Dear Mr. Carter:

I have thought of you dozens of times during the past forty-eight hours and always with the kindest personal regards and sincere sympathy. I most earnestly hope that the "missing in action" report may not mean the worst.

It was not my privilege to know your son, but as I have talked with many people during the past two days, many wonderful things have been said about him. In this troubled hour, I would like for you to believe that I am

Your friend,
