Dear Mr. Carter:

It has only been my pleasure to meet you on two occasions - once when I called on you in the days of the old National Air Transport, and a few years ago when we renewed this acquaintance at Bohemian Grove.

I happened to be in Mexico at the time there was a rumor current that your son was missing. I know from my very early meeting with you how attached you were to your boy and this is just a note to express to you that I am rejoicing with you in the good news that he is alive - although it is not pleasant to know that he is a German prisoner. It is less depressing, however, than what might have happened.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,

W. A. Patterson
