School of Music to sell off pre-Steinway pianos at special August event

LOOKING FOR A GOOD DEAL ON A used piano? TCU alumni, faculty and staff will have a unique opportunity to buy a fine instrument at a special price when a large group of pianos formerly used by the School of Music goes up for sale next month.

Everyone on campus will soon receive a letter from Ken Raessler, director of the School of Music, explaining the details.

Steinway Hall of Dallas has organized the event to sell more than 40 grand and console pianos which were traded in when TCU became an "All Steinway School" earlier this year. Those pianos, plus a number of others brought over from Dallas, will be displayed throughout Ed Landreth Hall and the Walsh Center for Performing Arts. Name brands include Boston, Yamaha, Baldwin, Everett, Samick and more.

Larry McCain from Steinway notes that alums, faculty and staff will be allowed first choice of the available stock Thursday through Saturday, Aug. 5-7. Financing and immediate delivery will be available.

A phone extension will be activated in late July for interested faculty and staff to schedule a private appointment during the preview period. A Steinway representative will help match the individual's needs and budget to a suitable piano.

The sale will open to the public Sunday, Aug. 8. ♦

ID cards in living color: Plan to get yours soon

THERE'S A NEW, IMPROVED COLORIZED PEOPLESOFT version of the TCU ID card that identifies faculty, staff and students. That means it won't be long before your old black-and-white version is obsolete.

Emily Burgwyn (student affairs information services) urges faculty and staff to bring their old card to Student Center, Rm. 221 and be photographed for the new ID. She also suggests doing this before the end of July to avoid the student rush in August. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Besides the color photograph, the new cards will show an assigned PeopleSoft ID number instead of the individual's Social Security number.

For more information, call ext. 7856. ♦

Sadler roof should be done by opening of school

WORK BEGINS TODAY ON SADLER Hall's roof, a project that will extend its life for another 20 years. The clay tile will be taken up and new decking and felt installed before the tile is put back in place. Buck Fielding (physical plant) notes the summer rains have delayed all the roofing projects on campus, however, crews are aiming at a mid-August deadline for the Sadler job.

New dormers, copper guttering and downspouts are also part of the overhaul. ♦

THE TCU PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE, directed by Nick Petrella (music) will perform Aug. 1 at the Verbier Festival and Academy in Verbier, Switzerland. Although many world-class musicians have performed there, the TCU group of five students is the first percussion ensemble to be invited, according to Nick.
