Apt. 45 B - City.

Dear Mr. Carter: -

May I join the legion thousands, in telling you how deeply we deplore the anxious and disturbing news you have so recently received from the War Dept. anent the whereabouts of your gallant soldier son, after his encounter with the Enemy in that epic Tunisian encounter in February? He's still missing, we feel that Amos Dr. is probably interned at some vicious Axis prison, but that somehow, he will return, strong of limb, sound of mind, and rich in adventurous lore, when his miraculous escape or release is effected - We sense the hurt in your heart & sorrow with you in your suspense - But Hope, sustains us, despite fears, apprehensions, doesn't it? I know you must be ^{that} very very proud of your valiant hero, and it must be very gratifying indeed, to have given your Country, so intrepid a Defender - I salute both father & son!

All the members of my little family unit, join with me, in wishing you an early reunion with the Lad who led his regiment so fearlessly -

Very sincerely -
 Pauline J. Trubbs.
