Amon:

It was awfully good to have talked to you yesterday, and I really did enjoy it. I was talking to our mutual friend, Tom O'Hara, afterwards, and he wants to be remembered most kindly to you.

I have been badly tied up, Amon, for the past four weeks on the Convair transaction which is very difficult and has been causing a great deal of trouble. That is why you have not heard from me before. Last night again I was up until after two on the long distance telephone about it.

In talking to you yesterday, I completely forgot that I was supposed to go to Ithaca Thursday evening for two days of Cornell Trustees' meetings on Friday and Saturday. I may not be able to go because of this deal, and if I cannot, I will telephone you to see if it is convenient for Dorothy and me to pay our respects to you and Mrs. Carter.

I cannot tell you how happy I was about what you told me, and of course I will keep it confidential. I do want to say, Amon, that I do not think anyone deserves these blessings more than you. You are a great citizen and a great American, and even now I can see that you are devoting your energies primarily for the public good. You have my admiration, respect and every good wish.

*As ever,
Sincerely,
Victor*
