Honorable Frank C. Walker,
 Postmaster General,
 Washington, D.C.

Amon Junior is with the First Armored Division in North Africa and although we have been writing him almost every day he has not received a letter dated since December Tenth. In other words, he has fifty or six letters enroute PERIOD Meanwhile, we receive letters from him regularly in transit only about ten days time. There is nothing more beneficial and encouraging to the soldiers over seas than receiving letters from home so I wonder what is being done or could be done to remedy the situation? Best regards.

Amon Carter
