The presentations were made to Bonnie Blackwell (English) and Richard Galvin (philosophy) during the Honors Convocation last Thursday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The award is significant because the selection comes from students in the Honors Program.

Jesus Christ Superstar at Hays Theater next week

TCU Theatre has assembled a 31-member cast for the upcoming production of Jesus Christ Superstar, directed by Be Boyd.

Performances are set for 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 26 through Saturday, April 29, and at 2 p.m. April 29-30. Admission is free to faculty, staff and students with a TCU ID. Tickets for the general public are $5 for adults, $3 for seniors and children.

The Andrew Lloyd Webber/Tim Rice rock opera first opened in London in 1970 and went to Broadway a year later. It has been hailed by critics, while also criticized and even banned in some places for being blasphemous and anti-Christian.

It is a vernacular version of Christ's Passion, as seen through the eyes of Judas, His betrayer. The modern fable, set to music, tells the story of a declining star who was initially idolized then torn apart by his fickle fans.

Phone the box office at ext. 5770 to make reservations. ♦

KUDOS

Organizers of Komen Race for the Cure have nothing but praise for the way the TCU community handled details of the on-campus event Saturday, April 8. The annual fundraiser is usually held downtown but tornado damage prompted the decision to move it to Amon Carter Stadium with just five days' notice.

Race chairman was Rozanne Rosenthal who chartered the Tarrant County affiliate of The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation in 1992. Mrs. Rosenthal and her husband Billy want to let those involved from TCU know how grateful and appreciative they are, both for the quick response and wonderful cooperation they received here. "All I had to do was say I needed a pair of scissors and one would magically appear," Mrs. Rosenthal remarked.

A record 14,000 people, many of whom were breast cancer survivors, were signed up for the race which raised more than $750,000 for breast cancer research and education.
