ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

November 25th, 1932.

Mr. Amon G. Carter,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Amon:-

Just a line to let you know that I am only one of a number of the directors of The Aviation Corporation who feel quite the same as you do, and that at our meeting Tuesday, I believe that considerable progress was made toward getting some real aviation talent and brains on our Board of Directors, rather than a number of prominent business men, unfamiliar with the problems of the industry.

As I assured you over the telephone on Monday evening, the members of the Board in New York have certainly been spending a lot of time and trying to do their level best to straighten out the present complications in the most harmonious fashion for all concerned, and particularly have I noted their repeated expressions of appreciation for the splendid contributions which have always been made by a number of our out-of-town directors, including yourself, and that these past services should be clearly kept in mind during the present negotiations.

I am looking forward to seeing you next week in New York, when it looks as though something concrete may be done to solve this present problem.

With all best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

George R. Hann
