August 8, 1942.

Dear Amon:

I have just finished reading the editorial entitled "COURAGE IN PUBLIC OFFICE" that appeared in the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM of Monday evening, August 3rd.

I am taking the liberty of making some copies of this editorial and sending them to a good many of my friends. I am also forwarding the original which you sent me to Max Gardner as while he may have seen it I thought he would enjoy it and would also show it to the Senator if it has not already been brought to his attention, which it probably has. I compliment you on this editorial and send you my personal appreciation of it.

I saw Ed Swasey yesterday. He had just returned from the Bohemian Grove. He told me that he had talked to you on the telephone and that you said you were not feeling too well and were going to spend some time on the farm. I trust and pray this letter finds you feeling better.

I send you my very best wishes.

Sincerely,

V. L. W.
