Fort Worth Gets $250,000

THE Centennial Commission of Control has generously allocated $250,000 of the appropriation which the legislature voted for memorials throughout the State to build a live stock show in Fort Worth.

The industry that makes Fort Worth a great trade mart helped to build Texas. The cattle industry is associated with the development of Texas. Romance, adventure and courage and Texans in the cattle business have become legendary.

Fort Worth is not so far distant from Dallas. Many of the visitors will motor over to see the Live Stock show, the development of which developed Texas.

It is to be hoped that the Fort Worth part in the Centennial will be planned and executed with the idea of portraying the early history of the industry in something like its original setting.
