Views 'n Viewpoints

The Student's Interests. The Library. In Need of Books. Chapel and Excuses.

By W. A. Tunstall, Jr. Business Manager Senior Class

Editor's Note: This column is written each week by different students or faculty members who are asked to present their viewpoints on any subjects which they see fit.

What knowledge do you consider to be of the most worth? It usually follows that whatever talent one may have he will read information which will satisfy his individual interest.

College students can better justify their reading selections than can their friends, because they know their own interest. Since this fact is obviously true, we should review the readable material now on file in our library and evaluate the value to the different subject-departments in the University.

It would be foolish for anyone to attempt to place a definite interest value on every book, magazine and newspaper in the library. But it would be wise to have a selected committee to estimate the reading list for each department of the University.

It is not my purpose to criticize our library. It has done well considering the encompassing circumstances during the past few years. I believe only in constructive policies and call attention to those things which can be improved in order to make the value of each subject more profitable to the individual student.

In the field of political science, economics, and business administration the material is inadequate. The University is in dire need of more books, magazines and daily newspapers which will go along with information found in textbooks in the above courses.

There is no question but what some departments receive more selected material than do others. With regard to newspapers, we should have a daily paper which is representative of the Pacific Northwest region, also one representing the New England States and one representing South Atlantic States.

It is safe to say that the students of T. C. U. know more about Asia than they do of the Northern States, particularly the Pacific Northwest and Canada. Not because Asia is more important but because we have become too localized; which is not in accord with modern education.

Let's promote the library issue. There is no question but what Dr. McDiarmid's message in chapel last week gave a new conception of our chapel hour. He spoke with all sincerity, and the way in which the students reacted clearly shows that one chapel a week is not to be considered as a burden.

As I view the entire question, I do not believe the students really desire to do away with chapel but to have it serve as a medium to break the "grind" of class work.

It is interesting to recall to mind that when the band or some musical group is on the chapel program, there is always interest and harmony. Maybe it would be wise to divide the program for each month by having two programs with complete music, one with an educational speaker representing some field of activity of and apart from the University.

Another point to be given due consideration is that of absentee excuses from chapel. I believe whatever excuse the student may offer, if he is sincere in offering his excuse, there should be little red tape in satisfying the proper authorities. I think a student's word is equal to his bond, and if he feels that he is justified in making his excuse he should not be questioned.

After all, college people regard their opinion on the same basis as do any other group. Under a reformed program I am sure that we will be able to see a greater interest in the chapel hour. I think there is more to be received by continuing the chapel idea than to discard all-group associations.

Choral Speech Class Added to Curriculum

Purpose Is to Form "Speaking Choir"—Madame K. Kent-Barber to Teach.

A new course in choral speech training, taught by Madame K. Kent-Barber, graduate of the Speech Institute of London, will be offered in connection with the public speaking and music departments, Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon has announced.

The course is for the purpose of forming a speaking choir. A speaking choir should be able to move well, act well, speak with distinction and have the understanding of poetry which will enable them to take their part in any form of verse speaking, solo and vocal.

Classes are being formed now for those interested. The course will be offered in summer school with the idea of keeping it a regular part of the curriculum.

Madame Kent-Barber has studied speech training and choral speech under Miss Marjorie Gullen, London University, who is the founder of the Speech Institute. She is also a member of the Royal Society of Teachers of England.

"The course is of special interest to teachers, ministers and anyone who is before the public, and is a good background for singing," Mrs. Cahoon said.

A unique ailment has been found at Texas University. Miss Patricia McLeland is on the sick list after indulging in a half hour of chewing "tobacco" as she portrayed the rootling, tooting hill-billy wife in a play.

She gritted her "tobacco" around and around, and even, for the sake of the drama, dipped snuff.

Horace Horseface's Strange Dream—T. C. U. 1916

My name is Horace Horseface, and I had the darndest dream that anybody ever dreamt. I allus said I was born 20 years too soon, though.

I dreamt they were having a dance right here on the campus. Them fellars was havin' a good time, too. That was the keenest music I ever heard. Made a fellar want to jig.

I wondered why they wasn't more there. 'Course I guess they had good dances back where they lived and didn't figger it was such a treat to dance with them kids they saw every day in school.

They coulda gone downtown to one of them hotels and had a big time, but I was surprised anyhow, seein' as how everybody had such a good time—and for only 40 cents, too.

I guess no one but a fool would ever dream of havin' a dance right here on the campus anyhow, and with that keen music, and—aw, shucks—for 40 cents.

I'm gonna hafta quit eatin' so much before I go to bed. Looks like a fellar don't know when he is well off—dreamin' 'bout dances when he oughta be satisfied to get to sit in the parlor of Jarvis an hour on Saturday night. . . .

We wonder if T. C. U. students know when they are well off.

The Student Council has been trying to determine what has been the cause of the students' non-attendance of the campus dances. Students seem to enjoy the dances; they like the music; they say the price is reasonable enough; but the attendance at the dances is negligible.

If the present conditions continue, something is going to have to be done in order that the Student Council will not lose money. Students should come to the realization of what the dances mean to them before they lose them.

They Will Need Your Support

The student body officers for next year have been elected. Now is the time to start thinking about what will take place on the campus next year. If your candidate didn't get elected to office, don't hold it against his opponent. They were in the same race and one had to lose.

Be a sport. The majority of students wanted the other candidate. Lend your support and let's plan to make 1936-37 a great year in the history of Texas Christian University.

Can "It" Happen Here?

"Why doesn't The Skiff print something about this?"

Perhaps the student thinks that his club has not received due recognition for something that it has done. Maybe there is some situation that the student thinks should be brought to the attention of the student body.

Why doesn't the student write an Open Forum letter for The Skiff? Through the Open Forum The Skiff provides every student an opportunity to express his opinion on any subject. It is for the students' use, so use it.

The Skiff is your paper. It isn't possible for the journalism students to know about everything that students would like to see in The Skiff. It is not boasting to say that campus news is well covered by The Skiff staff. It is a fact.

The Open Forum is yours. Write a letter for it.

It Is Here! Use It

Sinclair Lewis' recent book, "It Can't Happen Here," has evoked much comment in college circles. The "it" is fascism, in which suppression, terrorism and emotional belief are placed in one leader, infallible and unyielding, who shall proceed to do the nation's thinking.

The Ohio State Latern says that many students "are ostensibly trying to fight communism and subverse activities, but are actually contributing more to a fascist dictatorship than any other single factor of which we know." Norman Thomas, in speaking to the Ohio State students, said that he believed "it" could happen and would happen if the nation continued to tolerate such incidents as the recent Florida floggings, which might have been the handiwork of Hitler or Mussolini.

With reference to the same question, The Daily Illini, published at the University of Illinois, is of the opinion that, although there are certain elements of fascism prevalent in the United States, Americans have too long been accustomed to freedom of speech and the press to give them up and say to one man, "We are tired of thinking for ourselves—we give you our country and our lives to rule so that we can rest."

Opinions differ throughout the United States, but the question is still, "Can't 'it' Happen Here?"

ALONG SHOW ROW

By RAYMOND MICHERO

We thought that Major Bowes' first roadshow, which played in Fort Worth some months ago, was good, but the new one which started at the Worth yesterday has it, as well as every other road show we've seen in the past few months, skinned a mile. It's really the tops for talent and good entertainment. This show occupies the spotlight on Show Row this week, along with the stage production of Ibsen's "Ghosts," which will play at the "aesthetic Thursday night." Ali Nazimova is starred in the stage play.

"Snowed Under," with George Brent, Glenda Farrell, Genevieve Tobin, Patricia Ellis and Frank McHugh, is the feature picture being shown in connection with the Bowes show. It will be followed Monday by "Petitecot Fever," with Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy. The mid-night show tomorrow night will be Shirley Temple in "Captain January."

With the Tivoli, on Magnolia Avenue, under the Interstate banner now, this string of theaters controls six local theaters. Zane Grey's "Wanderer of the Wasteland," with Larry "Buster" Crabbe and Gail Patrick, will open the week at the Tivoli tomorrow for one day only. Claudette Colbert and Fred McMurray in "The Bride Comes Home" will be Sunday's feature. It will be followed Tuesday by "Thunder in the Night," with Edmund Lowe and Karen Morley. Wednesday's feature, which will run through Friday, will be "A Tale of Two Cities," with Ronald Colman.

The long-awaited "Last Days of Pompeii," with Erston Foster and Basil Rathbone, is scheduled to start a four-day run at the Palace tomorrow. It will be followed Wednesday by "Two in the Dark," with Walter Abel and Margot Graham. "The Great Impersonation," with Edmund Lowe, will be Thursday's attraction. "Ceiling Zero," a thrilling air drama, with Pat O'Brien, James Cagney, Stuart Erwin and Barton MacLane, will open at the Majestic tomorrow or three days. It will be followed Tuesday by "Men of Iron," with Barton MacLane and Mary Astor. "Anything Goes," with Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman, Charlie Ruggles and Ida Lupino, will follow "Ghosts" on Friday.

Tomorrow's attraction at the Parkway will be "Magnificent Obsession," with Irene Dunn and Robert Taylor. "Personal Maid's Secret," with Margaret Lindsey and Warren Hull, will play a one-day stand Monday, to be followed Tuesday by "Whipsaw," with Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy. "Rose of the Rancho," with Gladys Swarthout and John Boles, will follow it on Thursday.

Sound Machine Makes Pure Notes, Chords Visible

Did you ever see a sound wave? Your reporter hasn't either, but he saw a moving picture of one the other day.

Dr. Newton Gaines recently purchased for the physics department a new cathode-ray oscillograph which makes sound waves visible.

A short time ago Dr. Gaines held a party in the University Church to show some of his friends how the thing worked. The church organ is operated by a synchronous motor which keeps it always in tune. Dr. Gaines connected the oscillograph and the organ and then after he had fiddled with a half dozen different plugs and dials, a green line appeared on the oscillograph screen. He then hit a note on the organ, and the green line became the moving picture of the sound wave produced. Dr. Gaines can picture any sound from the pure note to a major chord on this screen.

Speech Students Learn Technique From Wrestlers

Students enrolled in speech classes at Texas Tech are observing wrestling matches to study the technique. The class will study the quickness and co-ordination of movement of wrestlers. The professor says the speech students will obtain knowledge in actual wrestling technique which might be needed in many plays.

Thoughts In Verse

JUST NINETEEN
By Joe Frederick

It's not complaining, when the thoughts of the last bitter hour draw near
And the pale image of death takes
From us someone who is so dear.

They tell us death is but the call
From some far distant land
To warn that the day is done
And the night-cloak is at hand.

And from all round the universe
The earth, the stars, the sea
From the sun above
To things beneath must flee.

This may be true, we cannot say,
But one sure thing we know
That something died within us
Then we had to sit and watch her go.

Life is so essentially good
And she so fine and fair
That it's hard to explain why
We are here, and she is there.

We know, of course, that life
On earth must sometime end
And yet it truly hurts us deep
To know we've lost a friend.

The centuries are full of those
Who died in their ripe old age,
But their books of life
Had entries on every page.

But this, you understand, is
A kind of different scene,
Because her book must be closed
When she was just nineteen.

We are sure as our heads we bow
Her life was not spent in vain
And even though we suffer now
We are glad to bear the pain.

Of losing her to a fuller life,
A life most sweet, and clean—
Where she can begin all over again
At the age of just nineteen.

But now we taze from this sad scene
To think of days just passed
When friends came to pay
Their last respects to you and to me.

Shall we have lived a life
As sweet, and pure, and clean,
That friends will be as proud
Of us as we are of her,
At the age of just nineteen.

"SUITS" says fashion...

"of genuine PALM BEACH CLOTH"

we advise . . .
 "You must have a suit," says Fashion this year. And we insist you can't do better than Palm Beach. The fabric is summer's favorite—cool and wrinkle-resistant. And the tailoring is the smart mannish kind that makes every woman appear more feminine.

PRIDE'S RATTLE

By WALTER PRIDEMORE

The Frogs got off to a good start in the baseball race anyway. However, the Mustangs are not doped to finish very high in the final standing and the twin victories may mean that T. C. U. is still getting revenge on her old Dallas rivals for a certain day last November.

Let's hope that baseball won't be like the last basketball season. If you remember, T. C. U. beat S. M. U. in the opener and didn't win another game until the final, also with the Mustangs.

The Frogs will get their real test in the present series with the Texas Longhorns. With defeats over Galveston, Houston, and Tulsa, all Texas League teams, the Steers are definitely the team to beat in this league. Norman Branch, who beat several of the Texas League clubs, shut out Rice in the Texas' first conference game 5 to 0, allowing only six hits and getting 15 strikeouts. One good pitcher like that means a lot to a college club, where only two games are played a week.

The way the Frogs hit the horsehide in last week's games brought new hope to the fans, even though neither Gilker or Finley had too much on the ball. Only one man failed to collect at least one hit in each game. Most of the Frogs got more, and many were for extra bases. T. C. U. got a total of 27 hits, including three home runs, two triples and seven doubles. That makes nearly half of the knocks extra-base blows.

Capt. Jimmy Lawrence is one of the most improved hitters on the team. Last year he hit about .120 for the season. In the Mustang games he hit four singles and two doubles out of 11 times at bat for a .545 average.

Walter Roach is proving to be a valuable cog in the Purple machine. He is sort of utility man, playing third base when Baugh pitches and left field when Sam isn't doing the mound work. He has been taking care of both posts like a veteran and has been getting in a little slick-work too. He hit four singles out of eight chances in the S. M. U. games for a .500 average.

It seems that T. C. U.-S. M. U. and T. C. U.-Rice games brought publicity to more than the schools themselves. They brought Byrum Saam to light as one of the foremost sports announcers of the Nation. His work over a national hookup in the two games have brought him a contract from the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Byrum is going to Minneapolis to be associated with station WCCO there. He will finish his college work at the University of Minnesota. It was just four years ago that Byrum began broadcasting high school games over the newly installed loud-speaker system. Now he'll tell us about the best college teams in the Nation over the nationwide hookup.

And speaking of football, probably no choice would have suited Fort Worth in general and T. C. U. in particular as well as Francis Schmidt for coach of one of the all-star high school teams which will play here in August in connection with the Centennial.

Schmitt will be glad to get back to see some of his old friends on the hill, too. His last words before he left almost were, "I sure wish I could take old Jim and Les and Sam along with me." He meant of course Jimmy Lawrence, Sam Baugh, then a freshman, and Darrell Lester.

Frogs Lose 9-1 In First Battle With Longhorns

Purple to Meet Steers in Final Contest of Series Today.

Baugh Will Pitch

T. C. U. Wins Both Tilts With S. M. U., First 9-8, Second 16-12.

T. C. U.'s baseballers were defeated 9 to 1 yesterday afternoon by Uncle Billy Ditch's Texas University nine. The Horned Frogs were able to make only three hits off Norman Branch, ace Steer hurler, while the Longhorns were garnering 12 hits off Bill Hudson.

The Frogs' lone tally of the game came in the ninth inning as the result of a wild throw. Poor support, which resulted in four errors for the Frogs in the official scoring, was partly responsible for their defeat. The score by innings was as follows:

T. C. U. 000 000 001 1 2 4 Texas 201 011 000 9 12 2 Batteries—Hudson and Lawrence; Branch and Fitzsimmons.

The game tentatively scheduled with Wesley College of Greenville for Monday has been cancelled, according to Wolf.

In the first game with S. M. U. last week, T. C. U. eked out a 9-8 victory in the ninth inning when Sandy Fry, Mustang third sacker, muffed Baugh's grounder after two were out. Previously Manton had singled, Lawrence sacrificed him to second and Meyer had drawn a goose egg.

Manton, Baugh Score in Ninth. Fry then booted Baugh's drive and Manton scored, tying the score at 8-8. Linne then doubled, ending the game as Baugh scored.

T. C. U. started the scoring in the opening round with one run on Meyer's triple. The Mustangs passed by in the third frame, making two tallies off a, error, a hit batter, and a triple by Burt. They chalked up two more in the fourth on an error, a walk and singles by Stapp and Phillips. They were blanked in the fifth, but came back to make one run in each of the next four innings.

Frogs Make 2 Runs in Fourth. A double b. Lawrence and singles by Meyer and Baugh accounted for two Frog runs in the fourth. Singles by Roach, Lawrence and Meyer and a walk for Manton gave the Purple two more in the seventh.

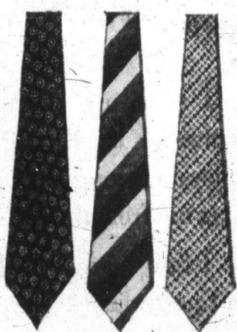

Another pair tied the game up in the eighth when Linne drove out a three-bagger and Walls followed with a homer. S. M. U. again grabbed the lead in the ninth by putting over a counter on two singles. The Frogs took advantage of Fry's error in their half to end the game.

Hudson Allows 13 Hits. Gilker and Hudson lasted all the way on the mound despite the fact that the Pony chunker gave up 12 safeties and Hudson allowed 13 bingles.

The hitters on both clubs continued to fatten their averages in the second game, won by the Frogs 16 to 12. Finley gave up 16 hits to 13 for Baugh.

Bear Wolf's men led all the way, with four runs in the first, seven in the second and five in the seventh. S. M. U. scattered her tallies, but kept plugging away, making three each in the third and fifth, two in the sixth and four in the eighth.

Four circuit blows were chalked up in the game. Burt and Fry collected for the Mustangs while Meyer and Montgomery did the heavy hitting for the Frogs.

Princeton Lad Told Not to Be Prof. In Interview with Late Huey Long

Two excellent pieces of journalism got into the college press last week. One was an interview by Samuel Mintz, University of Wisconsin, with the late Huey Long and the other was an accidental interview with a boy just off a chain gang, by a reporter for the Princeton paper.

Mintz' story gave an idea of Long's tremendous bustling, hectic, overflowing energy. Excerpt: A door flew open, Huey's head popped out. A "come on in, boy!" went rumbling down the hall. "I'm a college student." "I got no further." "I know all about colleges. I run one." "What do you think should be taught in college?" "Arithmetic. That's all. Plain and simple arithmetic. You've got to show the boys that there's something wrong in nine hundred and ninety-nine haws being fed on one portion of hawg feed and one hawg being fed on nine hundred and ninety-nine portions of hawg feed. "What you've got to do boy is read." He jumped out of his chair, almost overturning his desk. He elbowed a very pretty secretary out of the way. "I'll give you some real literature. Ever hear about the Share the Wealth idea?" Suddenly he left me. He ran into an adjoining room. I turned to go. "Where are you going?" Mr. Long was back. "Did you say you were a college student?" "Well, listen to me: Don't you grow into a college professor and become a brain-truster. Do you hear?"

The Princetonian interview demonstrated that slavedriving conditions still exist in the southern chain gang. "All a fellow had to do, was even look cook-eyed at a guard and he'd get the lash," said the interviewee. "If you've ever had a lash with pieces of iron on the end come down on your back you'll know how it feels." Shackles, he said, were clamped on his legs and the rivets smashed with an iron hammer.

College Paper Suggests Songs With a Purpose

A college paper has made the following suggestions for these songs: "A Little Bit Independent," for the new Philippine republic. "The Broken Record," for Joe Louis. "I'm Living in a Great Big Way," for Kate Smith. "Chasing Shadows," for the Italian soldiers on the Ethiopian front. And the following drama for examinations: Before the exam, "I wish I were Aladdin," during the exam, "Where Am I?"; after the exam, "Out in the Cold Again."

The dress has a cowl neckline in the front and is cut to the waistline in the back. The low décolletage is softened by narrow pleating of pink net. Blue and pink flowers adorn the shoulders. The dress is semi-princess in line but falls in a mass of pink net godets. Miss Atkinson will wear blue sandals and will carry a blue dance handkerchief and pink net evening bag.

She will be escorted by R. L. Huckabee, a student at A. & M. Miss Atkinson will also attend the Corps Dance at College Station Saturday night. Sunday morning she will be the guest of Miss Elizabeth Sayles, in Caldwell, and will return Sunday evening.
