Dear Amon:

Being a prisoner of war is bad enough but this information must give you great relief. While your concern must continue, there is always a prospect of some exchange and I am hopeful that the future will have this good fortune for both Amon, Jr. and you.

Your many friends have been thinking of you constantly and join in the relief you feel, and may I say that your stoic bearing under the strain has been remarkable. Should I be faced with a similar situation your example will be an inspiration to me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Amon Carter
