

Dear Folks,

How do you like this impromptu stationery? I am kin to my mother all night. When I was getting ready to come to the hospital I took all of my stationery out of my box and brought only envelopes. I thought I left me one package but sure enough I didn't. No, I didn't feel too badly yesterday to write, I was just too lazy. Or maybe you weren't even worried in the first place. I hope not anyway. My fears were confirmed. I'm swollen up on both sides now.

Do you remember how Lynnwood looked when he had them? Well!

The Dr. says that I am very lucky having it on both sides at the same time. So that I won't ever have to worry about the mumps again. I just laughs and say, "Where have I heard that song before?"

I feel fine and haven't had over a half degree of temp. since I have been here so I am enjoying myself. I have my books here so if I want to stay up with the class all I have to do is read all day long. If I read for 12 hours I can cover about what we cover in one ~~hour~~ hour of class. I think I have already told you this once but here you ~~are~~ in case I haven't.

One of my room mates wrote home and told his mother the joke about the boy that dropped his pencil and when he stooped over to pick it up he missed two weeks of algebra. She wrote back and said that she felt so sorry for that boy that dropped his pencil. ~~That~~ that stuff is ceasing to be a joke. ~~That~~. The other day it became necessary for us to understand a certain amount of Trig. and a certain amount of Chemistry before we could advance any more in Physics.

So at the end of two hours we had covered four weeks of Trig. and two weeks of Chem. Then we were able to go on with the Physics lesson. We had to make up for that two hour delay so we just sped up a little bit faster. I think they are going to add that two hours to the course next time if they can get it approved by the Senate.

about two or three letters back you said that you were getting ready to send me a full of tooth parts. If you do I'll send it back so help me. I, and I alone, am in a position to know when I run out of tooth parts.
1. I've roared enough, 2. Its time for dinner 3. I'm out of pepper so I'll quit until tomorrow on the rest day, Love, Joe
