Dear Mr. Carter:

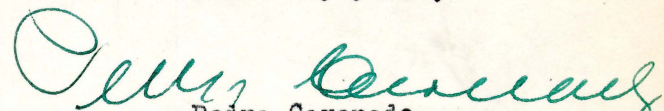

I thank you for your letter September 30th and certainly the pleasure was mine to have seen you again. I am passing your word of thanks to our General Miguel Henríquez Guzmán, and feel confident that he enjoyed your stay.

Your estimation of the advantages of the new air service Fort Worth to México City is perfectly correct, and it should necessarily serve to strengthen the relations of the people of the greatest nation of the world and that of my country, for it is evident that only thru personal contact can we understand each other better and determine that our goal is the same, that our thoughts are for liberty, freedom, and constructive work.

Finally, I should thank you very kindly for the nice hat that you have sent me and which I like very much.

Looking forward with pleasure of seeing you again, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Pedro Coronado
