Dear Amon:

I have just returned to Dallas, after having been gone about two weeks, and my secretary has brought to my attention the editorial page from your issue of April 29th, which you so kindly sent me.

The whole thing makes very interesting reading indeed and to say that your reply to Mr. Ickes is a master-piece is putting it very mildly. My sincere congratulations for a fine piece of work well done!

With best wishes and kindest personal regards,
I am

Sincerely yours.
