

Monday -

Amore Yearest: -

With all my heart
I pray that your child is safe - "Missing" is such an ominous word - But it does, at least still give one a thread to hold to -

I have been so troubled, first with father's death, then 3 days later John's mother died and when I got home and found a letter from mother telling me that Amory was missing it just finished things - Death is something we all know is coming sooner or later, but to have our boys lost from us in this awful, unnecessary war is too cruel.

I can't say anything that will in any way comfort you, but you may be sure my prayers are for your child's safety.

Always affectionately
#26.

