Dear Amon:

Pursuant to our telephone conversation yesterday, we have this date shipped by American Airlines air freight, on way-bill LGA 294195, thirty-one cases at an approximate weight of 3551 pounds from New York to Fort Worth, Texas, consigned to the Amon G. Carter Foundation, Fort Worth, Texas. This shipment is being sent collect.

You asked about the insurance policy and whether or not it covered the $375. Actually, I didn't give you too good an explanation of that as when I checked into it further I learned that that amount was the excess valuation of the shipment, over and above our normal weight charges and protects the common carrier over and above our normal release value. For your information this was a valuation of $375,000 placed by Mr. Dixon of the Bankers Trust and he has informed us that he has arranged for the Fine Arts Insurance which completes all of the protection required. This valuation charge was arrived at inasmuch as there were 3,750 units at 10¢ per unit. I didn't call Mr. Lewis after I got an explanation of this as I realized that the policy he had would not cover it.

You also asked about the movements of Red Mosier during the Christmas Holidays. Rather than have Miss Reynolds write you a separate letter I obtained the information from her and am passing it on to you, as follows:

On December 20th Mr. and Mrs. Mosier will be at the Melrose Hotel in Dallas. On the 21st they will be at the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells and from December 23rd to 28th with John Biggs in Vernon, Texas.

With best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season and I hope your shipment arrives in excellent shape, I am

Sincerely yours,

R. E. S. Deichler
