Dear Miss Deakins:

Thanks immensely for your nice letter. From mine of May 7 you will have noticed that I saw the word that they met.

It made that day a very particular day for me.

My thought in going down was because I heard that he had been somewhat depressed.

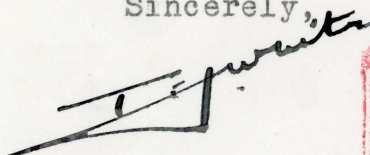

Now that he's got the boy and they both will be back, I'll save my money and my hours.

The pair of us will meet up somewhere, somehow.

I have three or four friends who are in the same situation but for nobody have I ever felt as deeply as for Amon. He is one of the kindest, most generous men alive. In good spirits, extremely bright, but I have seen him more moody and depressed than even an Irishman, like myself, can be.

Thanks greatly for the kindness of your exchanges during this time. My, the day those two get together in Fort Worth is going to be remembered in Fort Worth and from corner to corner in Texas for a long time to come!

Sincerely,

TJWhite
