

WALTER TRUMBULL
28 WEST 44TH STREET
NEW YORK CITY

March 12, 1943

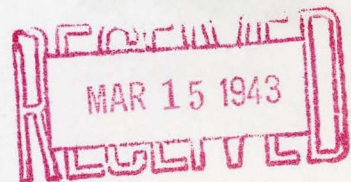

Dear Amon:

It seemed to me you might like these clippings from the morning papers here. Anything which affects you affects your friends. We can only trust and pray that the boy is all right and believe that it is better the Germans than the Japs. This is one of those times when you always wish there was something you could do.

Yours,

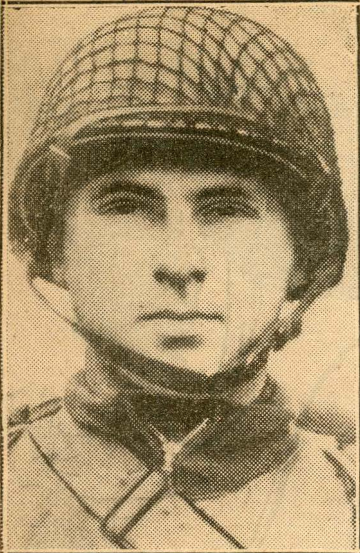

Walter

Mr. Amon G. Carter
Fort Worth Star-Telegram
Fort Worth, Texas

Reported in Nazi Hands

N.Y. NEWS

(Associated Press Wirefoto)

Lieut. Amon Carter Jr.

WITH U. S. Forces in Southern Tunisia, March 3 (Delayed) (AP). —Second Lieut. Amon G. Carter Jr., son of the Fort Worth, Tex., publisher, and a forward observer for a field artillery battalion, has been reported missing in action and is believed to be a prisoner in German hands. Carter was in an advanced observation post facing Faid Pass when a German panzer horde staged an attack Feb. 14. Carter's father is president and publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Amon Carter, Jr., Missing

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 11 (AP).—The Adjutant General's Office in Washington today notified Amon Carter, publisher of the Star-Telegram, that his son, Amon, Jr., an artillery officer, has been missing in North Africa since Feb. 14. He was 23 and a graduate of Culver Military Academy. He left the University of Texas in 1941 to enter the Army.

N. Y. Mirror
March 12.

N. Y.

TRIBUNE

Lt. Amon Carter Jr. Missing

Publisher's Son Believed Captured by Nazis in Tunisia

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN SOUTHERN TUNISIA, March 3 (Delayed) (AP).—Second Lieutenant Amon G. Carter jr., son of a Fort Worth, Tex., publisher, has been reported missing in action while acting as a forward observer for a field artillery battalion, and is believed to be a prisoner of the Germans.

Lieutenant Carter, described by his superior officers as "a fine officer," was on duty at an advanced observation post on Lessouda Hill, facing the Faid Pass, when the Germans attacked on Feb. 14 in that region.

Lieutenant Carter's father is president and publisher of "The Fort Worth Star-Telegram."

PUBLISHER'S SON MISSING

N. Y. TIMES

Lieut. A. G. Carter, Fort Worth, Texas, Is Posted in Tunisia

---

WITH THE UNITED STATES FORCES IN SOUTHERN TUNISIA, March 3 (Delayed) (AP)—Second Lieutenant Amon G. Carter Jr., son of the Fort Worth (Texas) publisher, and a forward observer for a field artillery battalion, has been reported missing in action and is believed to be a prisoner in German hands.

Lieutenant Carter, who was described by his superior officers as 'a fine officer,' was established in an advanced observation post in Lessouda Hill facing Faïd Pass when a German Panzer horde staged a St. Valentine's Day attack, Feb. 14, in that region.

Lieutenant Carter's father is president and publisher of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

---