Mr. Amon G. Carter,

Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Carter:

I have your letter of the 4th referring to trip to the American Petroleum Institute meeting, California. Have not yet been able to determine whether or not I could go to this meeting. Had hoped in case I could go to be able to take the Carter- Ft. Worth Special. I note, however, the change and will arrange accordingly. I thank you for bringing this to my attention.

While having no bearing on this particular subject, I feel that I am not getting too far afield to say to you that I do not believe your popularity has in any way diminished thru the unwarranted recent attack on you. It is well known that a rabbit will fight a lion when cornered; the same is only to be expected from a human form with a rabbit brain. It is pleasing, however, to know the chance the rabbit has.

Thanking you for your other courtesies and hoping to see you in California, if not before, I am

Yours very truly,

FC-htr
