Dear Juan:

In digging into an accumulation of unanswered mail last night I ran across your letter enclosing the various first-day airmail covers in connection with the South American trip, for which please accept my thanks. I am turning them over to Amon Junior for his collection and I am sure he will be delighted, as I am.

I have been so bogged down since we returned from this wonderful trip that I am not sure whether I have written a letter thanking you for your gracious hospitality in adding the "top-notch" to the many trips that I have had the pleasure of making with you since the original jaunt to South America in 1934. In any event, if I have already thanked you, it will not be amiss to thank both you and Betty, and all your associates, for the great attention, time and expense you devoted to the welfare of your guests.

I was happy to see the Overseas deal closed up and hope it will work out to the convenience and benefit of all parties concerned.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

AGC:mm
