Dear Amon:

I wish to thank you for the Complimentary Dinner Booklet in honor of the Crew Members of the Round-The-World B-50 Bomber "Lucky Lady II". It was very interesting to read about this spectacular feat in circling the Globe and it shows the increasing importance of air power in national defense.

The other evening Jack O'Connell dropped in, as he does once in a while, and we had a pleasant evening talking over the old times in the golfing days at White Sulphur Springs, Pinehurst, etc. In looking over the old list Jack seemed to be pretty well informed in regard to whether the people were now living or had passed on. We surely used to have some good times--do you keep this up with the advertising crowd?

Of course I am pretty well in touch with the affairs of Fort Worth through my family and also have reports on you of all your activities through George and Bill Stripling and others.

Business in this section of the country is very quiet. We have over 30,000 people loafing in the city of Lawrence and the future does not look so good. All kinds of business is very quiet. If it keeps up I will have to be looking for a job.

Let me hear from you some time, Amon, and if you ever come this way, why give me a ring.

With kindest regards

Brad
H. Bradford Lewis.
