You should, says dorothol Shivers. "Texas is grateful for the ref-erence," he said in Austin. "To be criticized by a Communist pa-per is about the highest compli-ment I can think of."

The trade union paper, Prace, gave its definition of the Texan spirit in an article reviewing the general's career under the title, "Mercenary of Warmongers."

The article started like this:

The article started like this: "Like many other reactionary politicians and soldiers, General Eisenhower is a son of Texas, the land of cattle, cotton and oil. This land equipped Eisenhower with a local patriotism that was expressed during the war with a challenge 'buy war bonds and help Texas win the war.' "In this Texan spirit, anti-progressive, anti-democratic, as haughty as a cattle breeder, and racist, Eisenhower suceeded in reaching the age of 50 and re-maining an unimportant noth-ing."

The Communist newspaper Ce Soir published a front-page editorial, titled "General, Stay at Home," which called Eisenhower "a pupil of MacArthur" and attacked General MacArthur's "crime of Seoul."

Eisenhower will confer with Prime Minister Pleven Tuesday, informants said. His temporary headquarters will be in the luxurious Hotel Astoria.

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, Western Union defense chairman and wartime leader under Eisenhower's supreme command in Western Europe, said in London that he would confer with Eisenhower here Sunday.

"I can say nothing about any appointment to his staff," Montgomery added.
