Amon G. Carter,

Fort Worth;
TEXAS.

Dear Sir.

You will see by this letter where I am from. And, you may wonder why I now write you. Well, it only costs me a stamp, and a very little time; and you, perhaps, a little time too, in reading this.

I call your attention to your letter to Gov. Ferguson. In this letter, you say this; -"If there is one point on which the people of Texas are in accord, it is that our educational institutions should be divorced from politics!"-

Now, you folks, down there in Texas have a different view than I do about schools being divorced from politics! - What dictionary do you Texas folks use? Is it Webster? I have a right new unabridged. And this dictionary says "Politics is the science and art of government"

If you folks down there take it for granted that the schools of the state should be "divorced from the science and art of government", as you say in the above quotation, you certainly should be "called" by your Governor.. But, if you assume, (which from your letter, I think you do) that Politics is rotten- Then, I can see where you are right in saying what you do.. But, it sure goes without saying, that our schools all over our fair land, should be pure.. And should be taught the Science and art of government--I have a son-in law at Midfields, near Palacios-B.W. Trull, Sincerely, H. L. F. Roberson
