My dear Addison

I reckon fevers is improving some but she dont seem to gain any strength. I still have to lift her around as if she was a babe. I dont think she has any fever today. we gave Linnine last night and this morning to keep the fever off. She is so hard to wait on I cant fix any thing to eat that pleases her. I feel tired and worn out. lifting her has caused me to suffer some this week. She says tell you to send her, peaches. You did not tell me what to do with your mail. where cannot I get things, Beeners or Rawlins, you ought to appreciate Addis letter he has been all evening waiting it. please excuse this the letter folks are pulling at me so I cant write any more.

Affectionately
Pallin
