Dear Amon:

I have no purpose in mind to write you except the desire to let you know that I have been thinging of you a great deal during the recent past and that I am hoping for your early return to perfect good health.

You have had a great career and are deserving of a lessening in the vigorous work that you have been doing through the years. Allow me to express to you my deep since of obligation for the friendship which you have extended to me during the period of our acquaintance.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely,
