Amon Carter, Son Reunited

Tour of Front Like Homecoming

AT THE 83RD DIVISION COMMAND POST, Germany, May 5. (AP)—Lt. Amon G. Carter, Jr., a prisoner of the Germans since Faïd Pass, Tunisia, more than two years ago, was reunited here today with his father, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Carter Sr. is making a tour of the front after visiting atrocity scenes.

After being seized at Faïd Pass he was flown to Italy in a German JU-52 and the formation was among those attacked regularly by American fighter planes.

"We really had to sweat that crossing out," he said, "but luckily our plane was not one of those shot down."

In Italy he was taken to the town of Capua, a short distance north of Naples. It was there that the Italians vented their spite on the American prisoners.

"They spat on us and threw rocks at us," Carter said. "It was the worst treatment we had from anybody."

From there he was taken to Germany and shipped to Poland, where he spent 18 months at the Szubin officers' prison camp, Oflag 64. When the Russians broke through in that area last Jan. 21, the Germans started walking 1,500 prisoners out. Carter said "lots of them had frozen feet or were sick and they were left behind."
