

OFFICE OF DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Commodore Hotel
New York, N. Y.
December 9, 1952

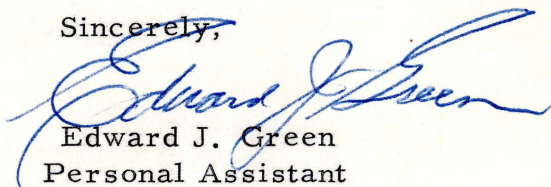

Dear Miss Deakins:

Since your letter of December 5th, I talked with Mr. Carter on the telephone and at that time perhaps gave him the information you wanted.

Insofar as I know, General and Mrs. Eisenhower will spend Christmas at 60 Morningside Drive, New York, New York, but there is a possibility that other plans may develop. If so, I shall try to keep you advised.

Perishable goods may be sent to General and Mrs. Eisenhower either at 60 Morningside Drive or here at The Hotel Commodore, New York City 17.

Sincerely,

Edward J. Green
Personal Assistant
