

from AMERICAN AIRLINES

FOR RELEASE October 22, 1950

Karl W. Dahlem has been appointed central regional director of public relations for American Airlines with headquarters in Chicago, according to Rex Smith, vice president - public relations. He replaces Leo Boyle who resigned to accept another position.

Dahlem has served as regional director of public relations for American in New England since January, 1945. A native of Burlington, Iowa, he attended Central Wesleyan College at Warrenton, Missouri. He worked as reporter and editor for mid-western newspapers from 1932 to 1940.

Before joining American in 1945, he served four years as secretary to the Governor of Missouri.

-AA-

HS101650
1400-03-05-10-15-47
50-75-80-95-97

