Vol. IV                      MAY-JUNE                      Nos. 5 and 6

WORK on the new stadium is progressing rapidly and all indications point to the successful completion of this great enterprise on September 15, when, according to the contract, the completed job is to be turned over by the contractors. The total cost of the stadium proper is about $335,000, with an additional $15,000 to be expended for fences and approaches. The seating capacity of the first units will be 19,200, with provision for temporary seating to care for an additional 10,000 if necessary. In considering the cost of this work, it should be remembered that excavating and grading have been done and foundations and footings laid for the full capacity of the bowl, which will be 60,000. The stadium faces 38 degrees west of north, which seems to be the ideal arrangement in Texas for the playing field.

THE cover pages of The Interpreter for this issue carry an airplane view of the crowd attending the T. C. U.-S. M. U. football game on the Saturday after Thanksgiving Day last fall. This picture is one that appeared in the Horned Frog, the T. C. U. annual, which was put in the hands of the students about June 1. As the picture is now available for wider distribution, the present use is being made of it, despite the fact that it does not carry with it seasonal appropriateness. The view presented is of the present Clark Field, showing the steel stands erected in 1924. The crowd attending this game, by far the largest ever to view an athletic contest at T. C. U., was variously estimated at from 22,000 to 25,000. The field shown has witnessed many stirring football games. The first play from scrimmage on this field resulted in a long run by Homer Adams for a touchdown; the last game played on this field brought a conference championship to T. C. U. In all, thirty-five games have been played on this field with the notable record of twenty-six victories, seven defeats and two games tied. With the football season of 1930-31, the scene will shift to the magnificent new stadium on the extreme western portion of the college grounds. May the record to be made there compare favorably with the record made on historic Clark Field during 1924-1929.

A MOST noteworthy item in the record of the University's development in the last decade is the increase in the number of professors on the faculty holding the Ph. D. degree. In 1920-21, Professor Clinton Lockhart, who received the doctorate from Yale University in 1894, was the only man on the faculty with that degree. For 1930-31, the catalogue will show that nineteen teachers—eighteen men and one woman—are in possession of the doctor's degree. In addition, nine other members of the T. C. U. group of teachers are pursuing postgraduate studies leading to the doctorate. Professors Scherer and Leftwich are far along in their candidacies; Professor Pickerill and Associate Professor Rebecca W. Smith have leaves of absence for 1930-31 to continue study at the University of Chicago; Assistant Professor Paul Baker has much of his graduate work behind him; Chas. B. Mohle is hard at work at Yale University; Graham Estes goes to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for further study; J. W. Ridings has completed a considerable part of his required work in journalism; E. S. Redford is at present in Harvard advancing his candidacy for the doctorate. This record of the University's appreciation of the worth of postgraduate study for teachers has made it possible to secure admission in the various standardizing agencies in the educational field. Withal, there is not the least indication of any tendency to minimize the value to the institution of those proven teachers of experience, who without the doctor's degree have established themselves in their teaching positions. The thing most to be desired at any educational institution is good teaching. It is not going too far to say that Texas Christian University has a greater abundance of that commodity—good teaching—than ever before in its history.

PATRICK HENRY, Ex-'17

A CONCERTED effort is under way to complete the building of the new University Christian Church. The leadership of this movement is in the hands of Patrick Henry, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian Church of Wichita Falls, who has come forward with a most disinterested and enthusiastic plan of campaign, which commended itself at once to the officers of the University Church. In brief, Mr. Henry proposes to give the months of June, July and August to an intensive campaign to raise $30,000; $25,000 from the Sunday Schools of the Christian Churches in Texas in five-year pledges on a basis of ten cents a member each year, and the remaining $5,000 from parents of former and prospective students with whom Mr. Henry proposes to get in touch. President E. M. Waits is leading in an effort to secure $5,000 from friends of the University. Dean Colby D. Hall is working with a committee from the Board of Trustees, composed of Dan D. Rogers, M. E. Daniels, and L. D. Anderson, in an effort to secure $10,000 from friends and former students. Five thousand dollars is to be raised in additional pledges from residents of the T. C. U. Hill, who, as is generally known, have already subscribed most generously to this building fund. Thus a grand total of $50,000 is the goal for this spirited summer campaign. It is agreed that this effort, when successfully completed, will insure the prompt erection of a magnificent house of worship adjoining the campus, of which the foundation is already laid and paid for. Mr. Patrick Henry is most favorably known to Texas. His acquaintance among the preachers and church workers of Texas is very extensive. No better leader for this campaign could be secured. Readers of this editorial are invited to join in this supreme effort to give Texas Christian University what it greatly needs—a temple of work and worship in the service of the Lord. When Mr. Henry reaches anyone of our readers in his solicitations, let the response be whole-hearted and generous. Above all, let it be prompt and immediate in token of the giver's endorsement of religious education as the heart and soul of any worthy educational program.

A NOTEWORTHY record has been made by recent graduates of the University in the matter of securing fellowships in other Universities for advanced study. Henry L. Shepherd, Jr., '27, has a Proctor Fellowship at Princeton University for 1930-31. His plans for the summer are outlined in a letter to the editor: "This summer I am going to Belgium to spend most of the vacation in Bruges, the 'Venice of the North.' While there I will study French and work on my thesis, which is to be a study of the stabilization of the Belgian monetary system after the post-war inflation." With the record made at Princeton by Alexander, Chambers, Smiser, Shepherd et al before them, "the dignitaries in this academy (Princeton—Editor) have nothing to complain about in regard to the T. C. U. products thus far,"—to quote from one of these irrepressible youths. As detailed in the Class Notes in this issue, Jerome Smiser is in possession for next year of one of the first two Storrow Fellowships at Princeton for advanced study in geology. Karl E. Ashburn returns to T. C. U. in September from Duke University with his doctorate to become an instructor in economics, having had a fellowship while at Duke. Horace Bacus, who received the A. M. degree from T. C. U. in June, has been awarded a $1,500 scholarship at the American University, Washington, D. C., for 1930-31. Mention is made of these honors to correct the loose impression, which so often prevails, that distinction in athletic contests is regarded as the ne plus ultra of collegiate attainments. We very properly honor our athletes—Grubbs, Leland, Brumbelow, Wallin, Walker. The highest praise, however, goes to the young scholar,—Shepherd, Smiser, Bacus, Chambers, Alexander, Scott, Moreman, Light and many more,—to whom is assigned the task of representing T. C. U. in the scholarly world. When this representation is well done, as has been the case with those mentioned, the University is proud to recognize a debt of gratitude here.

Mrs. Dura Brokaw Cockrell, wife of President E. R. Cockrell of William Woods College, Fulton, Mo., is the author of a new book, "Introduction to Art," which is just off the press. The chapter heads of Mrs. Cockrell's book convey her thorough knowledge of art—from the age of hieroglyphics to this day of modernism.

Longview Notes

A REPRESENTATIVE of T. C. U. visited Longview, Texas, in April, finding there an extensive T. C. U. colony. Sidney Latham, '28, is principal of the Campus Ward School, and is exceedingly popular with the good folk of his native city. He has it in mind to attempt some sort of an organization of former students of T. C. U. in Longview. He has kindly supplied us with a list of those who have attended T. C. U. These are the ex-students of T. C. U. in and around Longview: Mrs. Joe Laird (Amanda Cunyus) 1885-86; Lou Cunyus Patterson, 1885-86; Mrs. A. S. Latham (Annie Lea Holloway), 1897-98; J. H. McHaney, 1897-98; E. A. Morgan, 1900; W. C. Hurst, 1901; A. E. Morgan, 1902-04; Mrs. E. A. Morgan (Vallie McHaney), 1906; Mrs. W. C. Hurst (Esther Leak), 1906; Mrs. T. L. Prothro (Ethel Kinard, 1908; Mrs. T. W. Smiley (Georgia Prothro), 1910; Mrs. T. C. Denton (Juddie Holloway), 1912; Mrs. Aubrey Weeks (Daisy Lingle), 1916; James R. Wright, 1916-19; Mrs. James R. Wright (Bonnie Eddleman), 1917-20; Edward Livsey, 1918-22; Mack Cunyus, 1919; Robert Melton, 1920; Sidney Latham, 1924-28; Lowell Holloway, 1925; Ruth Sparkman, 1928; Jack Williams, 1928; Frances Morgan, Julia Merle Morgan and Mae Beth McHaney are the present-day representatives from Longview in the T. C. U. student body.

Students who came to T. C. U. from Longview but who have removed to other cities are as follows: Jeff Watson, 1908, Memphis, Texas; T. J. Dean, Jr., A. B., 1913, Jack-sonville, Texas; Mrs. Fred Bramlette (Grace Jones), A. B., 1919, Dallas, Texas; Bettie Sue Blackburn, '17-'19, Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Sam Gann (Haden Latham), A. B., 1927, Fort Worth; Mrs. Albert Latham, A. B., 1928, Dallas; Albert Latham, Dallas; Charlie Oden, Amarillo; Elma Oden, Mobile, Alabama; H. H. Watson, Dallas; Crawford Morgan, Houston; Charley Morgan, Jefferson, Texas; Mrs. W. C. Jones (Emily Belle Utzman), Dallas; Claude Williams, Los Angeles; Lyman Harden, Waco. Several ex-students from Longview have passed away. Of these, the names of Tommie Buchanan, Pascal Prothro, Will Poe, Ida Mae Blalock have been submitted to us. Will Poe was the first student to go from Longview to T. C. U.

What the Professors Are Doing

J. A. GLAZE

Dr. J. A. Glaze, head of the department of psychology, is developing quite an interest in mental testing among his students. He and his students in psychology have given the Otis Group Intelligence Tests to the pupils of the Alice Carlson School in Fort Worth. They have also given the Binet Tests of Intelligence to individual children. Twenty-five children in the kindergarten of the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary have also been given tests. Practical work of this kind has done much to stimulate interest in the psychological department.

MRS. HELEN F. CAHOON

Professor Claude Sammis returned with his T. C. U. band from the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene, Texas, May 29-31, in proud possession of a magnificent trophy—a silver loving cup, awarded by Herbert Clark, the famous cornetist, who acted as judge and who gave the T. C. U. band the first place in the University class.

C. H. ROBERTS

Professor Charles H. Roberts and his daughter, Carol Jim Roberts, are enjoying an auto tour of considerable dimensions. Their itinerary will carry them to New Orleans, Atlanta, the Carolinas, Washington, New York, Boston and through Maine to Quebec. A somewhat similar trip last summer resulted in so much enjoyment that the present longer tour was planned.

H. L. HUGHES

E. R. Tucker left hurriedly for South Carolina during the early part of June in response to a summons to the bedside of his father, who was reported to be seriously ill. Word has not been received at this writing of the condition of his father.

J. W. RIDINGS

Dr. Ivan Alexander is working this summer as a special representative of T. C. U. in the field, engaged in the solicitation of students for the coming year. Professors J. W. Ridings and J. W. Ballard are also engaged in similar work.

LEW D. FALLIS

Dr. John Lord, during the annual commencement season for secondary schools, delivered commencement addresses for the Plano and Mineral Wells High Schools, and sermons for the Holland and Hillsboro High Schools.

J. W. BALLARD

Dr. W. C. Smith, professor of sociology, is teaching in the summer school of the University of Kansas. During the latter part of the summer quarter, he will teach at the University of Texas, returning to T. C. U. in September to resume his work here.

Dr. Gayle Scott is at work in the field making a map of Wise County, Texas. Howard Grubbs is associated with him and the job will require about eight weeks.

JOHN LORD

Dr. Merrel D. Clubb, professor of English literature, is teaching in the summer session of the University of Texas. For the summer of 1931, he has already entered into a contract to teach at Leland Stanford University.

Miss Rebecca W. Smith, associate professor of English, will be on leave of absence during 1930-31. Miss Smith is well on her way towards the completion of her candidacy for the doctorate at the University of Chicago, where she will be in residence this summer and next year. Miss Smith won the playwriting contest sponsored by the Frances Cooke Van Zandt Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas with her play, "Flood Tide." She was awarded the $100 prize offered by the chapter.

H. D. GUELICK

Professor and Mrs. C. R. Sherer are in Colorado for the summer, acting as counselors at Camp Audubon, located near Boulder. Mr. Scherer will coach in baseball and tennis.

Dean L. L. Leftwich accepted a scholarship granted him by the University of Chicago for the first term of the summer session. The scholarship is in the nature of a research fellowship directed by Richard Edwards of the National Council of Religion and Education at Cornell University. The scholarship will last six weeks and Mrs. Leftwich intends spending this time in visiting relatives in Missouri.

BONNIE M. ENLOW

President Snow Passes Away

WORD has been received of the death of Professor A. C. Snow, at his home near Santa Rosa, June 9. For twenty years Professor Snow was head of the department of mathematics of Texas Christian University and acting president of the institution for two years. The funeral services were held at Harlingen at the Christian Church and the burial took place in the Buena Vista Cemetery at Brownsville, where a son, Henry E. Snow, has his home. A more extended account of Professor Snow's services to T. C. U. will be given in our next issue.

"Mr. Tommie" Clark

T. M. CLARK, brother of Addison and Randolph Clark, has been seen on the Campus of T. C. U. frequently of late. He has been visiting in the home of his niece near the campus. In the old days, "Mr. Tommie Clark" was a most important member of the faculty. It is said that he was ready for every emergency—if it was to head the departments of music, mathematics, language, public speaking or physical culture. He made distinct and definite contributions to the curriculum, the policies, the ideals and life of the school; and individual lives were ennobled and the institution's usefulness largely increased by his untrifling zeal and labors.

Dr. Inman in Fort Worth

DR. S. G. INMAN, ex-'97, spent several days (June 16-18) in Fort Worth as the guest of Dean and Mrs. Colby D. Hall. Mr. Inman was on his way to Mexico, and, as is his custom when passing through Fort Worth, stopped to visit Dean Hall, with whom he roomed at college. Dr. Inman is the author of several books dealing with the problems of Pan-Americanism and is recognized as an authority in the field of our relationship with the Latin Republics.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt, with the help of D. X. Bible, of the University of Nebraska, will conduct a coaching school at T. C. U. from July 14 to July 26. Courses in all the major sports will be offered, also a course in the treatment of athletic injuries.

Dr. W. C. Morro, having dispatched his family to their summer home in Michigan, is carrying on his work in the summer session at T. C. U. The week of June 16-21, he gave a series of lectures at a religious education conference near Canyon, Texas. Later on in the summer, Dr. Morro goes to Colorado for a week of lecturing at the summer session of Cotner College.

Mrs. Helen Walker Murphy is to conduct a camp for junior boys and girls, June 30-August 10, at Lampasas, Texas. Raymond Wolf, Letha Bonner, and Elizabeth Turrentine, all of T. C. U., will be associated with Mrs. Murphy in the management of the camp.

The T. C. U. Band

THE T. C. U. Band, under the leadership of Professor Claude Sammis, served as the official Fort Worth band at the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Abilene, Texas, May 29-31. The band won first place in the university class and Professor Sammis brought home the silver loving cup, which is shown on another page. The pleased look on the faces of Professor Sammis and President Waits is easy of explanation.

Leland and Oliver at Drake

CY LELAND and Richard Oliver were the first T. C. U. representatives ever to have a part in the famous Drake Relays. Evidently they made a favorable impression upon our Drake friends. President Waits, shortly after the Relays, received the following communication from Dr. Charles S. Medbury, pastor of the University Church of Christ, Des Moines:

President Edward McShane Waits,
Fort Worth, Texas.

My Dear Brother Waits:

We are pretty busy at the office, this Monday, but other things are going to have to get out of the way while I write you concerning your splendid boys who were on the track at the Drake Relays, Saturday. We here at Drake are not supposed to have any special favorites, but this particular preacher boosted long and noisily for the lads that carried the magic letters, T. C. U. I wished for you, Mr. President, when Leland came tearing down the cinder path with Oliver but a step behind him. If the boys and girls of your institution had been on hand to witness that sight, they would have taken the place by storm and your faculty would have forgotten its dignity. And I am not thinking of this one race alone nor only of the two boys named; your entire representation was as fine as an institution could ask and will be cherished here in the memory of all the vast crowd at the stadium. Please accept for yourself, Mr. President, and everybody else at T. C. U. my heartiest congratulations.

Cordially yours,
CHAS. S. MEDBURY.

MRS. SADIE T. BECKHAM,
Dean of Women

Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Combs left Fort Worth the latter part of May for a tour through Europe. They embarked from Montreal down the St. Lawrence River and went directly to London. A month will be spent on the British Isles. From the British Isles Dr. and Mrs. Combs will tour Belgium, Holland, Denmark and the Rhine country in Germany. They will visit in France, where Mrs. Combs will spend several months. Dr. Combs will either go to Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Austria, Balkans to Constantinople, and Athens and the Grecian Islands or will spend a month in Spain and go through Oberammergau.

Professor E. W. McDiarmid, with Mrs. McDiarmid and their daughter, Florence, will spend two weeks, in the early part of July, in Green Mountain Falls, Colorado. They are to make the trip in their car.

The forty-fifth annual convention of the Christian Churches in Texas was held in the Central Christian Church at Austin, May 5-9. Many T. C. U. people had prominent places in the management of convention proceedings and on the program. Dean Colby D. Hall was chairman of the convention program committee and Professor J. W. Ridings was chairman of the publicity committee. Dr. W. C. Morro gave the annual report for the Brite College of the Bible. Conferences on religious education were led by Professors S. W. Hutton and H. L. Pickerill. Dr. H. D. Guelick gave an organ recital during the convention and Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon sang on two occasions to the great delight of the convention delegates.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Winton leave in early July for an auto trip through sections of the West of great geological interest. Their vacation will be one of combined recreation and research. Before returning to Fort Worth, they will visit much of Utah, Salt Lake City, the Bryce Canyon and several of the National Parks.

Notes From the Classes

1877

GIBSON E. CARPENTER is the oldest living graduate of T. C. U., according to the records of the alumna secretary. Mr. Carpenter is a lawyer and lives at Plano, Texas.

1879

MRS. JONAS D. BASS (LOU CARR), McKinney, Texas, is the oldest woman graduate of T. C. U., and the first woman to graduate. Mrs. Bass attended the commencement Luncheon at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, June 2, and met many of her friends and acquaintances here. A granddaughter of hers, Virginia Saunders, is at present a student in T. C. U.

1897

I. P. HILDEBRAND, dean of the school of law at the University of Texas, represented his university at the meeting of the American Institute of Law held in Washington beginning May 12.

1911

JAMES WILLIAM MASSIE of the Republic National Bank in Dallas has been the state president of the T. C. U. Alumna and Ex-Students' Association during the past year.

JOHN FRANK BATEMAN is the principal of the North Side Junior High School in Fort Worth. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club; the Torch Club; and secretary for 1930-31 of the T. C. U. Ex-Students' Association.

BURL B. HULSEY is the general manager of the East Texas Cotton Oil Company in charge of oil mills at Terrell, Kaufman and Forney. The editor met Mr. Hulsey recently at the new stadium site. His interest in the operations going on there was most absorbing.

EARL GOUGH continues as the successful teacher of vocal music at John Tarleton College, Stephenville, Texas.

S. W. HUTTON is instructor in New Testament and Worship Ministries in the Brite College of the Bible. He assumed on June 8 the position also of choirmaster and director of religious education in the University Christian Church. Professor Hutton is bringing from the press this month (June) a worship manual under the title, "Worship and Hymns."

1912

OSCAR WISE is the proprietor of the Wise Store at Moran, Texas. He kindly writes: "I have been reading the T. C. U. Interpreter for several months, and have enjoyed all the deep and well written articles, as well as being brought face to face with so many of my friends, teachers and classmaster." Mr. Wise speaks vigorously of the loyalty of the classes of '11 and '12, during the trying days at Waco. He would like to see more news items concerning the members of those classes. "So say we all of us." Send us more class notes. This invitation is addressed to every former student.

CARL E. MELTON is a merchant in McKinney, Texas, residing at 609 West Hunt Street. He writes: "It is always a pleasure to have news from T. C. U." His sister, MARY MELTON, graduated from T. C. U. in 1919.

WALTER LEGGETT, who received the M. D. degree from the T. C. U. Medical College in 1912 is a physician in Fostoria, Texas. . . . WALTER JACKSON BAZE is a physician and surgeon at Chickasha, Okla.

1913

T. J. DEAN is engaged in truck farming at Jacksonville, Texas.

1914

J. LINDLEY WOOD is now associated with MRS. W. W. CARSON, '91, in the management of the San Angelo Business College at San Angelo, Texas.

1915

R. T. ELLIS, secretary of the Texas State Teachers' Association, attended the meeting of the directors of the Service Bureau of State Teachers' Associations in Chicago, May 3-6. Mr. Ellis is a member of this board for Texas.

CARROLL MCCONNELL, ex-'15, is at work upon a history of Texas. There should be a place in that volume for mention of the part played by the McConnells—Carroll W. E. Jr., and Fred—at T. C. U.

1916

JAMES A. CRAIN has two interesting articles in the May issue of the World Call. The first article, entitled "The Fallacy of Prohibition Polls," is a review of The Literary Digest's poll on prohibition, recommending disregard of unofficial straw votes on the part of the temperance forces. The second article, "Listening in on the World," is a concise interpretation of significant world happenings from the Christian point of view.

1920

SYBIL BLACK TRAMMEL is most prominent in the work of the First Christian Church of Breckenridge, Texas, of which LESLIE G. SMYTH, ex-'26, is pastor. Mrs. Trammel is in charge of all work in dramatics fostered by the church, and is also chairman of the Junior Church Board.

1921

ERNEST NICHOLSON, ex-'21, has an article in the May American entitled "Favorite Jokes of Our Celebrities." Mr. Nicholson began this feature with a contract with a national news syndicate, whereby he agreed to produce a favorite yarn daily for two years. The tryout proved successful. Of five hundred celebrities, only two refused to commit themselves to a favorite story. One was a courteous gentleman, who at that time was high in public life and who simply did not choose to run. The reader is allowed one guess.

MISS HALLIE STRANGE has been teaching Spanish in Randolph College at Cisco during the past year.

1923

W. O. FREEMAN is employment superintendent with Armour and Company at Fort Worth. He writes: "I have just finished reading your last issue of the Interpreter, and enjoyed its news and comments a great deal."

1924

GRAHAM ESTES has been given a leave of absence from T. C. U. to study next year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A teaching fellowship has been awarded him. Mr. Estes will pursue his studies in the mathematical field for the doctor's degree.

1925

J. E. MONTGOMERY, ex-'25, is in his fourth year as pastor of the Christian Church at Graham, Texas. Nearly 400 have been added to the membership of the church in these four years. The church parsonage is valued at $25,000 and the church building at $50,000. The membership is 537.

HENRY L. SHEPHERD, JR., 1927

1926

MRS. GERALD L. MILLER (MAYME GARNER MILLER) is mistress of a manse at Comanche, Texas, where her husband is pastor of the Central Christian Church. Since her graduation from T. C. U., Mrs. Miller has been active in the Youth Convention and other work among young people while connected with the United Christian Missionary Society.

MISS DOROTHY C. REED, was married to Mr. Willis H. Gilmore on Saturday, May 3, at the home of her parents, 2201 Park Place, Fort Worth. MISS KATHERINE HAGLER, '25, was the maid of honor at this wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore will make their home at Odessa, Texas.

ROY C. COCHRAN, who has been coaching at the Main Avenue High School in San Antonio, has been named coach at the Texarkana, Texas, High School.

AMELIA BELLE TAYLOR left Fort Worth by airplane June 9 for New York City, where she will attend a Columbia University class reunion. With her mother, Mrs. Clint J. Taylor, she sails for Europe the latter part of June, returning the middle of September.

J. H. WIMBERLEY, JR., ex-'26, is now the advertising manager of the All-American Mohawk Radio Corporation, with headquarters at Chicago. Upon leaving T. C. U., Mr. Wimberley went to Houston to become assistant advertising manager of the Houston Post-Dispatch. Wimberley, now only 23 years of age, has already made his mark in the advertising field.

1927

MARY KATHRYN PARKER was married on April 21 in Manassas, Virginia to Dr. Lowell Joseph Ragatz, professor of history in George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Parker are living in the Corcoran Courts in Washington.

The sad notice has come of the death of AUBREY DUBOIS, ex-'27, on May 12, at his home in Lockhart, Texas.

J. R. CURTIS has returned to Fort Worth after a year at Castle Heights Military Academy, where he taught mathematics. At the same time, he completed his law course at Cumberland University, receiving the LL. B. degree.

HARVEY TAYLOR, who has been coaching at Post, Texas, will go to Mangum, Oklahoma in September to be head coach in the Mangum High School. He will be associated there with Wade H. Shumate, ex-'02, who is superintendent of schools at Mangum, and who played football for T. C. U. for four years, from 1898 to 1902.

BELLE BURNETT of the Junior Woman's Club of Fort Worth is on a northern motor tour with friends. The party will visit Chicago and many other places of interest.

1928

J. C. WILSON, JR., ex-'28, was married in Austin on May 2 to Miss Mary Steger. It will be remembered that Mr. Wilson brought the first S. A. C. championship—in golf—to T. C. U. in 1928.

LESTER BOONE, ex-'28, president of the Hogg Debating Club at the University of Texas, was toastmaster at the annual banquet given May 1 at the Austin Club. Boone also won first prize in the introduction contest (each boy introducing his "date").

JEROME SMISER, who was student body president at Texas Christian University in 1928 and who is now a graduate student at Princeton University, has received one of the first two Storrow Fellowships to be awarded annually for the advanced study of geology by the National Research Council to graduate students in American universities. This is the first year the Storrow Fellowships, which are worth $1,400 each in cash, have been given. With the fellowship, Smiser has the choice of studying at any university he wishes. He will probably continue his work at Princeton toward his Ph. D. Smiser received his Bachelor of Science degree from T. C. U. in 1928 and his Master of Science in 1929.

CLAUDE HIGHT was recently married to Elaine Patterson and is in business at Midland, Texas. He was seen on the T. C. U. campus on June 8.

1929

FLORA FINEGAN, ex-'29, was married recently to Dr. J. C. Guenther of Lagrange, Texas. Mrs. Guenther finished at Our Lady of Victory Academy in Fort Worth, and then attended T. C. U. for two years.

BUD NORMAN is in charge of a field party for the Gulf Production Company in Alabama.

MABLE CLINE taught Religious Education in the 6th and 7th grades of the public schools at Sterling, Illinois, last year. She returned to T. C. U. for the 1930 Commencement Week. She is to continue her interesting work at Sterling next year.

CECIL "BUZZ" MORGAN is district geologist for the Gulf Production Company, with headquarters at Shreveport, La. He has charge of thirteen counties in Eastern Texas and Louisiana.

VIRGINIA GRIGGS, who taught last year in the high school at Troy, Texas, will teach Latin and English in the high school at Moody, Texas, during 1930-31.
