THE Horned Frogs succeeded in capturing the championship of the Southwest Athletic Conference in basket ball by defeating Southern Methodist University by a score of 37 to 29 in the final game of the season on March 3. The game was played in the T. C. U. basket ball gymnasium in Fort Worth before a capacity crowd, hundreds being turned away. It is generally agreed that in a race staged between unusually good teams the best quint finally managed to win. Dietzel lead the Conference in scoring honors and Sumner won the award as the most brilliant and polished player in the Southwest. Both these men were given places on the mythical all-conference team. Captain Noble Atkins, all-conference guard in 1929-30, led his team in brilliant fashion. Chappell came into his own in the final game of the season. Roberson, McCulloch, Green, Brannon contributed their part to the successful season. The Frogs played a clean game throughout the season. Four times only were Frog players retired on personal fouls in the entire season. Texas Christian University proudly acclaim these sterling athletes.

THE most important object of university training is thoroughly good teaching. That institution is best equipped to accomplish its real purpose which has teachers of a high grade who are actually accomplishing definite results in the improvement of the mental, moral, and spiritual qualities of their students. One not uncommon failure in connection with inexperienced teachers is adherence to the somewhat naive belief that the best teachers are marked by a large number of failures in their courses. The greater the number of those who "flunk" the higher the standing of the teacher, according to this somewhat prevalent view. A recent investigation conducted by Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, thoroughly confounds those who have espoused the above erroneous doctrine. "The stern professor who ruthlessly flunks a large proportion of his class and who is loath to give an 'A' is not usually a good teacher," declares Dr. Scott. As a result of Dr. Scott's investigation he grouped his instructors in two divisions rating as "best" those recommended by the department for the greatest salary increase, and "poorest," those who were not reappointed. The "poorest" instructors gave seven times as many low grades as the "best." The conclusion of Dr. Scott's findings is that the function of the professor is to develop intellectual interest rather than to provide difficult hurdles. This report of the president of Northwestern University will be heartening to many teachers who desire above everything else the advancement of their students in their studies but who have been led to believe that teaching has its own peculiar standards and that a large proportion of failures is the sine qua non of successful teaching.

CO-EDUCATIONAL institutions have many problems peculiar to themselves. Attachments between young men and young women are readily formed. Studying in the library, as it is sometimes done in pairs, yields certain secrets not to be found in the text-books. Some co-educational institutions have been contemptuously dismissed from consideration by the statement that they are simply "courting schools." Such a charge was brought against Milligan College of Tennessee in the time of Josephus Hopwood's presidency. He silenced his critics by challenging them to name one single marriage arranged for at his college that had gone on the rocks. Such an honorable record cannot be duplicated by every co-educational institution. It does seem to be true, however, that "college matches" are made on a genuine basis of affection, understanding and idealism, and that they do persist. The Interpreter carries in this issue a picture of seven students—three young men and four young women—whose parents in each case were fellow students at T. C. U. during the period from 1906 to 1910. Than these Christian homes, from which these seven young people have come to college, there are none better in the land. Texas Christian University had a part in the formation of these homes and of many other similar ones. Recently there have been many marriages in which the high contracting parties were T. C. U. students. It would be a pleasure to give the names and addresses of these happy young people, who are setting up homes of their own. Part of their preparation for the honorable estate of matrimony consists of the teaching constantly given out at T. C. U. concerning holy wedlock.

If there can be had any guarantee of preserving an unbroken union in the marriage relationship, what better one can be found than that which is contained in the teachings of the Christian religion—teachings that are faithfully proclaimed today in every Christian college worthy of the name. T. C. U. is proud of those students who, having found their true loves among their fellow students, are now maintaining Christian homes in an atmosphere of old-fashioned loyalty and fidelity.

DEAN COLBY D. HALL
Chief Lecturer Oklahoma Ministers' Meeting at Chickasha, February 19, 20, 1931.

AN OLD college friend of the editor—W. G. Johnston of St. Louis—writes a good word for those who have difficulty in keeping their own feelings right when colleagues or rivals are forging ahead. It is a simple but effective remedy. It is to say every good thing about a competitor that is possible, as well as to do him every good turn within your power. Is it a teacher in an adjoining class-room who is receiving the laurels which should be adorning your own brow? Excel your informant in praise of the preferred teacher. In that way, you enter into his triumphs and jealousy leaves never to return. Dr. Johnston—friend of the editor—gives his argument a "clinch" by telling this story about Dr. Meyer.

Dr. F. B. Meyer, famous as author and preacher on two continents, was seized with jealousy when Campbell Morgan took a pulpit in the neighborhood of his church, and, as a consequence, his own audiences began to dwindle. He was never able to overcome this feeling until he persuaded his church to give a dinner to Dr. Morgan, at which he said every fine thing he could possibly think of about his pulpit rival. Then all feelings of jealousy left him never to return.

AT THE annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of T. C. U. held in February, retrenchment was the order of the day. No additions to the teaching force were made, and some changes were effected that seemed to be necessary in view of the prevalent financial unrest. For the last two years, there has been a decrease in the enrollment at T. C. U. The Interpreter is to be issued as a quarterly hereafter. It began four years ago as a monthly. A wise conservatism just at this time seems to call for restrictions of various kinds. It is believed that the outlook will change for the better soon, so that "full steam ahead" may again be the order of the day.

High schools, academies, and colleges seeking commencement speakers for the approaching season are invited to furnish the executives of T. C. U., who will be glad to furnish a list of competent speakers and their lecture subjects.

Students at T. C. U. whose parents were classmates at T. C. U. in the "good old days." It will be easy to identify these young people from the following list: Bitu May Hall, daughter of Colby D. Hall, ex-'99, and Beatrice Tomlinson, '08; Dorothy Rogers, daughter of Dan D. Rogers, '09, and Lucille Wolford, '10; Anna Ruth Denton, daughter of Pem Denton, ex-'08, and Ruth Pate, ex-'09; Janelle Bush, daughter of Walter Bush, '06, and Lizzie Mae Holloway, ex-'06; Billy Allen, son of Thurman J. Allen, '10, and Myrtle Tomlinson, '10; Bryant Collins, son of Bryant Collins, '09, and Nathalie Miller, ex-'06; Holloway Bush, son of Walter Bush, '06, and Lizzie Mae Holloway, ex-'06.

T. C. U. of the Immediate Future

Radio Address Over KTAT, by Edwin A. Elliott, Feb. 12, 1931.

THE members of the Board of Trustees of Texas Christian University have met today in their annual business session. They have again expressed their confidence in the work of our institution. Though it was necessary that certain definite economies be made in expenditures for the coming year, due to the present and persistent economic depression, yet there has been no retrenchment in the program, but on the other hand, certain worth while advances have been made. Thus it is that we face a new year with our possibilities of service unimpaired. T. C. U. has passed its 58th birthday. In short, T. C. U. is growing older. While it grows older it must grow up. Its growing up will be dependent upon its ability to enlarge its educational plant and its educational program to be comparable to the progress of the great city and the great region of the Southwest which it serves. In brief, T. C. U. must show the same signs of growth as is evident in its environment. T. C. U. made a great and a forward step this year when, through the kindly and material assistance of its many friends and ex-students, it was able to erect the stadium. T. C. U. is proud of the stadium and proud of its coaches and proud of the athletes and the records they have made. T. C. U. invites you to continue your support of the athletic program. We invite you now to an interest in T. C. U. beyond its football team and beyond the stadium. Great needs confront the institution and these needs are in the realm of the things that contribute to the performance of the real purpose of an educational institution—that of educating the youth—that of preparing the youth for not only the business of making a living, but for the nobler business of making living worth while. These needs are for the things which will help T. C. U. continue to produce men and women who will carve their names deeply and everlastingly in the hall of intellectual, material and spiritual accomplishment. To these ends T. C. U. needs immediately new buildings—a science hall, an auditorium, a fine arts building, and a building to serve as a social center for the student body. Some family names could be made to live on and on by gifts such as these buildings to T. C. U. T. C. U. needs endowment for particular departments in order that those departments may further extend their services both to their students and to the community. T. C. U. needs endowment for the establishment of loan funds and scholarships. At the end of the semester approximately 50 students withdrew because of lack of funds and no available source from which to borrow. These things are of paramount importance. These things are immediately needed and when supplied they will be of unending good.

T. C. U. friends, every one, can find his or her place in the program of meeting these pressing needs. Encourage a student to come to T. C. U. who can pay his way; find a job for one who cannot pay or obtain for him a scholarship from a liberal friend. Induce your wealthy neighbor to perpetuate his name in brick and mortar in a campus building. The present depression need not deter this program for in the Southwest much capital is idle, and since it is not in productive industry, this is the time to direct that capital into an enduring investment—an investment in youth, in education and an investment in a greater and growing T. C. U.

THE INTERPRETER features on the front page of this issue the Horned Frog basket ball team, champions of the Southwest Athletic Conference. All honor to these young men and their coach, F. A. Schmidt. This is the second conference championship Coach Schmidt has achieved in his year and a half at T. C. U.—in football in 1929-30 and this year in basket ball.

M. D. CLUBB

research work conducted by Professor Gaines last year at the University of Texas. On February 18 he had the members of the Radio Technicians' Club of Fort Worth as guests of the physics department.

Miss Lide Spragins, assistant professor of English, has been appointed assistant dean of women. She was introduced in her new capacity February 28 when Dean Sadie Beckham entertained the women's branch of the Fort Worth and Dallas Alumni and Ex-Students' Associations in Jarvis Hall parlors.

CLINTON LOCKHART

WITH THE PROFESSORS

DR. M. D. CLUBB will teach in the English department of Leland Stanford University during the coming summer session. Doctor Clubb spoke on "Polish Literature and Music" before the Euterpean Club January 21. On February 9 he lectured at his home for faculty members and students on "Paderewski and His Music."

Professor Newton Gaines is co-author of an article printed in the December issue of The Journal of Infectious Diseases on "The Bactericidal Effects of High Frequency Sound Waves."

The article is a report of ored with an exhibit of twenty-five of his paintings in the Elisabeth New Museum in Austin during February. He gave several lectures before Fort Worth clubs during January on the circuit exhibit of the National Academy of Design, which was displayed at the Fort Worth Carnegie Public Library during January. Professor Ziegler is president of the Fort Worth Painters' Club, and was in the receiving line at the formal opening of the exhibit. During the early part of March he sponsored an exhibit in the T. C. U. art studio of 37 etchings from the Maybeth Gallery of New York City.

Dr. J. L. Whitman, with Dr. D. M. Hurt of the University of Iowa, is the author of an article in the December issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society on "The Conductivity and Viscosity of Solutions of Lithium Nitrate in Certain Binary Alcoholic Systems."

Professor Raymond A. Smith, head of the School of Education, made thirty-five addresses before various clubs and organizations of Fort Worth and vicinity during 1930. He spoke twenty-four times before Parent-Teacher associations.

Professor Charles R. Sherer was elected vice-president of the Texas section of the Mathematical Association of America at the meeting of the association at T. C. U. January 31.

Dr. J. A. Glaze, head of the psychology department, spoke before the Fort Worth Advertising Club January 27 on "Occam's Razor."

Dean Colby D. Hall made four addresses at the Oklahoma Ministers' Meeting at Chickasha, February 19 and 20. His subjects were: "The Unfinished Reformation," "Perpetuating the Reformation—A New Principle," "The Rediscovery of the Jesus Way" and "Evangelism Lost and Restored—Its Relation to Education," all under the general theme of "Forward to Christ." He delivered the baccalaureate sermon for the mid-year graduating class of Central High School, Fort Worth, February 1. Dean Hall was named corresponding secretary of the Southwestern Society of Biblical Study and Research at its recent meeting at T. C. U.

Professor J. Willard Ridings will represent T. C. U. in West Texas during the coming summer. He will visit all of the principal towns to interview prospective students.

Miss Grace Bucher played on the program of the Fort Worth Music Study Club January 30. Texas composers were featured, and Miss Bucher played a group of compositions by Dr. H. D. Guelick.

Registrar E. R. Tucker spoke before the T. C. U. Mothers' Club in January on "Why Youths Fail in College."

Dr. Herbert L. Hughes spoke before the Fort Worth Business and Professional Women's Club January 27 on "You and Your Publisher." Dr. Hughes will teach at the University of Arkansas during the coming summer.

Dr. Leslie Chambers went to College Station February 2 to lecture before the A. & M. Science Seminar. He gave an illustrated talk on "The Structure of the Protoplasm."

Dr. C. I. Alexander has been appointed a member of the Scott Fund Expedition from Princeton University for next summer. The party will explore the bad lands of North Dakota and Wyoming and certain sections of West Texas, in search of vertebrate fossils. Doctor Alexander lectured March 16 before the History Club of the Fort Worth Woman's Club on "Burbank: The Man and His Work."

President E. M. Waits attended meetings of the National Board of Education of the Disciples of Christ, the Council of the Church Board on Education, the American Association of Colleges, and the Liberal Arts College Movement during January in Indianapolis.

Dr. Josiah H. Combs and Dr. Margaretha Ascher have jointly edited, with introduction, direct method exercises, notes, and vocabulary, a play, "Zaraqueta," which has recently been published for class-room use.

Three faculty members will read papers at the Southwestern Political and Social Science Association which meets at Oklahoma City April 3 and 4. Dean Leftwich will read a paper on "Personality Problems of College Students," and Doctor Elliott will present one on "Social Factors in the Tenantry of a Texas Cotton Plantation." Doctor Lord will review a paper, "The Tendencies of the Political Parties in the United States." Dr. W. C. Smith is secretary of the sociology division of the association and Professor Baker is chairman of one of the committees.

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott is included as one of the speakers on the 1930-31 lecture series at T. C. U. He is scheduled to speak April 10 on the subject, "On the Road to Plenty—How Far Are We?" He has also been selected as one of the speakers for the Students' Conference at Hollister, Mo., next June, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. His subject there will be, "Some Maladjustments of the Present Industrial Era." He has recently talked on "The Business Depression and Unemployment" before a number of Fort Worth clubs and associations. Doctor Elliott is the author of one part of an article, "Will America Ever 'See Red'?" in the magazine Smilin' Along, a Plainview, Texas, publication. He takes the viewpoint that economic security for the working masses in the United States is the basic preventive of the so-called "Red" tendencies. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, writing on the same subject, takes the position that America needs a new liberalism.

Twelve faculty members will give a series of weekly radio lectures over station WBAP from now to the close of school, their talks constituting a "College of the Air" program. The lectures will be given from 2:30 to 3 o'clock each Tuesday afternoon. Doctor Elliott opened the series March 17. A faculty member from the science department, yet to be named, will speak March 24. Subsequent dates, the speaker, and the department he represents will be according to the following schedule: March 31, Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, philosophy; April 7, Dr. W. C. Morro, Bible; April 14, Dr. John Lord, government; April 21, Dr. W. C. Smith, sociology; April 28, Dean of Men L. L. Leftwich; May 5, Dr. Herbert L. Hughes, English; May 12, Prof. Raymond A. Smith, education; May 19, Dr. Josiah H. Combs, modern languages; May 26, Dr. Raymond L. Welty, history; and June 2, Prof. John W. Ballard, business administration.

Professors Claude Sammis, violin; S. P. Ziegler, cello, and J. Willard Ridings, piano, played for the Tuesday Club of the Woman's Club March 17. The same afternoon the trio played for a silver tea given in Jarvis Hall parlors by the T. C. U. Woman's Club.

Professor Lew D. Fallis directed a production of "The Servant in the House" at the University Religious Fellowship March 15.

B. A. Crouch, instructor in education, spoke recently before the Parent-Teacher associations of the Riverside Junior High School and the Sam Rosen School on "Some Ways of Being a Bad Parent."

Professor H. L. Pickerill, head of the department of religious education, began a leave of absence February 1, to complete work on his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Chicago.

Professor John W. Ballard is the author of an article—"Does Land Depreciate?"—in the March issue of The American Accountant. The article is a reprint of an address which he delivered before the State Society of Certified Public Accountants. During February Professor Ballard spoke before the Diocesan Student Council of the Episcopal Church on "Christianity and Business" and "What Next?" before the Polytechnic Business Men's Club on "Modern Business Conditions," and before the Central High School Parent-Teacher Association on "Will My Boy or Girl Succeed in Business?"

Professor Paul Baker will read a paper on "The Biology and Psychology of the Delinquent Child" at the Texas Conference of Social Welfare in Dallas, April 23 to 25.

Dr. W. C. Smith will lead a discussion on "Interpretation of Social Work" at the Texas Conference of Social Welfare. An article by him, entitled "The Ethnological Approach," is included in a recently published book of readings on "The Family." Doctor Smith lectured on "The Religions of India" before the '93 Women's Club of Fort Worth February 16. He gave his illustrated lecture, "Headhunters of Assam," at the Mulkey Memorial Methodist Church in Dallas February 8. Doctor Smith will teach during the coming summer in the department of sociology of the University of Missouri.

Miss Mabel Major, associate professor of English, spoke March 19 before the University Place Study Club on "National Recognition of Literature in the Southwest." January 30 she addressed the Pi Omicron Sorority on "Some New Lights on Christopher Marlowe."

Dean L. L. Leftwich and Professor S. W. Hutton were the faculty representatives from T. C. U. at the Student-Faculty Conference in Detroit, Mich., December 27 to 31. A. T. Barrett of Fort Worth, president of the student body of T. C. U. represented our student group at this conference.

Dr. W. C. Morro addressed the March faculty meeting on "Modern Humanism." He spoke on "The Law of the Husband" before the Southwestern Society of Biblical Study and Research, December 30.

Dr. John Lord will teach during the coming summer in the department of government at Duke University, Durham, N. C. Doctor Lord spoke at the national meeting of the Scholarship Societies of Junior Colleges at Weatherford, February 24.

Miss Rebecca W. Smith is attending the Graduate School of the University of Chicago. "I'm having a great time up here trying to get an education," she writes. If Miss Smith takes on much more education, it is going to be hard going for the rest of us of the T. C. U. faculty, who have already pressed ourselves to the limit to keep within range of Miss Smith's brilliant class-room and lecture work.

Professor W. L. Moreman is receiving the congratulations of the scholarly world over the important findings of his recent article, "Arenaceous Foraminifera From Ordovician and Silurian Limestones of Oklahoma." Dr. J. A. Cushman of Harvard University in a speech at T. C. U., Monday, March 16, pronounced Moreman's work in this article to be the most spectacular work done in the field of paleontology in the last twelve months. Mr. Moreman discussed the origin of these foraminifera and extended their range back to a considerably earlier time than that formerly assigned to them.

David Bruce Scoular is directing the T. C. U. Chorus for the rehearsals of "The Sunset Trail," by Charles Wakefield Cadman, which will be given in the T. C. U. stadium May 9. The chorus, and a group of the faculty members, will be a part of the civic chorus which will be made up of singers from T. W. C., the Baptist Seminary, the high schools, the Harmony, Euterpean, Sylvan, Cecilian, Music Study and Arion Clubs, Shrine Chanters and the city choirs.

The Passing of Miss Maud M. Brown

WORD has come to T. C. U. of the passing from earth of Miss Maud M. Brown on January 4, 1931. Miss Brown attended Texas Christian University in 1888-89 when it was located at Thorp Spring and when it bore the name of Add-Ran College. Miss Brown taught thirty years in the public schools of Texas and was a diligent worker for the good of her fellowmen. "A most worthy Christian character," testified Dr. Frank L. Jewett, who conducted the funeral at Austin, Texas. Born in Tupelo, Mississippi, September 13, 1864, of Ephraim and Julia Brown, Miss Maud M. Brown is survived by one sister, Miss Eva Brown, Austin, Texas, who carries on most nobly a Christian service in which formerly both shared.

T. C. U. Drug Store

A FRESHMAN going from the T. C. U. Campus to the T. C. U. Drug Store for any article of merchandise would have to travel exactly 95 miles to reach the store and 95 miles to return to his dormitory, which is to say that the T. C. U. Drug Store is located at Waco, Texas, fronting the old campus of T. C. U. in that city. This drug store was maintained for many years by Dr. R. P. Bell, so well and favorably known to students of the Waco days. Dr. Bell disposed of this drug store four years ago but it still carries the old name and Dr. Bell maintains his offices as a physician and surgeon in the same block.

Prof. E. W. McDiarmid and Athletic Director L. C. Wright had the pleasure of a visit in Dr. Bell's office on March 17th, where they were received most hospitably by the veteran physician, who greeted Mr. Wright as affectionately as a father would a wandering child. Dr. Bell recalls with great interest the students of the Waco period and he is never more pleased than when former students drop into his office to make him a call. It is well worth a visit to Waco to see the good doctor and to catch something of his infectious loyalty and enthusiasm for T. C. U.

Miss Terrell Ellis is replacing Mrs. Ione Way Chambers as instructor in mathematics for the spring semester. Miss Ellis received her A. B. degree from Baylor University and received her M. A. degree from T. C. U. last June. She taught in the Fort Worth Public schools before coming to T. C. U.

University Bible Class

THE Men's Bible Class of the University Christian Church meets each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in room one, in the basement of the Administration Building. Those who are attending these class meetings are finding them very helpful and instructive. The following program has been prepared:

February 22, "Salvation and Its Terms".....	Dr. Morro
March 1, "What Is Sin?".....	Dr. Lockhart
March 8, "What Is the Church?".....	Prof. Billington
March 15, "What Is the Kingdom?".....	Dean Hall
March 22, "What Is Religion?".....	Mr. Jones
March 29, "Who Is a Christian?".....	Mr. Gray
April 5, "What Is Protestantism?".....	Mr. Hammond
April 12, "New Testament Doctrine of God".....	Dr. Lord
April 19, "The Lord's Supper and Baptism".....	Mr. Cameron
April 26, "What Is Immortality?".....	Mr. McDiarmid
May 3, "Christian Unity".....	Dr. Elliott
May 10, "Christian Education".....	Dr. Waits
May 17, "Christian Humanism and Humanitarianism".....
.....	A Symposium
May 24, "Literary Masterpieces of the New Testament,".....	Dr. Clubb
May 31, "Church Worship".....	Mr. Hutton

Dr. Zahniser at T. C. U.

THE Brite College of the Bible is responsible for the appearance of Dr. Charles R. Zahniser, March 9-11, at T. C. U. in a course of lectures of great value and interest. Dr. Zahniser is secretary of the Commission on Training in Inter-Church Co-operation of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and lecturer at seminaries and universities. He is also a member of the faculty of Boston University, spending the fall semester there, and the spring in lecturing among the colleges and seminaries. He is the author of several books, including "Case Work Evangelism;" fifteen years a pastor in Pittsburgh and for 16 years executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Council of Churches. The general themes of Dr. Zahniser's lectures were Co-operative Community Service and Country-Wide Evangelism.

Kant: A Symposium

A RATHER unique meeting of the graduate class in Philosophy 40 was held at the home of Prof. E. W. McDiarmid, March 18. The members of the class were invited to dinner, a partial explanation of the professor's hospitality being that a friend had presented him with a fine country ham. This was served to the class with suitable trimmings. The real business of the evening, however, was a discussion of Kant's ethics in comparison with later utilitarian theories. In lieu of place cards, a souvenir program was placed in the hands of each guest:

KANT: A SYMPOSIUM.

"There are ten thousand cants with a 'C.'
But only one Kant with a 'K.'"

Rules of the Symposium.

"Urbanity in social relations, gentleness, reciprocal love and respect, affability and propriety, thus adding the graces to virtue, for this also is a duty of virtue . . . An easy access, an amiable mode of speech, politeness, hospitality, that gentleness in controversy which keeps off all quarrel—all these forms of sociability are external obligations which put also the others under obligation, and which favor the sentiment of virtue in rendering it at least amiable."

Kant, Doctrine de la vertu.

The following are the members of Philosophy 40 and guests at the symposium: F. M. Brooke, A. R. Curry, Carroll Atchley, Andrew Pilgreen, Dr. M. Ascher, Inez Reynolds, Mrs. I. E. Horwitz, Edith Armstrong. Mr. and Mrs. E. R.

Tucker, Mrs. A. R. Curry and Prof. E. C. Cameron were invited to the discussion.

Radio Talks

The Woman's Branch of the Fort Worth T. C. U. Ex-Students' Association is sponsoring a series of radio messages regarding T. C. U. over KTAT on sundry Friday afternoons. Mrs. Charles A. Stevens is in charge of these programs. Watch for these feature programs.

Contemplates a Move

Henry Fussell, ex-'23, has been for a number of years handling the taxation business of the Missouri Pacific Railroad from the Dallas office. A visit by him to T. C. U. on March 18 brought out the information that he is contemplating removing his law office from Dallas to Fort Worth.

Professor and Mrs. W. M. Winton, Dr. Ivan Alexander, Dr. Gayle Scott, John Peter Smith and Miss Elizabeth Harris attended the meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists in San Antonio in March. Dr. Alexander and Mr. Smith appeared on the program. Dr. Scott is secretary-treasurer of the association.

WITH THE CLASSES

J. E. JARROTT, who taught mathematics in Add-Ran from 1877-1879 until his sudden death in the spring of 1879, is still remembered as one of the most valuable workers with the Clarks. Randolph Clark in his "Reminiscences," writes of Mr. Jarrott: "I think I have never known one who more nearly filled the measure of the real teacher." A recent letter to The Interpreter from J. H. Smithers, 1879, recalls the name of John Jarrott most affectionately. Mr. Smithers writes: "John was beloved by all who knew him, as no one in all my experience has ever been. He was my noblest friend; and without his wise council and disinterested friendship, I feel that I never could have been what I am, unprofitable as my life has been."

1879

JOHN H. SMITHERS writes a most interesting letter to the Editor of the T. C. U. Interpreter, from which we take the following excerpt: "I notice in the Interpreter of November and December reminiscences of the early days of old Add-Ran College and Thorp's Springs, that are very interesting to me. I entered this institution in September, 1874, the second year of its existence, and graduated in the degree of A. B. in 1879. I came from the 'cow range' up in Palo Pinto County, where I had served as a Cow Hunter and as a Ranger under Captain McAdams, in all four years. It was the turning point of my life, which brought me into contact with the Word of God, and the people who practice it in its Divine simplicity. And during all these fifty-six years that have intervened, I have never received so great blessing from Almighty God as the knowledge of His Son, which was inculcated at this revered institution of learning. If the Lord be pleased, I hope to re-visit my old stamping ground, and see the T. C. U., and learn 'on what meat it feeds that it has grown so great.'"

1882

F. O. MCKENZIE, of Weatherford, Texas, is now one of the Assistant Attorney Generals on the staff of James V. Allred, Attorney General of Texas.

1886

ELLSWORTH E. FARIS, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, spent the fall semester at Tulane University in New Orleans as a visiting professor of sociology.

1895

VAN ZANDT JARVIS presided at the annual meeting in February of the Board of Trustees of T. C. U. Mr. Jarvis is also the president of the Fat Stock Show held each year in Fort Worth.

1899

E. R. COCKRELL, president of William Woods College at Fulton, Missouri, spent a few days in Fort Worth during the Christmas holidays. His daughter, DURA LOUISE COCKRELL, '23, receives the Ph. D. degree in psychology from Yale University in June.

1901

ROBERT L. MARQUIS, president of the State Teachers' College at Denton, Texas, has a part on the program of the N. E. A., Detroit, Michigan, Feb. 21-26.

1905

L. D. ANDERSON, pastor of the First Christian Church in Fort Worth, does some clear thinking on the subject of Christian Unity in his new book entitled "Perfected Into One." It is an incisive analysis of the need, method and the manner of the perfection of all Christians into one body.

1906

EDWIN C. BOYNTON, long-time pastor of the Christian Church at Huntsville, Texas, is in the midst of a program of rebuilding their house of worship.

1907

L. C. PROCTOR, superintendent of schools at Temple, Texas, is a member of the committee on resolutions of the N. E. A., which meets in annual session at Detroit, Michigan, February 21-26.

W. O. DALLAS is pastor of the Christian Church at Corpus Christi, Texas. On January 25, there were 302 in Bible school at Corpus Christi, Texas, and four additions to the church. In 1930 126 were added. There are 50 "storehouse tithers" in this membership. The official board is made up of 53 men and women. The budget for 1931, $16,430, is almost double that of the previous year.

BONNER FRIZZELL, superintendent of schools at Palestine, Texas, grows reminiscent in a recent note to BUTLER S. SMISER, 1918. He writes: "One lazy day in spring along about 1909 at T. C. U., a group of senior boys sat under a tree on the clover-covered campus discussing their future hopes and ambitions. Some wanted fame, some riches. One, Bryant F. Collins dreamily drawled: 'You fellows can say what you dern please about money and fame, but as for me I'll tell the world that the height of my ambition is to be called PAPA! And Peter laughed Wright loudly.'" Mr. Collins has a son who is a freshman at T. C. U. and a daughter who is to enter next September. L. C. "Pete" Wright is still a bachelor.

1911

S. W. HUTTON's new song book and worship manual, "Worship and Hymns," is becoming deservedly popular in church schools for juniors and the adult departments. Churches are finding the book to be rich in content. Mr. Hutton is educational director of the University Christian Church and a professor in the Brite College of the Bible.

1914

RAY M. CAMP is the treasurer of the Star Engraving Company at Houston, Texas. This company has offices in Fort Worth, Birmingham, San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

1915

R. T. ELLIS has been re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Texas State Teachers Association for a three-year period. Mr. Ellis will receive a salary of $5,200.00 yearly.

1916

MRS. J. PATRICK DUFFIE (JACQUELINE NORWOOD, ex-'16) writes very pleasantly from her home at Hope, Arkansas: "I often think of T. C. U., and I would love to visit the school again. Since leaving T. C. U., I attended Northwestern University and later taught at Culver-Stockton College. Then I married, and we are the proud parents of three adorable children, Patricia, Jerome and Jack. You have no idea how I do enjoy receiving the T. C. U. Interpreter."

LESLIE CHAMBERS

JAMES A. CRAIN, who has qualified as an expert on the subject, spoke on "The Church and the Prohibition Crisis" before the Fifth Mid-Winter Conference of the Kentucky Christian Ministers, which met in Lexington, Jan. 27-29. Mr. Crain revealed the prohibition cause to be, not hopeless, yet verging on the brink of disaster, which may plunge us into the vortex of a liquor hell unless Zion awakes and puts on the "whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil." Of little value is that philosophy of a gradual growth of civilization toward a perfect blending with the Kingdom of Heaven in the face of the on-coming deluge of anti-Christian barbarians, drunk with the blood of the poor, a money-mad plutocracy exulting in the hope of more gain through the utter undoing of mankind.

V. C. ARNSPIGER is the Director of Research, Department of Educational Talking Pictures of the Electrical Research Products, Inc. Mr. Arnspiger has an article entitled, "A Program of Educational Talking Pictures" in a recent number of the McGraw-Hill Book-notes. In this article Mr. Arnspiger suggests the possibility of educational talking pictures in school and college work.

HARRY BRADFORD is superintendent of schools at Drumright, Oklahoma. In this position he succeeded a classmate of his, Mr. V. C. Arnspiger.

GAYLE SCOTT, professor of geology at Texas Christian University, is in charge of all business matters relating to the "Journal of Paleontology," of which publication he is the secretary-treasurer. Dr. Scott and Frederick B. Plummer of the University of Texas have nearly completed an important monograph of Pennsylvania ammonoids of Texas. The work will contain about 300 pages of text and about 30 plates.

WILLIS E. MCGREGOR has been appointed to a place on the staff of J. E. MARTIN, 1918, district attorney in Fort Worth.

PATRICK HENRY, ex-'17 has been elected state secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society. He will take up the duties of his new office on April 15, moving to Fort Worth about June 1.

DR. R. H. GOUGH continues his great interest in the work of the department of public speaking at T. C. U. In addition to his yearly prizes for the winners of the oratorical contest for men, he is offering this year a prize of $10 in gold for the winner of the oratorical contest for the co-eds to be held on April 27.

1920

JOHN R. SANDIDGE, professor at Princeton University in the Department of Geology, is engaged in a study of macroscopic and microscopic fossils from Angola, Portuguese West Africa.

K. R. MELTON, ex-'20, is considered an authority on soils and fertilizers best adapted to East Texas soils. The foundation for Mr. Melton's work and experience in the use of fertilizer was laid with his education at T. C. U. and later at the University of Alabama. Mr. Melton has made a special study of fertilizer in the laboratory and had studied crop records for years where every sort of fertilizer has been employed, and is recognized as an authority on fertilizer best adapted to the different soil types of East Texas. During the last year he has completed a soil survey of this section of the state which has been of important value to the fertilizer industry. He has carried on much demonstration work during the past nine years with excellent results from experiments. Mr. Melton maintains a complete fertilizer office in Longview, where he has specimens of all East Texas soil types, and fertilizer materials.

BEN HEARN is the pastor of the Christian Church at Mineral Wells, Texas.

ELIZABETH SHELBURNE is proving her worth as an instructor in mathematics at her Alma Mater. She has also rendered most valuable service in the supervision of young women in Jarvis Hall, under the direction of Mrs. Sadie Beckham, Dean of Women.

1921

H. B. BROUS is the president of the Brous School of Expression at 1422 Pennsylvania Avenue in Fort Worth.

E. LESLIE CARLSON is professor of Hebrew at the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

CARL DOERING is a professor of preventive medicine in Harvard University.

ALBERT VENTING, professor of the philosophy of religion at the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, addressed the monthly meeting of the T. C. U. faculty in February. He spoke most interestingly of his experience in Europe.

M. H. MOORE, who, after graduating with the class of 1921, received the A. M. degree from T. C. U. in 1930, had a place on the program of the N. E. A. in annual session in Detroit, Michigan, February 21-26.

1922

DOVERT W. MCELROY is pastor of the Central Christian Church at Shreveport, Louisiana.

1923

A. B. McREYNOLDS is gaining national prominence with his record-breaking, soul-winning and stewardship campaigns throughout the nation. In recent meetings of his there were 350 additions at Shreveport, 307 at Monroe, 358 at Knoxville, and 319 at Indianapolis. A second edition of his book of sermons, "Soul-winning and Stewardship Sermons" has just appeared from the press.

DR. EDWIN A. ELLIOTT, professor of Economics at T. C. U., is winning many laurels with his virile speeches before various clubs and gatherings in and around Fort Worth. He is to be one of the speakers at the Hollister Students' Conference to be held at Hollister, Mo., in June. His subject will be "Some Maladjustments of the Present Industrial Era."

1924

MRS. W. E. BRYSON, a member of the English staff of T. C. U., is one of the officers of the Shakespeare Literary Club of Fort Worth. At a recent meeting Mrs. Bryson was elected critic of that organization for the ensuing year.

MRS. HERBERT BUROW (HELEN EVANS) ex-'24, Bonham, Texas, visited T. C. U. on January 5, in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Evans.

THURMAN MORGAN is continuing a good work as pastor of the Christian Church at Hillsboro, Texas. This note from his pen appeared recently in a church paper: "I am reading Where the Book Speaks, by McLean. Thus I cannot but speak the things I have read and learned. The gospel is a universal gospel. Do we retain the term 'foreign missions' because 'missions' is still foreign to such a large per cent of church members? I always preach missions."

1926

LESLIE G. SMYTH, ex-'26, is meeting with great success in his new pastorate at First Christian Church, Ada, Oklahoma. On Sunday, January 18, his "Revival in a Day" resulted in one hundred and twenty-four additions to the church. Leslie grows facetious in a recent note to this office: "We have a teachers' college here the largest in Oklahoma. The president is one of my elders and the outstanding layman in Oklahoma. He has only a Ph. D. degree and therefore gets much out of my sermons." Selah!

ROSA LEE WELLS was married to W. H. Greenstreet on November 8, 1930. Mr. Greenstreet is a graduate of Texas A. and M. College. Mr. and Mrs. Greenstreet are living in Arlington Heights in Fort Worth.

1927

JAMES HAROLD EVANS and MISS BELLE BURNETT, both graduates of T. C. U., in the class of 1927, were married on February 1, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clabe Burnett, at Ryan, Oklahoma. Mrs. Burnett was a very popular co-ed during her student days at T. C. U. Mr. Evans is a grandson of the late Captain Sam Evans, one of Fort Worth's pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will live in Fort Worth at 2621 Lubbock street.

1928

JEROME S. SMISER has been awarded a Storrow fellowship at Princeton University for the academic year 1930-1931. Under the direction of PROFESSOR J. R. SANDIDGE, 1920, he is to continue at Princeton University the study of the microscopic parts of fossil echinoids which was begun at Texas Christian University. This will be the subject of his dissertation for the doctorate.

MISS FLORENCE MCDIARMID and Mr. L. C. Gooch were married on March 10, at the home of the bride's parents, Professor and Mrs. E. W. McDiarmid. The ceremony was performed by Professor McDiarmid and President E. M. Waits. Mr. and Mrs. Gooch will make their home in Jackson, Miss.

1929

MISS MINNIE ENGLER was married on January 11, in Fort Worth, to Mr. Irvin Waldman, who is a graduate of Rice Institute. Mr. and Mrs. Waldman are making their home in Houston.

MR. WILLIAM BALCH has recently returned from Europe, where he spent several months in travel and in study. He took considerable work at the University of London in the field of music, looking to an advanced degree. Mr. Balch has established a business connection in Fort Worth for the present.

MISS VIRGINIA GRIGGS is teaching English in the high school at Moody, Texas.

1930

RALPH "BUSTER" WALKER was married on February 14, at Amarillo, to MISS BETTY MATHIS, ex-'30. "Buster" Walker was a star end and punter on the varsity football team in 1928 and 1929. He was also one of the leading baseball pitchers in the S. A. C. from 1928 to 1930, being captain of the Frog nine in 1930.

HOWARD GRUBBS has been elected head coach of the Lufkin High School and will report there for duty on September 1. In 1929 Grubbs was the unanimous choice for all-conference quarterback in the S. A. C. His heady generalship and unsurpassed forward passing placed him far ahead of all competitors. Grubbs played baseball at T. C. U. for three years and was the captain of the varsity team in his junior year.

WM. T. STITT, ex-'30, is attending Texas Tech at Lubbock this year, embarking upon an engineering course. A letter from him expresses his appreciation of the value to him of his preliminary course of study at T. C. U.

MISS MAXINE RUSSELL became the bride of W. R. PALMER, ex-'28, of Sulphur Springs, on February 6. The wedding took place at Ballinger, Texas, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Russell. These popular young people are well remembered at T. C. U. During her residence at T. C. U., Mrs. Palmer was the May Queen one year, one of the Horned Frog beauties in 1929, and the T. C. U. representative to the All-Collegiate Circus in Dallas. Mr. Palmer made his letter as a center on the varsity football team. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are at home at 201 College Street in Sulphur Springs.

RAINEY ELLIOTT and MISS JENNIE LOUISE COPELAND, ex-'29 were married in Ballinger, Texas, on December 19, 1930. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are living in Hobbs, N. M., where Mr. Elliott is working for the Oil Well Supply Company.
