred or hallowed about the halls of the building, but so far I haven't been able to see it. I don't understand why it should be any worse to smoke in the halls than to go just outside the doors of the building or merely to step into one of the rooms adjoining the halls.

It may be that the heads of the Administration are trying to keep the halls clean. If that is the case, they should center their attention on keeping the halls clean instead of trying to stop the smoking.

It is true that persons smoking cigarettes carelessly throw their stubs on the floor, but seldom does one see cigar butts or smoked out pipes strewn around the halls. If the Administration wants to keep the cigarette stubs off the floor, they should attack the situation from the angle of not throwing them on the floor rather than from the "no smoking" angle.

I think it absurd for an official to approach a student and say, "No smoking IN THE HALLS," when the regulation is based on such a flimsy principle as the one on which this one is based. —M. R.

Dear Editor:
 Why don't the Skiffs come out at a regular time each week? Many students do not have classes in the Administration Building from 11 to 12 o'clock on Friday morning, and they make a special trip there to get a copy, only to find that the paper has not made its appearance.

Of course, I do not know what makes this irregularity. Perhaps it is impossible for The Skiff to be issued at the same time every week. At least the students would appreciate an effort on the part of The Skiff management to issue the papers at a definite time each week. —M. E. G.

SHORTY SPORTS PLANTS

By DOT LUYSER

Due to a battle between the regular sports editor and the monster influenza, this column will be just a trifle "queer" this week. (This is not an apology—but an explanation that I am inexperienced along this line).

In the first place, this rambling is going to be strictly and solely feminine. Everyone on the T. C. U. campus is exceedingly well acquainted with all the great truths about the marvelous, sensational, etc., etc., football team and also knows the main facts about the basketball team. They are even beginning to be submitted to statements about the baseball and track teams. I wonder how many of these same T. C. U. followers even know that the girls on this campus play once in awhile.

The Women's Athletic Association is the largest organization on the campus, which is certainly indicative of the girls' interest in sports. In order to earn the W. A. A. awards, the members have to participate 30 hours in four different activities. Whew! Just think that approximately 100 girls belong to this organization and if they make 30 hours in four different sports, that total would be 12,000 hours.

Of course, there are several levels of exercise—for example, every afternoon, down in the girls' gymnasium, a passy can "hear" plink-plank, plink-plank for hours and hours. That, dear readers, is a ping-pong game in progress. Miss Virginia Schell is displaying a lot of talent in this game. She even told me confidentially the other day that she was pretty good. The only difficulty with this game is that, with the limited facilities, the girls have a hard time getting the equipment, because of the male element that gets their exercise by swatting a ping-pong ball.

Then, as the next step up from ping-pong we have tennis and that, according to figures, is THE favorite game of the T. C. U. co-eds. Any sunny afternoon, you may see girls out on the tennis courts swing racquets with the greatest of ease. The girls' P. T. classes are having a tennis tournament. They are playing a straight elimination tournament in both singles and doubles.

Swimming is also another heavy favorite. Miss Cora Chapel is one of the most earnest swimmers. She has determination, and some day we may hear of her as being an Olympic champion. Just to prove that the girls are not interested in being mediocre in anything, a special life-saving class is being organized. Just think of the lives that these girls will be able to save!

Mrs. Murphy has a class in horse-back riding and, believe me, she really puts you through the paces. (Not a pun!) Misses Mabel Jo Archer, Margaret Arthur, Shelley Blount, Sylvia Engler, Myrtle Evans, Flo Floore, Margus rite-Jordan, Almeta Privette, Maxine Whitten and Thelma Rowland are her victims.

Miss Josephine Walker is in a class all by herself. She is the champion "golferette," and is willing to take on all amateurs.

To appease the girls' primitive instincts, there is a basketball team. All that is necessary is to come out of the game with bruised elbows and knees, torn and mangled finger-nails, and streaming hair. A battle between the dormitory and town girls was staged in the gymnasium Wednesday night. The dormitory girls came out on the long end of a 20-to-14 score.

For the more cultural side, Miss Martha Cell Graves has two tap-dancing classes. From all that I can find out, she is a regular trainer. She makes them stretch and bend until the poor girls are stiff for two days. Miss Dorothy Lewis crowned the act by falling on her head one day. Great sport! Misses Hilda McKinley and Dorothy Farrington show great promise—they will probably be rivals of Pavlova (anyhow, you get the idea).

This is just a brief resume of the feminine athletics on this campus. Did you find out anything that you didn't know?

"T" Smoker Is Postponed

The "T" Association smoker has been postponed, Wilson Groseclose, president, has announced. The annual "T" initiation will be held a week or so after the letter men in basketball have been announced, if the present plans are followed. The theme of the initiation is still a mystery.

Frogs to Battle Aggies Saturday As Cellar Looms

Losers Will Probably Wind Up Season in Last Position.

Last Tilt Wednesday T. C. U. Loses Two to Leading Arkansas Razorbacks, One to Baylor.

After dropping three games this week, two to Arkansas and one to Baylor, T. C. U. will play A. & M. tomorrow night at College Station with the cellar looming for the losers.

Both teams are tied for the bottom, with one victory and eight losses. In all probability A. & M. will lose her other two games, to Texas and S. M. U., as will the Frogs to Rice and S. M. U.

The Frogs will meet the Owls in Houston Monday night and conclude the season with the Mustangs in Dallas Wednesday.

The Southwest championship will probably be decided in Fayetteville in the two-game series between Arkansas and Texas to be played tonight and tomorrow night. The Razorbacks need only one of the games to clinch the title.

The Purple cagers were swamped by the league-leaders in the first game of the series last Friday. The Hogs piled up 47 points to 15 for T. C. U. Ike Poole, Arkansas center, who was recently out with influenza, came back strong and led the scoring with 13 points. The Frogs got off form and missed many shots. Roach was high for the Frogs with five points.

T. C. U., playing better Saturday night, held the Hogs to a 40 to 29 victory. The Purple led at the start but was overtaken in the middle of the first half and trailed by two points at the half.

Arkansas, finding its range in the second half, began to draw steadily away. Poole was again high-point man, with 16 points.

The Baylor Bears, playing their last game of the season, defeated the Frogs 35 to 27 here Tuesday night. The game was hard-fought and closer than the score indicates. The lead changed hands several times in the course of the night.

Theo Alford, senior captain of the Bears, led the scoring with 13 points. Capt. Willie Walls was close behind him, with 12 counters.

Scientists Organize New "Last Man Club"

"The Idea Is," Explained Dr. Best, "That Survivor Write Story of Others' Deaths."

Toronto, Ont. (ACP)—A club, even more grisly than the famous Civil War veterans' "Lest Man" club; members of which met annually to drink a toast to their dead comrades, until but one was left, has been organized by a group of Canadian scientists.

In the distant future a medical paper will be published by an old scientist in which he will give the cause of the death of twenty-nine of his colleagues.

Dr. C. H. Best, Professor of Physiology in the University of Toronto, revealed the strange pact in the course of a recent speech.

Thirty research workers in the School of Hygiene have an annual physical examination. They examine each other and from each other they draw a sample of blood which is chemically analyzed.

"The idea is," explained Dr. Best, "that the survivor will write a paper on what caused the deaths of the others."

The Sophomore team, composed of Bull Rogers, George Dunlap, Bobby Bass, Elliot Phares and Don McLeland, gave the Seniors their first defeat of the year. Oklahoma Aggies Fear Glass Man In Chemistry Lab

A man made of glass haunts the chemistry department of the Oklahoma Aggies. A placard hanging above him says, "Meet Oscar."

His hands are made of white paper and are constantly held aloft, because, the rumors say, he is repenting his sins or some his father committed.

Oscar wears watch glass spectacles, a white porcelain evaporating dish on his head for a "helmet," and part of a rubber apron for a tie. His apparel is generally composed of adhesive tape, and pugilistic experiences are thought to be the cause of the cork nose replacing his class one.

Timid students fear Oscar will haunt their nights saying, "I am the spirit of chemistry tests."

Wogs Defeat Cubs 24-17 in Cage Tilt

Frosh Lose Game to N. T. A. C. in Arlington by Score of 44 to 40.

The Wogs defeated the Baylor Cubs 24 to 17 Tuesday night in the Basketball Gymnasium. Russell Hensch, tall Wog center, was the high-point man of the evening with 10 points. Hensch made good six out of six throws. Ki Aldrich also turned in a good game for the Wogs. Gerard led the Cubs with six points.

The N. T. A. C. cagers defeated the Wogs 44 to 40 last Saturday night in Arlington. Each team had a man removed for unnecessary roughness, and several players of both teams fouled out before the half-way mark had been reached. Brad Snodgrass was high point man of the game with 16 points. Gowan of the Aggies was second, with 12 points.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Henry, Jr. visited on the campus this week during the Texas Ministers' Convention.

Two prizes of $25 each will be awarded annually by the Fort Worth Press to students who do outstanding work in the department of journalism, Prof. J. Willard Ridings announced today.

"The exact terms of the awards have not yet been decided upon," Prof. Ridings said. "However, the first awards will be made for the present school year, and annually thereafter."

Seward R. Sheldon, editor of The Press, in announcing the establishment of the prizes, commented:

"It has long been the policy of the Scripps-Howard newspapers to lend every encouragement to college education for journalism. It is in line with this general policy of our organization that these prizes have been arranged."

Conditions of the awards will be formulated within a week or so, Prof. Ridings reports. Winners of the 1935-36 awards will be announced at the commencement exercises June 1.

LUCKIES—A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

*RESULTS VERIFIED BY INDEPENDENT CHEMICAL LABORATORIES AND RESEARCH GROUPS...

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes. They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Girls Shopping Around For Big Leap Year Event

BY ROSEMARY COLLYER

Don't be disgruntled and look so sad these days, gentlemen. The ladies are either shy or just shopping and taking their time. The Leap Year dance to be given tomorrow night is causing a lot of the boys on the campus to groan and say, "Why do they have to have these darn dances, anyway?" The reason for this crack is, almost without fail, because they have not been asked to attend.

You will just have to be patient, because you know how women are about taking their time. Perhaps you don't have what it takes. This causes me to wonder if the mates of this campus aren't a bit egotistical in thinking that they should be mobbed when something of this sort comes up. If you only knew how much trouble your girl friends go to when they have some special event for which they want to look particularly beautiful.

Just check up a little on the number of times you make cracks about how she looks, and you may be speaking through a two-day growth of beard and no tie whatsoever. It's just an idea.

If youse gals haven't already taken inventory as to your financial status, the hour is drawing very near, and it may be too late to think up a good excuse for asking for more dinero.

Speaking of finances, if you take said inventory and find that it stands very well indeed, then you might stretch it still further and send the big moment a garden or carnation. Have been just about to give up in "regret" over the way the biggest event of the year, meaning Leap Year, is just about to turn out a fizzle. Just remember that this is practically the chance of a lifetime, if I may be trite.

The old barn will not be so cold tomorrow night we hope. So let's come while the weather is taking a rest. Just one more injunction and that is—look before you leap, gals.

New York College Finds No Radicals

Charges College President With Lack of "Socially Imaginative Leadership."

New York, (ACP)—Charges that he lacked the qualities necessary for "socially imaginative leadership" made by a special committee of alumni were decried last week as "personal attacks" by "antagonistic groups" by Dr. Frederick B. Robinson, president of the College of the City of New York.

Twelve members of the special committee, appointed on Dec. 17, 1934, to investigate conditions at the college, signed the majority report, which held that there was conflict between Dr. Robinson and some members of the faculty and undergraduate body. Four members submitted a minority report upholding the president and one did not sign either. The alumni investigation was prompted by the frequency of undergraduate demonstrations and dealt in particular with campus radicalism and the relations between Dr. Robinson and the faculty.

College of City of New York was whitewashed on the charge of radicalism, the committee reporting that "to believe the college was a hot-bed of subversive radical agitation" was to defame "the college and the citizenry as well."

Crotty Succeeds In Guild Drama In Beverly Hills

"Local boy makes good" might well be applied to the case of Clarence Crotty, T. C. U. graduate who had one of the more important juvenile roles in "You Know These People," by Bobt. St. Clair, which opened Feb. 5 under the auspices of the Harlequin Studio Guild in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Crotty will be remembered for his various performances in the T. C. U. Dramatic Club. His most important role during that time was the one of Marquis in "The Minuet," contest play, presented in Lubbock in 1934. The play won state honors, and Crotty was given the individual acting honors for men in the contest.

The following year Crotty again placed for individual honors in "He Came Seeing," in the Alpine Play contest and played a successful role in the Little Theater's presentation of "Helena's Boys" in 1934. The same year Crotty was president of the Dramatic Club and directed many of the club's productions.

Last summer, Crotty studied in the Lakeshore Theatre, Westford, Mass. He won his entrance through a scholarship from T. C. U.

Ruth Campbell Got M. D. Idea Playing 'Doctor'

Miss Ruth Campbell's desire to be a doctor goes back to one day when she was nine years old and was playing with her playmates. As usual Ruth was the doctor. To make the play more real she gave each of the children five of some pills that she found in the house.

The storm of protest that followed from the indignant mothers only made Ruth decide that she would like nothing better than to be a doctor.

Her family always wanted her to come to T. C. U. Here she is taking a pre-med course. She will graduate next year. After that she plans to attend Tulane or Vanderbilt Medical School.

This doctor-to-be likes nothing better than fruit, and everyday she eats an apple. She simply can't remember names.

On sunny afternoons when she doesn't have a job, she is usually to be found on the tennis court.

She can't keep the key to her room in Jarvis and is continually locking her roommate, Miss Lois Atkinson, out.

The girls who live near her call her Dr. Campbell. She seems to take a great delight in waiting on an one that is ill.

I. B. Hale spent the week-end in Dallas.
