Hon. Harold L. Ickes,
Petroleum Coordinator,
Department of the Interior,
Washington, D. C.

Via: Airmail-Special Delivery.

Dear Mr. Ickes:

At a Meeting of the Independent Producers of this District, held this afternoon, fourteen nominations were submitted at the Meeting to serve on the Regional Production Committee. Out of these nominations it was the sense of the Meeting to create an Executive Committee of five active members.

Of the names submitted, we think the following men are fully efficient and qualified:

1. Charles F. Roesser, Chairman,
2. Amon G. Carter,
3. W. A. Moncrief,
4. Sid W. Richardson,
5. Charles N. Osmond.

All five of these men have occupied important positions in production of oil in the various fields of the State covering a period of many years. In addition, they are all men of affairs, of known ability, of wide experience and are deeply interested in the present and future of the Oil industry, in all of its phases, besides enjoying the widest acquaintance among the oil producers of this State, and it would be difficult to select another group of five individuals who enjoy the large personal following which these men possess. This group have daily employed their lives in the pursuit and development of the Oil Fields of Texas.

Through having the aid of this talent, the National Program will benefit by the sincere assistance and help of a strong, patriotic group and their judgment and decisions will be indorsed and supported by practically every Independent Producer of this entire District.
Hon. H.L.I. No. 2.

Trusting that the foregoing information will serve some useful purpose in formulating your programme and in the selection of the best men available for the service of your Department, we are

Respectfully yours,

BRODERICK CALVERT,
