Honorable John N. Garner
Uvalde, Texas

Dear Mr. Garner:

Please permit me to congratulate you on another successful milestone in a brilliant constructive career. Bless your heart, it is America's loss and a great misfortune that we have not been blessed with more leadership possessing your sound country horseback philosophy and vision. Confidentially, I hope you do not let even old friends on a personal plea drag you into things you might question.

What we need is sound, honest leadership, irrespective of party politics to lead this country back to the sound basis which made it great. I feel General Eisenhower can and will do the job if given sufficient time and help to clean up the terrific mess he inherited. He may not be a professional politician, but I do know he is honest, and loves the country more than mere political expediency. He has a terrific, tough job and deserves the help, support and encouragement of the folks who really fought, bled and died for a free America.

Please pardon this political reference in the telegram which I started to dictate over the telephone for the sole purpose of expressing my love and affection for a great American. May you continue to live and enjoy a life of pleasure and contentment. No one, in my estimation, deserves it more than you do.

Affectionately,

/s/ AMON CARTER
