A FATHER AND HIS SON ARE REUNITED IN GERMANY

Lieut. Amon G. Carter Jr. and the publisher of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Associated Press Radiophoto

AMON CARTER'S SON FREED, MEETS FATHER

WITH THE UNITED STATES (Tex.) Star-Telegram. The elder front after visiting atrocity scenes.

Lieutenant Carter's first words were, "Here I am, Dad." He promptly started figuring out how to get his buddies out of Lucken-walde prison, from which he was liberated by a special patrol sent to get him in time for the reunion.

Overcoming visible embarrass-ment before the party of Army personnel and press representatives, he kept saying not only to his father but to the general offi-cers present: "We've got to go back and get those other fellows. They're worried about the Russian-German fights going on all around them and we've got to get them." He was reassured that arrangements were being made to evacuate all Luckenwalde prisoners. His father came to Europe with a group of American editors and publishers to view German atrocities at first hand.

Lieutenant Carter said the worst EIGHTY-THIRD DIVISION, Ger- treatment he had received since his many, May 5 (A)-Lieut. Amon capture came at the hands of Ital-G. Carter Jr., a prisoner of the darmans since Faid Pass, Tunisia, war. After being seized at Faid more than two years ago, was re- Pass he was flown to Italy in a united here today with his father, German JU-52 and the formation publisher of The Fort Worth was among those attacked regularly by American fighter planes. Carter is making a tour of the from Italy he was taken to Ger-front after visiting atrocity scenes, many, then to Poland, back to Berlin, and finally to Luckenwalde.