America's Sincerity Is Challenged

Authoritative News Agency Blasts at Publicity Given on Details of Negotiations.

'No Tangible Evidence of Progress' in Parleys, Is Unofficial Comment.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4 (AP).—Japanese Minister Yoshiaki Miura announced Thursday night his government had ordered him home at once to consult on the "actual situation" in Mexico as a result of the heightening crisis in the Pacific between Japan and the United States.

TOKIO, Dec. 5 (Friday) (AP).—The authoritative Japanese news agency Domei said Friday that "Japan can not accept" the stipulations of the document which the United States Government handed to the Japanese ambassador Nov. 26 in the course of negotiations aimed at maintenance of peace in the Pacific.

Quoting observers described as thoroughly reliable, although unofficial, Domei said:

"Such a document can not serve as a basic datum in Japanese-American negotiations henceforth.

"Japanese-American conversations have taken place twice since the United States handed over to Japan the document in question, and the United States Government has sent the Japanese inquiries pertaining to certain questions.

"But there is no tangible evidence of progress of the negotiations."

Because of Domei's close connections with the government, Americans considered the Domei statement to be an accurate forecast of the eventual Japanese reply to the American questions.

Domei further quoted observers as charging that "unilateral disclosure by Secretary Hull of details of the negotiations has made the situation still graver."

"Hull's exposure," the statement said, "creates doubt whether the United States is earnestly willing to reach an agreement through the current negotiations, especially in view of the fact it was made when the situation was most delicate, with no satisfactory conclusion having been arrived at, despite the presence in Washington of Saburo Kuruo (Japan's special envoy) for 17 long days."

3 Bags of U S Mail, Dated 1852, Found in Old House

Pouches of Missives, Yellow With Age, Believed to Have Been Stolen, Are of Historical and Sentimental Interest.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4 (AP).—Three bags of United States mail—believed stolen 89 years ago—have been found in the attic of an old brick house by a young couple renovating the place.

Mr. and Mrs. James Heugh discovered the canvas pouches, faded letters and newspapers dated 1852, in the house at 316 South Twelfth Street.

Among the 100 pieces of mail was much material of interest to historians. The cancelled stamps also are believed to be valuable.

Postal authorities expressed belief a copy of the New York Herald of Nov. 2, 1852, found in the bags, established the date of the robbery. That was election day when voters chose Franklin Pierce, a Democrat, to succeed New York's Millard Fillmore, last of the Whigs, as President of the then 31 States.

Chief Postal Inspector John W. Johnston, to whom the Heughs turned over the valuable cache, said: "It will take days of search of old postal records to learn the circumstances of the robbery. We may never get to the bottom of it."

The letters were not in envelopes.

The party arrived at Municipal Airport in a special American Airlines plane at 5:45 p. m., accompanied by officials of the company, which has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Administration for permission to extend its service from Fort Worth to Mexico City. The group, which includes Salvador Franco Urias, federal senator from Durango who introduced recent legislation closing many German and Italian consulates in Mexico, will appear as witnesses at a CAA hearing set for Monday in Washington. They will spend the weekend in New York.

In addition to Senator Urias, whose three daughters attended a convent school in El Paso and who is regarded as one of the foremost advocates of continental solidarity in Latin America, the delegation consists of:

Leopoldo H. Palazuelos, Mexico City, president of the Association of Mexican Chambers of Commerce.

Robert E. Griffith, Mexico City, vice president of Wells Fargo & Co., express.

Rodolfo Junco de la Vega, Monterey, editor and publisher of "El Sol" and "El Norte."

'Nazis May Get Vichy Bases'

LONDON, Dec. 4 (P).—A Reuters dispatch datelined "Somewhere in Europe," said Thursday that the Vichy government had agreed to give Germany all the naval and air bases she requires in French North Africa—if Germany could occupy them without the assistance of the French fleet.

This was described as the main point of agreement reached between Reichsmarshal Goering and Vichy Chief-of-State Petain during their conversation in occupied France recently. In return, the story went on, Vichy would get back more prisoners of war and be granted a reduction in the German occupation costs.

The Reuters dispatch gave "well-informed quarters" as its source for the story.

Flat Tire 'Epidemic' Strikes in Town Again

For the second night in succession, a group of downtown motorists Thursday found tires on their automobiles punctured with a sharp instrument.

Several flat tires were reported in the 1200 blocks of Commerce and Calhoun Streets, Wednesday night about 25 tires were punctured in the same manner.

ROTC Sponsors Seek Title of Miss Goodfellow

A. H. R. O. T. C. student sponsors of Fort Worth senior high schools Thursday entered the contest for the title of Miss Goodfellow 1941 and a trip to Miami's Orange Bowl for the New Year's Day football game between T. C. U. and the University of Georgia.

The winner will be selected by ballot incident to the annual Goodfellows' midnight vaudeville frolic at the Worth Theater on Dec. 19. Each person purchasing a ticket for the show will have the opportunity to vote for one of the 16 contestants.

Accompanied by faculty sponsors, the girls met with Superintendent Green and B. C. Shulkey, assistant superintendent, at the Administration Building. Each eagerly entered the contest and approved arrangements for conducting it.

Sanction also was given by the faculty sponsors and the school officials, who declared their willingness to do what they can to help The Star-Telegram Goodfellow Fund.

Shulkey declared it is the policy of Fort Worth schools to avoid contests among students, but the Goodfellow Fund is such a worthy cause that R. O. T. C. sponsors are being permitted to vie for the title of Miss Goodfellow, provided they have the permission of their parents.

Mexicans on Way to Attend Air Hearing

A party of Mexican business and professional men left by plane for Washington, D. C., Friday after spending the night at the Fort Worth Club.

Monday they will testify at a Civil Aeronautics Authority hearing on an application by American Airlines to extend its service from Fort Worth to Mexico, D. F.

Development of such international service will improve the economic, diplomatic and cultural relations of the two countries, speakers pointed out at an entertainment in the visitors' honor at the Fort Worth Club Thursday night.

Members of the party included Salvador Franco, Urias, Senator from Durango, Mexico; Leopoldo H. Palazuelos, Mexico, D. F., president of the Association of Mexican Chambers of Commerce; Robert E. Griffith, Mexico, D. F., vice president of Wells Fargo & Co.; Rodolfo Junco de la Vega, Monterey, editor and publisher of El Sol and El Norte; Jose R. Salas Lopez, president of the Saltillo chamber; Jose F. Muguerza, Monterey capitalist; Enrique Trevino Garcia, manager of the Monterey chamber; Erby E. Swift, Mexico, D. F., president of American Airlines of Mexico; Manuel Ramirez Cardenas, Mexico, D. F., assistant to the president of American Airlines of Mexico; Hollis Fitch, Eagle Pass; Richard Furman, Laredo, and Howell Jones, San Antonio, the latter three chamber representatives seeking stops on the route, and Col. Howard Wickes, Des Moines and New York, engineer who made preliminary surveys on which the CAA application is based; Del Rentzel, communications superintendent of the airlines, and Roy Mitchell, operations manager, both of New York.

Amon Carter, toastmaster, presented the visitors with Shady Oak hats after the dinner.

Telegraph Workers Pick Federal Union

By a 90 to 2 vote, Fort Worth employees of Western Union Telegraph Company Friday had chosen the Telegraph Workers Federal Union to represent them as collective bargaining agency.

Outcome of the election was announced by Clifford W. Potter, field examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, who supervised the balloting.

R. W. Markgraf, president of the Fort Worth chapter of the union, said 86 of the 100 eligible telegraph company employees here have signed applications for membership in the organization.

Information on Southwest Is Sought for Tour Book

A. L. Shuman, travel committee chairman of the Southwest Motor Club, Friday received a request from the American Automobile Association asking for the latest data on points of interest in Fort Worth and adjacent territory to use in the 1942 edition of the AAA Western Tour Book.

The tour book has a wide circulation among travelers of the United States, being especially available for members of the Southwest Motor Club and other organizations over the country that are affiliated with the AAA. The Lake Worth bomber plant and Quartermaster Depot are among the new points of interest which will be included in the information sent in for the tour book.
