SEPTEMBER 29, 2008

Honors Program will host Jeb Bush and Bill Bradley at Fogelson lecture Oct. 14

FORMERREPUBLICANGOVERNOROFFLORIDA Jeb Bush and former Democratic Senator Bill Bradley of New Jersey will be the featured speakers at this year's Fogelson Honors Forum at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14 in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The title of their presentation is "Red State + Blue State = Purple Politics."

The lecture event is free and open to the public although seat reservations are necessary. For tickets, go to www.hon.tcu.edu. For more information, call ext. 4862.

Jeb Bush was elected the 43rd governor of Florida in 1998 and served until January 2007. A graduate of the University of Texas, he moved to Florida in 1981 and was a partner in a large commercial real estate company before beginning his career in public service as his state's secretary of commerce. He is the son of former President George H.W. Bush and Barbara Bush.

Bill Bradley has been on the national stage for more than four decades, dating back to an Olympic gold medal win in basketball at the 1964 games in Tokyo. He was a three-time All-American basketball player at Princeton University where he was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University. During the 10 years Bradley played professional basketball with the New York Knicks, the team won two NBA championships. He was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1982. He has written six books, taught as a visiting professor at Stanford and Notre Dame and has a show on Sirius Statellite Radio.

The Fogelson Honors Forum, now in its 11th year, is made possible by a $1 million gift from the estates of E. E. "Buddy" Fogelson and his wife, the actress Greer Garson. A successful Texas oilman and rancher, Buddy Fogelson attended TCU in 1919 and 1920. Previous lecturers in this series have included CNN medical correspondent Dr. Sanjay Gupta, economist/actor Ben Stein, political insiders James Carville and Mary Matalin, statesman George Mitchell, historians David McCullough and Doris Kearns Goodwin.

The TCU Honors Program, with admission by invitation, offers a challenging interdisciplinary curriculum in a wide variety of classes, as well as opportunities for traditional and experiential learning and co-curricular activities. For the first time this year, a "Frog Camp" for incoming honors students was held in London, England. It was the first international freshman orientation in the history of the University. ♦

Afterwards, guests can enjoy food and beverages during a "Pets and Paws Social Hour." Any donations and proceeds benefit Cowtown Loves Animal Shelter Pets www.cowtownpets.com.

For more information, call ext. 7830. ♦

Ride Share coming

HUMANRESOURCESANDTECHNOLOGY Resources have partnered on a joint project that will allow those faculty and staff wanting to car pool to contact each other and make arrangements to do so.

This new approach to communication will function much like an online community, but will be housed in a software product called SharePoint. TCU employees will be asked to identify their zip codes in the subject of their online entry as a means of making contact with another staff person living nearby. This new service will be available to everyone by the end of September.

You will know the software is up and running and ready for you when you receive an e-mail notifying you that Ride Share is open for business. Watch for your e-mail notification. For questions, contact Travis Reynolds at ext. 7034 or t.a.reynolds@tcu.edu. ♦

TCU Schieffer School appoints director of internships

MARY DULLE, APR, FELLOW PRSA, HAS BEEN appointed director of internships for the TCU Schieffer School of Journalism. Dulle will work with students and corporations locally and nationally to find opportunities to enhance the learning experience while providing value to the companies.

"We're delighted to have someone with Mary's combination of teaching and professional experience," said John Tisdale, interim director of the Schieffer School. "She'll bring the internship program up to the level of excellence we expect in the Schieffer School."

Dulle has served as an adjunct instructor in public relations at TCU since 1998. She retired from Alcon Laboratories as director of public relations in 2005. During her career, she also served in public relations capacities at American Airlines, PR/Texas and the Fort Worth Independent School District. She holds a B.A. degree from the University of Dallas and a M.A. degree from the University of North Texas.

An accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America, Dulle was elected to the College of Fellows in 2002. She is a past president of the Fort Worth PRSA chapter and currently serves as student liaison. She has also served as president of the Fort Worth chapter of the International Association of Business Communicators and of the Berkeley Place Neighborhood Association. She is a member of the Fort Worth chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists and has served on multiple boards.

The Schieffer School internship program is available to students from all majors including: Strategic Communications, News-Editorial and Broadcast Journalism. Academic credit is available for those who qualify. For more information, contact Mary Dulle at m.dulle@tcu.edu. ♦

TCU welcomes Texas Ballet Theater

TCU's School for Classical & Contemporary Dance is pleased to host Texas Ballet Theater in an open rehearsal on Wednesday, October 8, 2008 in the Studio B Theater of TCU's Dance Building located at 3000 S. University Drive in Fort Worth.

The ballet company will begin the day with company class followed by a rehearsal of the repertoire from their upcoming Mozart's Requiem program at the Bass Hall on October 17-19, 2008.

Observers are welcome throughout the day: 9:15am through 2:00pm. Come for a portion or stay the whole day. Free and open to the public. Call 817-257-7615 for additional information. ♦
