Dear Mr. Carter:

Your letter of April 13th has been forwarded to me here, where I am in the midst of an extended business trip.

I am glad to know that the hat which I autographed for you arrived safely, and now has taken its place among your collection of similar appendages.

I feel honored to hold the place in your esteem that warrants your having made this request of me.

I want to thank you for the editorials you have been sending, and which are read by me with a great deal of interest.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,
