I know there is nothing I could say that that could possibly ease your anxiety about your boy, but having a son myself, I feel so deeply for you.

after we were together Sunday, I was taken to the hospital for an operation; so I'm inclined to believe it wasn't the drinks at the cocktail party that made me feel so woozy.

Perhaps you won't even read this letter, but in writing it, it makes me feel better.

Please believe me, Mr. Carter when I say my heart aches for you, even tho I feel you
