

107 Brown Street
Waxahachie, Texas
July 25, 1944

Mr. Amon G. Carter, President
Fort Worth Star-Telegram
Fort Worth, Texas

Dear Mr. Carter:

I received a letter from my husband today which was written May 14. He said that he had received letters which I had written in March, through the 27th. He also said that he had received two parcels of Luckies which I sent in January with the tobacco labels.

Edward said in this letter that Irvin Carlisle and James Bond were in the same camp and that knew them both real well as they were in N. T. A. C. at Arlington together in 1939. He told me to look up their pictures in an annual he had for that year. Carlisle's aunt lives here in Waxahachie and is a good friend of ours. I think it is nice that they have put all the American Officers in the same camp so they can be together. At least they can all be company for each other.

Edward never does tell very much about the camp. He just says that he will have a lot to tell me when he gets home. In one of his cards he did say that the censor had marked out all the football scores for the games which I told him about last fall. I guess they objected to the figures. I didn't try to send clippings because I knew they wouldn't go, but I wrote about the games in my letters. I know he was disgusted because he had asked me to tell him about all the games.

From the letter he sounds as though he was all right when he wrote it. In this one he didn't ask for anything, which is unusual. So I guess they have most of the things they need.

I hope that you have heard from Amon Jr. too.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Edward G. Battle

