First chapter of an interesting story: Gov. Ferguson invited Amon G. Carter, head of the Board of the Texas Technological College, to resign his place. Provocation of governor: Expressions of admiration by Carter for Dan Moody. Second Chapter: Carter declines to resign, giving as his reason that since the governor didn't appoint him, and since the term for which he was appointed has not expired, he feels it incumbent on him to go ahead with his work. Third Chapter: yet unwritten.
