

Friday-

Dear Mrs. Deakins:

Thank you for calling me. I was so shocked I couldn't speak, & I still can't think of anything to say; I'm so upset, and after a sleepless nite, I'm in no better condition to try to tell you how deeply I feel. The whole outfit will surely fight for Amos, his release; we must have faith. And now that we are on the offensive, it can happen soon. It takes so long to get information, and that's not encouraging. I really do believe in my own heart that he will be all right. Consoling words are so useless - the situation is really terrible, & that's all there is to it - to hide our heads in the sand is childish - we just have to face it, take it, and have faith that God will bring him through safely.

Give my love to Mr. Carter - my mind is with you both all the time. I'd like to know how he is when you do find time to write, but I do realize that aside from your work at the office you have a tremendous responsibility - and with it all your heart is so heavy.

Let us hope and pray for Amon's release very soon - I'm equally worried about his dad.

Sincerely,

Jane Wiederma

I received the newspaper you sent the other day and appreciate your thinking of me - am saving it for Sidney.
