VICE PRESIDENT

My dear Amon,

I was deeply shocked to read about your fine boy, but I imagine that you and everybody else who have given up these boys always had mental reservation from day to day as to what could happen to them. I am just hoping and praying that he is a prisoner of war and when this thing gets over he will come back to you and take his place like I know you had planned for him to do.

I know of nothing I can say that will lighten your burden, but at least I wanted you to know that I was thinking about you.

Sincerely yours,

Dan D. Rogers
