Dear Amon:

Thank you as always for your gracious kindnesses to me. The article has been commented on by many many Members of the House.

Next week, the House will be given an opportunity to vote on a measure to curb strikes. I am waiting to see how some people are going to vote who have been howling the loudest and criticizing the Administration for not stopping strikes. I am of the clear opinion that our Republican brethren, or at least a majority of the, will not even vote to adopt a rule for consideration of the bill. Watch and see. I really want something done myself.

With every good wish and thanking you always, I am

Sincerely your friend,

P. S. I am more than glad to know that you have been hearing from Amon, Jr. I certainly hope this war will soon be over and you and your dear boy can be reunited before too long.
