Dear Amon:

It seems rather strange to be writing to you saying I am "delighted" to learn that your son is a prisoner of war; however, I know what a relief it is to hear he is alive for that means you will one day be reunited.

I would like to hear further of him if you get any news.

One of my sons is at Casa Blanca, another in Arabia and the third just returned from nine months in the Solomon Islands.

Regards -- and a hearty handshake!

Sincerely,

Paul H. Meigs
