J. A. CLARK, Proprietor.

Chorp's Springs, Hood County, Texas, Sept. 11, 1876.

Dear Bro. Burnett:

Please send me the letter which I wrote you in response to your letter advising me of your projected Messenger enterprise. You can preserve a copy, if you wish; or I can return the original.

I am astonished to learn from your card to J. R. Wilmore that, in said letter, I gave my consent to have my name used on your list of associate editors. This astonishment is increased by calling to mind the few facts following:— 1. Bro. Hart was at Bonham just before you went to press with the first number; you asked him about the propriety of using my name; he told you that it would be better to wait until you had my consent. 2. As soon as Bro. Hart returned, and informed me of your intention with regard to using my name, I wrote at once
