Dear Amon:

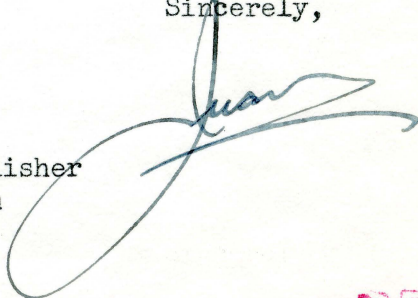

It was with deep regret that I recently heard that your son, Lieutenant Amon Carter, Jr. has been reported missing in action.

At such a time words don't seem to mean very much. I did want to let you know that I was thinking of you, however. Although I had only had the pleasure of meeting him once, I had always heard of how fine a boy and man your son was and therefore I can all the more appreciate your grief at this time.

You and other members of his family, however, in future years will always have this fact to console you - if he had to go there is no finer way to go than on the field of battle. Of this fact you can always be proud.

Betty joins me in our deepest sympathy.

Sincerely,

Mr. Amon G. Carter, Publisher
