

Rams Favored To Top Texans

By EDWARD ZELTNER.

FLANKED by their 40-piece swing band, the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University "Big Appled" into Gotham yesterday, had an audience with Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia and then "Susie-Qued" to the Polo Grounds for a workout.

Aldrich, Glenn Rogers, I. B. Hale, Don Looney. In the Leaping Frog backfield are John Hall, Linnon Blackmon, Dave O'Brien and Pat Clifford.

Today, in the horse-shoe ball park, the gridiron gamblers from the Lone Star State will attempt to place a large dent in the Rose Bowl aspirations of the Fordham Rams before an estimated audience of 40,000.

While the marauding Rams, who are 8½ to 5 favorites to win, will be "holding that line" (maybe) against the fandango fancying Frogs, New York University will come face to face with an undefeated and untied eleven in Lafayette in the Yankee Stadium, and Columbia will be battling a subdued band of Bears from Brown on Baker Field.

Manhattan is missing from the weekly local football picture, scrapping with Kentucky in far off Lexington.

Boasting a big line, measuring six feet, three inches on the ends, and with tackles averaging in the neighborhood of 215 pounds, Texas Christian also possesses a diversified attack, factors which tend to make today's struggle an uncertain one. The Frogs may rest their case chiefly on the accomplishments of Little Davey O'Brien, their 150-pound quarterback, who is a 60-minute man.

Although Bernie Bloom, N. Y. U. ace passer, will not be back in the lineup the Violet Violets are conceded a margin over Lafayette, which appears to be stepping out of its class in this contest. Although the team from Easton boasts successive victories over Upsala, Gettysburg and Georgetown, N. Y. U. is the betting favorite at 3½ to 1.

Big Ed Williams, Colored backfield star, who ran wild against Lafayette last season when N. Y. U. scored 46 to 0, is again expected to be the Violets' big menace.

The battle-scarred Browns, crushed previously by Harvard and Dartmouth, possess little with which to fight against Sid Luckman and the Lions, and you can write your own ticket on the outcome of this one. Manhattan, although on foreign "serl," is a 6 to 5 betting favorite over Kentucky.

6 Cent Award In Bieber Suit

WHEN Isadore Bieber, race horse owner, called Dr. Clarence Richards, race track veterinarian, Canada draft dodger, liar and narcotic fiend, he was guilty of gross slander, but the damage inflicted on the Doc by these accusations amounted only to six cents.

A jury before Supreme Court Justice Louis A. Valente which had been hearing testimony for four days in Richards' suit against Bieber for $175,000, so ruled in a sealed verdict yesterday.

Many famous race track personalities were brought into the case including Joseph E. Widener, William Woodward, George Dangerfield, Hirsch Jacobs, Johnny Coburn, Ben Davis and others and during the course of the testimony, it was testified by Dr. Richards that "doped horses" were permitted to run on New York tracks for a period of four years with full knowledge and consent of the Jockey Club.

Yale and Harvard Given Edge

By GUSTAVE STEIGER.

EASTERN football goes to bat today against opposition from the Middle West, South and Southwest, in addition to the usual intra-sectional hauling and mauling, brightened by the Yale-Cornell and Harvard-Dartmouth offerings.

The local intersectional item will find Fordham aligning its forces against Texas Christian in the Polo Grounds, while the powerful Duke squad comes north to joust with Colgate, and Alabama, another of Dixie's finest, visits George Washington in the capital.

Unbeaten Syracuse should take Maryland in Baltimore and Army is rated over Washington of St. Louis.

Yale, at 8 to 5, seems the logical choice to remain unbeaten in the New Haven Bowl, but football does not run to logic when the returns come in. Cornell is better than the Syracuse setback might indicate. A comparison of first downs, yards gained rushing and run-back of punts between Cornell with its last three foes, Syracuse, Princeton and Colgate, is illuminating.

Temple Beats Carnegie, 7-0

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Temple University scored somewhat of an upset when it defeated Carnegie Tech by a score of 7—0 in Temple Stadium. The lone score came early in the first period, when after two scoring chances, Chris Pappas, Temple's flashy back, went over for the touchdown and kicked the extra point.

Rain started to fall shortly after the game started, making the field a quagmire, and both teams resorted to a punting duel almost throughout the balance of the game.

Temple gained 104 yards from scrimmage while the visitors got 145. The winners scored but one first down to the Skibo's seven.

FIRST PERIOD.

A fumble by Napotnik, recovered by Mesics on the Carnegie 31, gave Temple an early scoring opportunity but Lukac and Renzo were held and two forwards fell incomplete. Condit kicked to the Temple 21, but Kovacevich got off a beautiful 65-yard punt in return that went out of bounds on the Skibo's nine. Carnegie punted and Temple got the ball on the 25. Lukac and Renzo plunged to a first down on the six from where a Carnegie offside penalty put the ball on the one. Pappas went over on the first play, then added the extra point to put Temple ahead, 7 to 0, as the period ended.

SECOND PERIOD.

Condit and Carnelly plunged to the 17, but on the fourth down, Lee lost a yard and Temple took the ball. Carnelly returned Temple's punt 10 yards to the Temple 35, but Grandovich recovered a Tech fumble on the Temple 30 as the half ended.

THIRD PERIOD

Both teams played straight football, running plays mostly inside the tackles. Carnegie reached the Temple 37 and Carnelly kicked out of bounds on the Temple 17. Kovacevich got off a 73-yard punt. Carnelly fumbled and Katz recovered for Temple on the Carnegie 16. Three plays gained only six yards, and Carnegie took the ball on downs on its own 10.

FOURTH PERIOD.

Carnegie recovered a Temple fumble in midfield early in the last period, but, after Lee had plunged to a first down on the Temple 40, Carnelly fumbled on an attempted forward pass and Temple took the ball on its own 46. The rain continued unabated and many times outs were taken to wipe the ball.

Trio From Texas—Gunnin' for Rams

They face Fordham today. Jarrin' Johnny Hall (left) of Kaufman, Tex., who'll be in TCU backfield, can do 100 yards in ten seconds. Davey O'Brien (center) has been dubbed a second Sammy Baugh; Davey has better slinging average than Sammy. Pat Clifford (right) has made great rep as one-hand pass catcher. He also runs with ball in one mitt.

Rams 8-5 Favorites

By Gene Ward.

A Dallas Irishman—David O'Brien—is the dynamite with which Texas Christian hopes to blast the vaunted Fordham defense today in the Polo Grounds. A Tom Thumb back who can hide under a ten-gallon hat, O'Brien is the first good passer Fordham has faced this year. With his aeriels, he may triumph where Pitt's Goldberg, with his running, failed. Other local features include Columbia vs. Brown at Baker Field (4-1 Columbia) and N. Y. U. vs. Lafayette at Yankee Stadium (3-1 N. Y. U.). Manhattan is in Lexington to face Kentucky; City College in Geneva, N. Y., for Hobart.

Fordham was an 8-5 favorite as a special train, carrying the T. C. U. football rodeo, rolled into Penn Station at noon yesterday. Sombreroed Texas rooters marched on City Hall, where the Mayor, dusting off his own cowboy headgear, made a speech: "You can have anything in New York except victory over Fordham," he promised. The Texans may outguess the Mayor for these reasons:

O'Brien Also Runs.

(1) When O'Brien throws, the great Fordham line, which dumped Goldberg and Co., can only watch the wafted pigskin.

(2) Fordham sophomore backs, good but inexperienced, may get their pass-defense signals crossed.

(3) Fordham can't set itself for passes alone. Not only does O'Brien toss (40 completed out of 104 for 393 yards), he also runs, having an average of over 3 yards a try. O'Brien, coupled with John Hall, clever halfback, gives T. C. U. two threat runners.

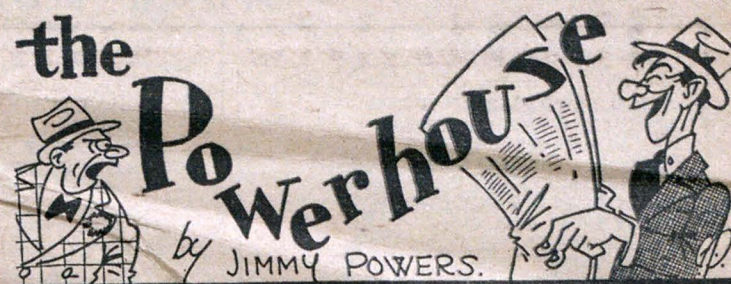

All this "dope" may be wrong. Coach Jim Crowley declared at a huge Fordham rally. "My backs may be sophomores, but they're good. I'll risk their mistakes for their potential touchdown value. I prefer them in there instead of plodding seniors."

Fleet Fordham Backs.

Fordham will start three sophs in the backfield, Fortunato, quarterback, Kazlo, left half, and Principe, fullback. Granski, right halfback, is a junior.

Neither N. Y. U. nor Columbia figure to encounter much difficulty. Lafayette, whose big claim to fame is a triumph over Georgetown, has Tommy Kearns, clever passer and

Coach Dick Harlow tells of the afternoon his best halfback was knocked woozy from repeated line bucks. Dick called time, rushed on field, and tried a few fast questions to discover if his star's noodle was hitting on all cylinders.

"What town are we in, Bill?" whispered Harlow.

"Washington."

"That's right, my boy. And we're playing—?"

"Catholic U."

"Right again."

"And what day is today?"

The slap-happy boy pondered a moment, then broke into an idiotic grin.

"You can't fool me, Coach. It's PAY DAY."

"Take this man out," yelled the embarrassed Harlow. "Take him away quick! He's CRAZY!"

So old Connie Mack will stick it another season. Cornelius will be 75 years old two days before Christmas. Jim Turner, not Cliff Melton, is the star rookie of the season, according to latest figures. Jim won 20, lost 11 and yielded 2.97 runs a game to Cliff's 3.15. Cliff won 20, lost 9. Lou Fette won same number but lost one more. Grissom was fourth best with 3.42 runs. Boston writers insist Brother Vince is every bit as good a FIELDER as Joe DiMaggio. Average big league manager lasts 2½ years. Hipp mob advertised Lopez-Detton to a positive finish. They wrestled 1 hour, 16 minutes. Match was called a DRAW at 11 P. M. At that hour, Steinke and Hyatt crawled through the ropes. Gen. John Phelan sat in a front pew. American Leaguers beat National Leaguers before 8,000 at L. A. last week, 7-2. Bob Feller filled the bases (he hit Arky Vaughan) in the first with no one out, then fanned three to end the inning. In all he struck out 10. Bob Nestell has never been the same since Pastor ruined him.

Cosmopolites support La-Guardia-Dewey. L. to r. we have the famed society beauty, Mrs. William Rhineland Stewart and your happy pal, Babe Ruth; the next grin belongs to Tommy Hitchcock, polo's best. Neysa McMein, the illustrator, laughs as Elsa Maxwell gives the microphone a workout. Grant Rice, second row, wears his hat at a collegiate angle. And the lovely lady, extreme right, is Mrs. Babe Ruth.

Here's our roll of honor for small schools: Alfred U., undefeated this year, has a colored ace in Bo Johnson, and a great ball runner in Bob Glynn. Mazza is distinguishing himself at Moravian. Juanita has Bob Jenkins. Middlebury has Anderson and Mahoney, crack tackle and back, respectively. Little Hartwick College, on the upgrade in football, has an elegant backfield duo in Monahan and McGovern, the latter a New York boy—a frosh playing varsity!

Babe Ruth and Tommy Hitchcock headlined a LaGuardia-Dewey rally at the Embassy Theatre yesterday with the snappy keynote: "Civic life—or sports, why change a winning combination?" Popular payoff for varsity stars is to give each player a dozen tickets which are promptly peddled to specks. Saw movies of Purdue-Northwestern. The Wildcats were full of horseshoes. If Lazzeri is dopy enough to take an "assistant manager" job he'll be a mighty unpopular man on that Cub bench. If you're smart you'll add this clause to all grid wagers: "Bet's off if it rains." Joe DiMaggio will ask the Yanks to add the $5,000 he could have made playing basketball this Winter to his Spring contract. Glad to hear Bing Miller's back as Red Sox coach. Jack Kearns is trying to make a Gastanaga-Adamick match, two righthand murderers! Bill Keefe of the New Orleans Times-Picayune explains why Tulane was "froze out" of New York: The Green Wave drew 51,000 paid admissions against Colgate in '34. Fordham, Columbia and N. Y. U. then told the promoter who has a monopoly on the Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds that these outside colleges should not be booked into their territory."

Trainers complain about regulation which makes it mandatory for players to wear socks. The socks (when worn without stockings) are held by adhesive tape which binds the legs and prevents blood circulation in some instances. Very few pass interference penalties are called these Saturdays. As Chick Meehan says "Under the new rules you practically have to pull a knife on the other guy to get penalized!" Fraternity politics caused Stuldreher to abolish captains at Wisconsin. Jack Torrance, the lad who figured in the Louisiana dive story (with instructions on Hippodrome stationery) is now driving a police patrol wagon in Baton Rouge. Wes Schulerich turned wrestler.

Latest on Sammy Baugh: The Redskins were at practice yesterday. The coach turned to his star sharpshooter and said, "Now Sammy, when your end runs out, throw the ball fairly high. Throw it right at his eye!"

"Which eye?" asked Sam, softly.

Loses to Day in 10

By Jack Mahon

Davey Day, the Chicago stringbean, landing the cleaner punches, gained a disputed ten-round decision over Enrico Venturi of Italy in the Hippodrome feature before 2,609 last night. Day weighed 136 and Venturi 139.

Temple Squeezes Carnegie, 7 to 0

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP).—Capitalizing on a 15-yard punt by Merlyn Condit, Carnegie halfback, early in the first period before a rainstorm turned the field into a quagmire, Temple tonight scored a surprise 7-0 victory over Carnegie Tech.

Rain had just started as Kovacevich, Temple, got off a 65-yard kick to the Carnegie 9. Two plays picked up only a yard. Condit punted only 15 yards beyond the line of scrimmage.

Fumbles Wreck Havoc.

Temple's double reverse, Pappas to Lukac to Renzo, picked up eight yards to the 19. On a reverse, Lukac plunged 13 yards to the Carnegie 6. The Carnegie line was offside and Temple had the ball on the 1. Pappas plunged over. He added the point.

Carnegie, surprise victor over Notre Dame last week, took the play away from Temple the remainder of the game, getting seven first downs to one, but 12 fumbles of the wet ball worked havoc with the Skibos.

Carnegie's best scoring opportunity came in the second period when Carnelly, sub back, ran back a Temple kick 25 yards to the Temple 25. Temple took the ball on downs on the 18.

The excellent punting of Kovacevich played a large part in Temple's victory. In addition to his 65 yard kick in the first period, he got off a 79 yard kick in the third.

It was a hard-fought battle from start to finish, and the gallery mob hooted the decision for three or four minutes after the boys left the ring. The decision of the judges and referee, however, was unanimous.

We gave it to Day, five rounds to four, with one even. Davie landed hard and often to Enrico's midsection, and made the Italian miss plenty.

Enrico Does Scant Damage.

He also took Venturi's roundhouse left hooks on his glove, shoulder and elbow. From a distance it might have appeared that Enrico was landing some terrible punches, for the thumps could be heard all over the arena. Actually he did little damage to Day.

The judges were Charlie Lynch and George Le Cron, and Billy Cavanaugh referee. The net gate amounted to $4,484.37.

The semi-final, an eight-round, went to Irving Eldridge, 135, Bronx, who took the decision from Julio Gonzales, 135½, Puerto Rico.

Pete Scalzo, 126, stopped Glenn Hutchins, 124½, in 2:39 of the 6th round. Nick Camarata, 134, defeated Gus Gonzales, 133½, (6). Roy Vallee, 145, defeated Jackie Nelson, 146, (4).

Eli Holds Slight Edge

By Harry Forbes

New Haven, Oct. 22.—For the second time since the turn of the century the blue-clad sons of old Eli and the Big Red Horde of Cornell will collide this afternoon at the Yale Bowl in one of the East's outstanding football attractions. The wise ones, citing Yale's All-America back, Clint Frank, say Yale will march to its fourth straight triumph and will back their boast with odds of 9-5. Crippled and without the assured services of their star back, George Peck, Cornell will attempt to avenge last week's upset by Syracuse and to score its first victory over the Blue in the series which dates back to 1889.

In that year Yale shellacked the Red Horde twice, 56-6, and 72-0. Last year they made it three in a row when they won, 23-0. Once again everything favors the Elis but about 55,000 are expected to watch for an upset.

Peck, who is out with a chipped vertebra, may see some action. It is unlikely, however, that he'll start. Coach Carl Snively announced he would start Bob Boochever at right halfback and Bill Moulton at full in his revamped backfield set-up. Eichlee and Baker will round out the backfield.

Frank Leads Attack.

Frank, of course, will lead the Eli attack and it is on his passing that the fate of the game will hinge. Cornell is weak against passes and if Clinton pitches as many strikes as usual, Yale won't have to worry about a running attack.

Yale's Coach Ducky Pond said: "If the team plays as well as it did last week, we should win."

The Dartmouth-Harvard clash at Cambridge, the Pitt-Wisconsin and Boston College-Detroit battles are also attracting considerable attention in the East. The first named is an even money bet with Pitt a 3-1 choice and Detroit a slight favorite over the Bostonians.

Coach Earl Blaik is famous for developing smoothly working teams with a flair for open play and a passing attack. He has Bill Hutchinsson, a bucking back, who is supposedly better than his predecessor, Johnnie Handrahan, and Bob McLeod, a hard runner who is outstanding on the reverse plays.

Against the Green Mountain terrors, Coach Dick Harlow will send the best Harvard team in many seasons.

Trouble For Detroit.

Detroit comes to Boston College with a great reputation, but is bound to have trouble with the Eagles. The Beantowners have belted Northeastern and Kansas State and tied Temple.

At South Bend, Notre Dame is ready to give us its all in an effort to snap out of the worst slump in years. The Irish have the power to beat Navy.

What well may be the No. 1 game of the day will be staged at Nashville when Louisiana State meets Vanderbilt, the surprise team of the South.

On the Coast the highly touted University of California will be tested by the Trojans of Southern California. California looms as the Western representative in the Rose Bowl, having won five straight but the Trojans have shown tremendous improvement in their last two starts, walloping Oregon and beating Ohio State.

Four Straight!

Wall Rides Empire Winners

By Joe Haggerty

Jockey Nick Wall rode four straight winners at Empire City yesterday. He finished first with Count Edward, 11-5, in the featured Hilltop Purse, Early Delivery in the second best event, Cattistock in the third and Continuity in the nightcap. The best of the meeting had been a double.

Count Edward leaped to the front from the barrier, opened up a big gap at the first turn and held it safely to scamper home ahead of Fencing by three lengths. Swahili took the show. It was Count Edward's third straight victory.

The camera showed Early Delivery, winner of the fourth, the Cold Spring purse. He broke fast, was rushed into command at the quarter and just managed to hold off the final spurt of Sir Raleigh, who came from nowhere to all but win. Sizzling L. gained third money.

Isaroma, starting poorly from the barrier, opened up with a great burst of speed on the turn for home to take Feng's measure in the photo-finish second, a five and a half furlong sprint for maidens. Camelot was third.

Cattistock, 2-5, took the third scramble after Wall steered him to an early lead. Mythical Lady, forcing the pace throughout, took the place from Wise Fox.

Bush Turns Down Bid to Manage B's

Minneapolis, Oct. 22 (AP).—Five successful years as manager of Minneapolis, and the pleasant associations built up here, outweighed today for Donie Bush a "flattering offer" to manage the Boston Bees. Bush, who had piloted four different major league clubs before coming to the Millers, said he wired Bob Quinn, Bees' President, his decision to remain as Minneapolis manager during 1938.

"It was hard to pass up a chance to return to the major leagues as a manager," Bush said, "but I have been so happy in Minneapolis I am really glad I have decided to stay. Mike Kelley, Minneapolis president, the newspapers and the fans have been so grand to me I didn't have the heart to leave."

Bush's Minneapolis teams have won three Association pennants.

"Mr. Quinn made me a fine offer to manage the Bees," he continued, "but I have reached the age where money isn't everything. Fortunately, I am well fixed financially and can afford to turn down the Boston proposition."

"With the exception of the three years I managed my home town team of Indianapolis, I never was so happy as I have been here."

Active in Major League.

During his long baseball career Bush also directed the Senators, White Sox, Pirates and Reds.

The failure of Bush to accept leaves the Boston situation very much up in the air. It is understood that Bob Quinn is not favorably disposed toward Casey Stengel, former Dodger manager, as a candidate.

Tony Lazzeri, now dickering with the Cubs, is said not to be interested, even should the deal with the Cubs fall through.

Bob Coleman, manager of the Scranton team, a Bee farm, is a possibility, as is Bill Meyer, manager of the Oakland team of the Pacific Coast League.

Richards Given 6c In Slander Suit

Dr. Clarence R. Richards, suing Isadore Bieber, well-known race track agent, for $175,000 in a libel and slander suit, was awarded 6 cents damages in Supreme Court yesterday. Judge Louis A. Valente reserved decision on a motion by the plaintiff's counsel to set aside the verdict.

runner. Brown, bashed by Harvard and Dartmouth, has Jack Laughry, son of its coach, Tuss. Each spark-plugs his team.

The tip-off on Brown comes in the words of Lou Little: "We haven't been able to scout Brown's plays, because they haven't had the ball long enough." This should be a field day for Sid Luckman—a grand chance to fatten his already bloated forward passing average.

Jaspers Strong, Smart.

Last year Manhattan clipped Kentucky. This year's Jasper outfit is stronger, smarter. Kentucky, pushed around by Georgia Tech, 32-0, in its only major test this year, doesn't look like enough of a football team to win, despite hard-running Bob Davis, who scored five touchdowns against W. & L.

Coach Chick Meehan shook up his squad the day before steaming out on a Blue Grass special. He gave his lads another lecture after a light workout in the University's stadium in Lexington, yesterday. Kentucky will be unfortunate in catching the Jaspers on the bounce after that Villanova defeat.
